HEATH SPRINGS

Special to The News.

Heath Springs, May 11.—The pany of the Baptist pastorium was well filled with choice viands on Wednesday afternoon, due to the kindness and generosity of members of the church, and other friends of the pastor and his family. As a result, the hearts of the occupants are filled with deepest gratitude for such a token of appreciation. SHERIFF HUNTER AFTER ILLICIT DISTILLERY IN NORTHERN PART OF COUNTY

Thursday afternoon, May 11, Sheriff John P. Hunter, accompanied by Chief of Police Joseph E. Orr, Magistrate John L. Caskey and Boswell Plyler, was called to a community ten miles north of the court house and in one mile of the North Carolina state line for the purpose of investigating an illicit distillery supposed to be operating at that particular place.

The locality is in a large body of woods on a small creek and from all evidence had been doing quite a large business, however, from all indications the still had recently been moved as there was still fire alive in the ashes. Ten barrels with some 30 or 40 gallons of beer were destroyed. The only road leading to this lonely spot was a path or two which led out to the home of a negro, Harry Mobley, on the old Jackson-Wallace place. The officers searched the home of the negro, but only found about one half pint of bad looking whiskey and in an old house in the yard located some five or six bushels of meal which seemed a rather large amount for one negro family to have at this particular time of the year. The negro bitterly denied having any connection whatsoever with the still. Sheriff Hunter has turned him over to United States Commissioner John T. Green for further investigation.

Sheriff D. P. Douglas of Chesterfield county was in the city Thursday. He stated to Sheriff Hunter that these illicit distilleries were being operated all along the line between North and South Carolina and that they would remove from one location to another quite frequently.

Sheriff Hunter stated to a representative of the News that this was the first illicit distillery which had been located in Lancaster county during the past fifty years.

NINE-TENTHS of the business of the world is done by checks. Why not do yours that way?

Your money is safer in a good bank than anywhere else. It is at your call at any time and you can pay it out simply by writing your check, a cleaner way than handling the actual bills and silver. Then, too, the check is a good receipt for payment, for, of course, the payee can't get the money—your money—from the bank, until he receipts for it.

At a sale of the effects of John Haines at Romney, W. Va., was a grandfather's clock that had been in the family four generations. On the inside of the clock is a statement that it was repaired last in 1817.

It has been running constantly and the only thing done to it in the last 21 years has been some oiling with coal oil.

All That Happened.
My tiny niece has a propensity for playing with the telephone, for which she has received many scoldings, but to little avail, writes a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. Her mother heard a crash the other day and called in: "Viola, what have you done?" The little miss replied: "I didn't hurt it this time, mother. Just the 'number, please,' came out."

To American Mothers:

This picture is dedicated with respect, reverence and admiration, and with the earnest prayer that their eyes may be opened to the peril which menaces and will continue to menace them, their children and their loved ones, until the present state of "Unpreparedness" has been remedied. "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," and in those mother hands lie the power to demand and receive adequate protection against war, just as they demand and receive proper police protection against crime. Let us disarm—let us become helpless, unprotected, emasculated, and there shall be Peace, but not Peace with Honor. Crushed, bleeding and trampled upon, America may find herself on her knees begging for "Peace at any price."—J. Stuart Blackton, Harbourwood, Oyster Bay, L. I.
