papers. We learn from a passenger, that intelligence was received at Jacksonville just before she sailed, of the arrival of an express at St. Augustine from Gen. JESUP, who stated that Oseola and Philip had expessed a determination not to surrender. We also learn from Capt. WILLEY, that the steamer Florida had been dispatched from Black Creek to St. Augustine, for the purpose of transporting troops to Musquito, for the establishment of a post at the latter place.

PENSACOLA, MARCH 18 .- The military force fitted out for the protection of the frontier settlers of this County, as mentioned in our last, has returned. The most of the persons engaged in the expedition, got back on Wednesday last. They suffered much from wet weather and the difficulty of getting through the wilderness they traversed, consisting of swamps and marshes which had been deemed entirely impassables. The party consisted of thirty six mounted men. They proceeded at once to the crossing place at Macdade's on Yellow River-went thence to the ferry on Shoal River and scoured the country to the Depot, at the head of East Bay. They found no Indians, but the third day out they came upon the camp of some strange Indians, who seemed to have left it very recently, and to have gone castward. The trail was pursued for some distance in that direction. The force sent from the Constellation, under Lieut. Ball, has also returned. It is evident that the fugitive Creeks, a number of whom have descended the Choctahatchie, are still in the neighborhood of that River. In time they will probably make their way in this direction, and the people here should be on their guard. Intelligence has been received from Mallet's landing, on La Fayette Bayou, that the Indians are roaming, in considerable numbers, in that neighborhood.

Extract of a letter from an Officer of the United States Army, dated

"JACKSONVILLE, March 14. "We are in great hopes that the war is over, the chiefs, with the exception of Oce-OLA, the renowned, have come in and agreed to be at Tampa Bay, with all their warriors and families, by the 10th of April, and they have promised that Occola shall be brought in by that time.

"They have sent out runners in every direction to collect their scattered forces, and my principal business out is to co-operate with these new allies, and collect the stragglers."

SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1837.

We owe to the politeness of the Publisher a copy of a book lately published in Charleston-"The Natural History of the Negro race : by J. H. Guenebault." The work, from such slight glance as we have had leisure to give it, appears to contain much information, and some curious research. It may be had at Cunninghams.

The Bank of Hamburg is about to increase its capital, according to the provisions of its charter. For the mode and terms, see advertisement.

The Secretary of the Treasury .- Mr. Woodbury is remarkable for making wilder calculations than perhaps were ever produced by any financial minister who had any data from which to reason. His estimates are sometimes twenty or thirty millions wide of the cark. When he happens to make so small a mistake as only ten millions, it is regarded as a decided hit, and his friends applaud his accu-

It appears that the Secretary succeeds no better in calculating for himself than for the public. It is said that he sent in an account to Mr. Wise's committee for seven days attendance, at two dollars per day, $14,--when the had attended only five days. This was a small mistake of four dollars in fourteen: and accordingly forty per cent was docked from the account of the Secretary of the Treasury, and the balance paid to him.

The Charleston Courier accompanies the publication of the letter of Santa Anna, (which appears in our paper to-day) with an intimation of ill faith on the part of Santa Anna.

We do not think the letter obnoxious to the charge of violation of faith. We have never understood that Santa Anna entered into any engagements, either with our government or that of Texas, further than a very free expres sion of his opinion to the authorities of both, that the conquest of Texas by Mexico was hope--less, and further attempts to accomplish it impolitic. We have heard that both in Texas and at Washington he continually avowed that in his then position he had no power to bind his country, and would not make the at-

It appears that he is about to put forth an exposition of the campaign in which he was overthrown; and we infer, from the following passage, that he will prospose to his government the establishment of the Mexican line at the Rio del Norte. "In the interval, I shall devote my time in compiling and publishing a document detailing clearly the circumstances of the unfortunate campaign to Texas. This step is necessary to the public man, desirous of preserving his reputation; and he should be ever ready to give the people an account of his conduct, and place it in a veritable point of view; more especially, should he do this, when passion is enlisted against him. I shall also lay before Congress what I conceive the most efficacious means to terminate the war, leaving them to adopt such measures as they may judge necessary.

The present authorities of Mexico no doubt contemplate a new invasion of Texas, and for this purpose have a considerable force at Me tamoras. To meet it, the Texans have a regular army of about 2000 men, and 6000 of the most efficient Militia in the world-besides the habit of conquering. The result of a new invasion, therefore, is not problematical. And as the Mexicans have proved by their conduct heretofore that they cannot be treated according the to rules of civilized warfare, it will be a question of importance for the Texan government, whether, when they have captured an. other army, the soldiers shall not be colonized within their own territories.

The following diplomatic information is from the Richmond Enquirer . "We understand that the Texan Ministers would have eeen duly accredited and received by Mr. Van Buren, but for some defect in their credentials. was their intention to leave Washington on Wednesday. Mr. Wharton will return to Texas, and Cen. Hunt will visit Vicksburg, whese he expects to receive his proper credentials, and will then return to the seat of Government. The best spirit prevails between the United States and Texas.

Gen. Jackson and the U. S. Bank. It is | MR. Editor,said that Gen. Jackson on leaving Washington for the Hermitage, took with him eighty thousand dollars, saved out of the Presidential salary, in notes of the U.S. Bank. On the other hand, the Globe declares that he has saved nothing out of his salary, that he lived very expensively, and barely had money enough to pay his expenses home. The statement of the Globe is not to be credited, for it is certain that Gen. Jackson has lived much cheaper than any other President. At his last and largest entertainment the chief dish was a huge Yankee cheese, and he got Generals Scott and Gaines. The Court of enquiry has made a report, which has been approved by the President. In regard to their military conduct, both officers are acquitted of blame. As to other matters, the following censure is passed upon both.

"The publication of Major General Gaines official report of July 4th, 1836, with the sanction of that officer, is regarded as prejudicial to the public service and injurious to the discipline of the army. The expressions made use of by this officer in his summary evidence touching the operations of the Seminole campaign, are pronunced "assertions, without facts or circumstances to sustain them, and unbecoming his, Major General Gaines's, high rank and station; remarks and assertions which the Court condemns in the most decided terms of reprehen-

"The Court, in continuation, feels itself compelled to notice the censure in the letters of Major General Scott (spread upon the record of these proceedings) cast upon Major General Gaines in reference to his operations in Florida, and in a tone of language that could not be otherwise than offensive to the latter General: and in terms, the Court is of opinion, not called for under the circumstances of the case, and ought not to have been indulged in:'

MR. VAN BUREN'S ADMINSTRATION. Our correspondent, "A Nullifier," and the Charleston Mercury, are somewhat at issue. The difference between them, however, is rather in terms than in substance. It is time that we should give our own views of the present Administration.

The new President avows his adherence to the old policy. His friends say that his is not a new administration, but a continuance of the old one. He has been elected by the Jackson Party, as a Jackson man; and is amply pledged, in every variety of form in which pledges can be given, from the commencement of the canvass to the inaugural speech, to persist in the policy and carry out the principles of the Jackson administration. He comes into power pledged to the Proclamation, and its doctrines-to the removal of the Deposites, and its consequences-to the Expunging-to the Treasury order-to the Spoils system .-But for his approval of all the measures of Gen. Jackson, he could not have been President; and he and his friends are bound, by the most solemn promises, to carry them out.

It is plain, therefore, that a conscientious and honorable opposition to Gen. Jackson, is of necessity an opposition to Mr. Van Buren. It can be otherwise, only on one of two grounds; 1st, that his promises are not entitled to faith -and it is an awkward proposition that a President is to be sustained because he is not to be believed-or 2d, that what deserved reprobation in Gen. Jackson is praiseworthy or of doubtful import in Mr. Van Buren-a sentiment obviously dishonest and factious.

South Carolina, therefore, is by the new President himself placed in opposition to him. He comes into office in avowed hostility to her, her principles, and her wishes. He and South Carolina cannot be found together, unless one or the other change position. Mr. Van Buren declares in his inaugural that he has not changed by coming into office. Does his coming into office change us? We are not left, therefore, to consider of our attitude. It is prescribed to us by political necessity. As the case stands, it is the same as if Gen. Jackson had been elected for a third term. If the personal character of Mr. Van Buren,- or his political necessities-or his wisdom and patriotism-shall hereafter modify or change his policy, making it other or less exceptionable than that of his predecessor-it will then be time to consider of such change or modification, in the spirit which characterizes patriotism as distinguished from faction-in the spirit of caution, but of candor. South Carolina does not hold her principles so light, as to surrender them because the President may adopt them; nor can she be lured from them by every hollow device that may be planned to win her. She will not throw down her walls for every Trojan horse that may be presented; while at the same time it would not consist either with her honor or her safety, to reject with petulance any overture which may be made in good faith.

The professions, in the maugural, of States Rights principles and adherence to the Constitution, we regard as utterly illusory and vain-words of course-chaff. On the other hand, the distinct avowal, in that speech, of a course of action upon the abolition question. we feel bound in candor to say has meaning, and an important meaning. While we take the President's declaration, on this subject, in good part, it might seem ungracious to canvass his motive, and we therefore forbear to do so For whatever the motive may be, the act is a laudable one, and gains a point for us in the fearful gaine we are engaged in with the abo-

New York, March 24. The arrival of the Utica brings good news, which makes many a face that was sad this morning look cheerful at noon. The advance of a half penny on Cotton, with some account of sales in Manchester, received by private letters, together with a more favorable appearance of the British money market, was good news indeed, when for days past, every account from every quarter seemed to be teeming with bad tidings. All this will not be without its favorable effect upon our Banks, and our Merchants, who were yesterday so fearful that when the next packets went out large quantities of specie must go in thern. The Utica brings 700,000 Francs in specie, another instalment upon the French Indemnity.

Jones' Patent Cotton Gin.

THIS Gin can be made double, or single. If double the quantity of cotton over the Single Cylinder Gin, no other kind having been in use previous to this patent; and whether single or double, they are found to improve the quality of the cotton, by more perfectly cleaning it. They can be made to contain from 20 to 160 saws in a stand, and whether

small or large, one hand will be sufficient to attend them. The Gins have mechanical feeders and hoppers attached to them, which free the cotton from leaves, trash, dirt, &c. before it can reach the saws,

and by the thorough hackling operation it receives

from the feeders, which make two revolutions to one of the saws, it is almost in a half gined state, before it descends to the saws. By a very simple arrange ment of a screw to each set of grates, on which the hoppers rest, and through which the teeth of the feeders pass, they can be made to feed slow or fast to suit the condition of the cotton at the time

When made double, the saws are placed on two sets of cylinders and turn upon each other in opposite directions, and are cleansed by two sets of brushes

that have 4 revolutions to one of the saws The two cylinders can be detached so as to enable the planter to run one or both at pleasure, although embraced with feeders, &c. in one stand. The whole is put in operation with a drum and band, as in the ordinary

Gin, and may be propelled by iron running gear.

The force required to work it, is about the same as

Single Gins. For a Single Gin of 90 saws or more, with one set of feeders. bands, &c. at $6 per saw, For do. of 60 saws, with feeders, &c. at $6,50 per saw, For do. of 40 saws, with feeders, &c. at $6,75 per saw, For do of 20 saws, with feeders, &c. at $7,50 per saw, - - -Extra teeth where desired, for feeders, supplied at 40 cents each; the number of teeth being about equal to the number of saws. One set of feeders, it is considered however, will wear out two or three sets of saws. Extra saws supplied at 80 cents each. The gins ordered will be delivered to the agents of planters in any of the sea port towns of the cotton planting States, at the above prices, the agents paying the freight on the same from New York, and becoming responsi! le for the amount of the Gin. It is desirable, when planters give orders for gine, they should accompany them with their views un regard to the arrangement of saws, breasts, brushes, &c. It is found they differ in opinion. Some desire saws of larger diameter than others. The most common size is 9 or 10 inches; but some wish them 12 inches. Some wish 5 or 6 rows of brushes on an axle, while others do not want more than 4 at most Some wish saws with S or 9 tee:h to the inch, while others want 10 or 11. With so much discrepancy, we prefer they should, at the time of giving orders, furnish a statement of their wishes, and the manufacturers can fulfil them in every particular. Where it is left to our discretion, we shall make them on the most modern and approved plan. An order can be executed, from the time it is received, in the space of eight or nine weeks, and the Gin in that time placed in the hands of the factor. To be in time for the next crop, all orders ought to be in the hands of the manufacturers by the first or middle of May; except for plantations where they are late in commencing to pick or gin cotton. N. B. The Patent Right, for any one of the cotton growing S ates, will be sold on reasonable terms. April 1
