AN ACT to Incorporate the Carolina bers for the House, instead of 283, as under the new bill. We cannot believe this to be possible. It is a robbery of the State of South Carolina, now of the former precedents of 1832 and 1852.

It is ridiculous, too, this voting for President will be cast on the present basis of 243 members for the House, instead of 283, as under the new bill. We cannot believe this to be possible. It is a robbery of the State of South Carolina, now of the former precedents of 1832 and 1852.

It is ridiculous, too, this voting for President will be cast on the present basis of 243 members for the House, instead of 283, as under the new bill. We cannot believe this to be possible. It is a robbery of the West and South. It is in the teeth of the News and Simon Farrow, and sitting in General Assembly, and by the authority of the same:
