

LOCAL DOTS

—Weather forecast for South Carolina: Generally fair Tuesday and Wednesday.
 —The Fats and Leans will be at it again Friday afternoon at 4:30.
 —Rev. H. R. Murchison and Elder R. T. Beatty left today for McBee to attend the fall meeting of Bethel Presbytery.
 —The game last Wednesday between the big men and the little fellows was "just for fun," next Friday, it is said, "they will be after each other."
 —Mr. J. C. Carpenter has returned to Lancaster much improved in health after spending a couple of months in the mountains of North Carolina.
 —Roach Stewart, the fellow with the "big tonnage," will direct the attack for the "beef outfit" Friday afternoon.
 —Mr. Frank T. McIlwain, who has been watchmaker and engraver at the Robinson-Lathan jewelry store for some time past, is now in business with Mr. Barnette at the 5 and 10 cent store.
 —"Slats" Latimer, the fashionable for the uniform makers, will be in the line-up Friday. Going up!
 —Mr. E. W. Bailey of Heath Springs has returned to Lancaster, and has accepted a position at the E. E. Cloud store.
 —Porter Jackson is with the Fats again. Hurry up, Porter, and get through this game, the little boy is after us to return his uniform!
 —Rev. W. S. Patterson, pastor of the A. R. P. church, returned last week from Mount Carmel, where he performed the marriage ceremony of Miss Kathleen Morrah of that place and Mr. M. L. Marchant of Greenville.
 —We observed in last Wednesday's game that fully ninety per cent of the cheering and rooting was given to the stout boys. That brings us right back to the much mooted question—"Why is it that everybody loves a fat man?"
 —Married September 4, 1913, Mr. J. T. Smith of Lando, S. C., and Miss Julia A. Small of Primus, B. F. Adams, Notary Public, officiating.
 —Miss Annie L. Crowell, who has been the popular milliner for the Lancaster Mercantile Company the past two seasons, has returned to Lancaster and her many friends here are glad to welcome her back.
 —Mr. J. M. Hood of the Gregory-Hood Live Stock Company, is in St. Louis this week purchasing some fine Western horses.
 —The office of the Lancaster Cotton Oil Mill has been rebuilt. The mill is again ginning cotton and buying seed as usual.
 —The annual colored camp-meeting was held last week at Mount Carmel. Better order than usual seems to have prevailed as we have heard of no disturbances of the peace.

Alfalfa Association Orders Lime and Seed.
 Lancaster County Alfalfa Growers' Association met this morning and the purchasing committee consisting of T. Y. Williams and J. J. Blackmon, reported on prices obtained on ground rock lime and seed. The association instructed the committee to purchase 500 to 700 tons of lime from J. J. Blackmon, fertilizer dealer, and 575 pounds of alfalfa seed from T. W. Wood & Sons, Richmond, Va. They also instructed the secretary to order cultures for seeding 575 pounds of seed from the government.

Rummage Sale Friday and Saturday.
 The ladies of the Library Association will have a Rummage Sale Friday and Saturday of this week in the vacant store room of the Moore block, formerly occupied by the People's Supply Company. Those who have not already been asked to contribute as well as those who have are requested to gather up any articles of household furnishings or wearing apparel which they are willing to donate, as the wagon will call for them Thursday and Friday mornings. Remember the sale is for the library and many articles of no service to the donors will be easily disposed of in a good cause and will help you in cleaning your store room or attic.

King's Daughters Extend Invitation to King's Sons.
 This is to extend to those men of Lancaster who are interested in organized charity an opportunity of joining with us in helping our fellow men. For a number of years we women have worked alone at this branch of the King's business, which is meant to include men also. But we are persuaded that there are many gentlemen, both old and young, in Lancaster, who would be glad to assist in the work we have been doing. We want them to join us now, and they need not fear our working them too hard. We are just asking that they become paying members, and the dues are only ten cents per month. The King's Daughters and Sons may together do more work for the Master than the women have been able to accomplish without them. We ask therefore, that those gentlemen join the order as soon as possible, that our circle may plan a better and broader work for the coming year.
 LEND A HAND CIRCLE, KING'S DAUGHTERS.

A Word to Parents.
 In order that the pupils of the school may be directly under the authority of the teachers, the parents are kindly requested to schedule their children's departure from home so that they shall arrive at the school grounds not earlier than 8:30 a. m.
 CHALMERS E. WESSINGER, Superintendent.

MRS. CLARA C. EDWARDS DEAD.

This Good Woman Passes Away Suddenly at the Home of Mrs. James F. Hunter.

Our community was shocked this morning when on arising it was told that Mrs. Clara C. Edwards had died very suddenly during the night. Her home was at Rutherford College, N. C., but she had many friends at this place, where she was born and spent the greater part of her life. She had been on a visit to friends and relatives at Kershaw and this place for the past two months. Mrs. Edwards was up town yesterday afternoon attending to some business and went to the home of her friend, Mrs. James F. Hunter on Barr street, where she was to spend the night. She retired as usual, making no complaint of feeling uncomfortable, but about midnight called for Mrs. Hunter and asked her to send for a doctor as she was feeling very unwell. Dr. R. C. Brown was summoned, but she quietly passed away at 1:30 o'clock this morning.
 "Miss Clara," as she was familiarly known to her friends, had many fine qualities, both of mind and heart. Her devotion to and care of her aged father in his declining years was indeed beautiful. She was making preparations to leave for her home in North Carolina tomorrow. Mrs. Edwards was 63 years of age and was the youngest child of the late J. F. G. Mittag and his wife Anna McKenna Mittag. She had one brother, William McKenna Mittag, who died only a few months since, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Caston and Mrs. Cornelia Craven. Mrs. Craven still survives. Mrs. Edwards was first married to the lamented Maj. B. F. Clyburn, by whom she had one child, a son, who died in infancy. Many years after Major Clyburn's death she married Rev. T. H. Edwards, a prominent minister of the Methodist church at Rutherford College, who predeceased her. She joined the Methodist church many years ago. The funeral services will be held in the Methodist church this afternoon at 4 o'clock and immediately after the remains will be interred in the Presbyterian cemetery by the side of her first husband and infant child.

SCHOOLS OPENED MONDAY.

Lancaster Schools Started Off With Largest Enrollment on Record.

The Lancaster graded schools opened yesterday with the largest enrollment they have ever had. At the Central school there were 376 students and at the mill school 125, making a total enrollment of 501. There were no opening exercises in chapel as heretofore on the first day of school, but instead after a Scripture reading and prayer in each room, this time was given by the individual teachers to their own particular grades, to enrolling the students, giving them lists of the text books to be used and in assigning lessons for today. No time was lost on preliminaries but the schools were dismissed before noon in order that the pupils might purchase their books and school supplies. Immediately after the dismissal, the teachers met in the office of Chalmers E. Wessinger, the superintendent, where schedules were arranged and plans for school work were discussed.
 The opening session promises to be a very successful one. The larger enrollment is an evidence of the interest of our people in education, as well as an index to our increased population. The enrollment of 70 high school students is particularly gratifying.

Jim Heath Promoted.

Mr. James M. Heath, who was born and reared here, has numbers of friends in Lancaster and they will be pleased to hear of a recent promotion he has received. Mr. Heath is the eldest son of the late James M. Heath, who by close application to business is rapidly becoming an expert cotton man. He has been associated for several years with the cotton firm of his uncle, Mr. M. C. Heath of Columbia, with whom he made his home. The Columbia Record of last night had the following to say regarding the young man and his work:
 "James M. Heath, who has been connected with the firm of M. C. Heath Company, with offices here, has resigned to accept a position with the J. E. Lathan Company, a large cotton concern with head offices in Greensboro. Mr. Heath will be manager of the agency of this concern at Camden, his former home. Although his many friends regret to see him leave Columbia, they are delighted to know that he has been promoted to such a responsible position. Mr. Heath left Columbia September 1 to take this new position."

Major Riddle Will Attend G. A. R. Reunion.

Maj. James M. Riddle, who attended the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, expects to attend the Grand Army of the Republic reunion at Chattanooga, Tenn., beginning on September 20th. The Confederate soldiers have been invited to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Lookout Mountain, Chickamauga and Missionary Ridge with the veterans of the North. Major Riddle was wounded in the battle of Chickamauga. During the celebration the anniversary of his birth will occur, but we will not tell how old he will be, as he does not look it by twenty years.

Earthquake at Kingstown.

Kingstown, Island of St. Vincent, B. W. I., Sept. 8.—An earthquake was felt here yesterday. Subsequently by a heavy thunderstorm accompanied by a heavy fall of rain broke over the island. Telephone service was affected and minor damage is reported from plantation districts.
