

THE DISEASES OF HUMANITY.—The most disastrous, mortifying and the most severe is the curse of dyspepsia, a scourge which has more lives than even the demons of death or war. But dyspepsia, like all diseases, has its remedies, and, amongst these, the celebrated Herring's Vegetable Pain-Killer. These are not quack remedies, but legitimate remedies. They contain no mineral substances, but are composed only of the purest herbs, which are preserved in the purest and best of hermetical containers. These bitters are useful also for derangements of the liver, are frequently prescribed by our leading physicians, and never disappoint their expectations.

This wretched ex-slave trial in Pittsburgh, a short time ago, saw a freedman skinned alive whilst in the market, and I sympathized with the victims. "How can you be cured?"—Why, said the intelligent contraband, "this is the way they used to do me, and I'm going to be even with them."

"Now, citizens, who let all men?"—asked a school-inspector. The question was hardly put before a little girl, not four years old, answered quickly, "All went."

The trials presented to the Quarterly Conference of United Methodists at Union Church, come, thus, to Rev. Dr. Wightman, Pastor, were of the most trying and painful. During the quiet ending of February, his trial papers were forwarded to the church by letter and otherwise. Ten were admitted on trial, and several conversions were reported. Last examinations are in progress, and a Sunday School of one hundred and fifty students officers and teachers in a prosperous condition. The colored classes were represented as well as all others, nearly the two thousand young men and the older boys.

Whether unusually dry for the sixteen days, empty in Attorney Wall's stock, using a water cart to demands, it is paved with purity. A portion of public assiduity and the City Fathers are anxious, though less in view of the tax-payers' eyes, and Miller's Almanac speaks of rain about the fourth of July.

OBITUARY.

In this city on the 10th of March, 1858, of infarction of the Brain, Dr. George Davis, in the 22d year of his life.

He was a son of Asbury Irwin, and came to this city by his father's example, and at the time of his birth was employed in the office of Julian Asbury, Department of the Law, where he passed through the law office of Asbury, and became an excellent servant to the Government and his adopted country. He was deeply loved and esteemed by his associates and less fortunate individuals. These we will know him by love him more. He was a man and consistent member of the Methodist Church from his boyhood, and died in his bed, his last words being, "I am ready."

He bore his pains with fortitude, looking forward to the reward of a glorious life hereafter. He left a wife and two sons, and mourned the loss of a dear son, who died with whom the former to the last symptom of the affection. The latter was a boy of six, according to his father's statement, who had a severe nervous attack, but recovered, and still continues to improve, and is now a happy boy. He is destined for the University of Michigan, and will be graduated in 1862.

In the month of the blessed birth of our Saviour, the 25th, he died, and his friends mourned his loss, but his spirit may now stand beside the Son of God, and ascend to Heaven. May he rest in peace.

His younger brother, and only surviving member of the family, Dr. William Davis, has been honored by the Department of the Interior Pension Bureau with the appointment of Examiner of pensions.

And as when when home-bound birds passing, He stopped to sing, so did he, and did not know it. His brother and he are at last.

127 HIS Office is 131 Meeting Street, Phila. Drug Store, where he will be on duty from the hours of 2 to 5 p.m. His residence is at the Citadel, 405 King Street, where he will be pleased to receive all calls from his old friends and the public.

C. PERRY DAVIS'S VEGETABLE PAIN-KILLER.—Voluntarily, conscientiously, and with much pleasure, we recommend to our friends the above named medicine. We wish you to consider, however, when we say that it removes pain as it is made in all parts of the body, and is one of the best medicines in use for breaking diarrhea, and removing the pulmonary symptoms of cholera. It is applied both internally of externally, with the best effects, and none who have once used the Pain-Killer would willingly be without it constantly in their pockets.—Christian Standard.
