The Crops.

During the last two weeks our farmers have worked with great energy, and as a rule the crops are now in good condition. The warm nights of last week has been quite favorable nights of last week has been quite favorable to the colton crop. The sensons have been favorable to the growth of grass, and those of our farmers who have provided themselves with pasture fences, will find their stock to be unusually profitable this year. The fact is that the con-verts to the profitableness of pastures increas-es with each succeeding year, and it is fair to presume that it will not be many years until a large part of the lands of many farms will be surrendered to the pasturage of stock. Experience has convinced many farmers that low lands are more profitable as pastures than for cultivation.

The Conclussion of the Whole Matter.

We give much of our space this week to the We give much of our space this week to the discutsion of matters pertaining to the report of the grand jury. All sides have now had a hearing. It seems to us that enough has been said. After it was started we have not heretofore known exactly where to draw the line, but we think it we can draw it now, and do so without expressing any feeling in the matter. Unless the officers choose to write more let b stop matter. Unless more, let it stop.

Primary Election for Solicitor.

The Judicial Convention at Seneca last week adopted the primary plan of choosing candidates for this Judicial District. The election is to take place in August. The majority plan is to govern, and if no candimajority plan is to govern, and if no candi-date receives a majority of all the votes then the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes will run the race a second time. The primary plan of elections seems to be gaining grounds, and we believe wherever adopted, has given satisfaction to the people.

Badly Hurt.

Last Saturday as Master William Latimer son of J. H. Latimer who lives some eight miles in the country, was playing, he fell out of one of the windows of the house, striking the rocks some eight feet below, cutting his head and exposing a considerable portion of ihe skull. Dr. Marshall was immediately sent for, and he sewed up the flesh, and ren-dered all necessary surgical aid. It is hoped that the wounds may not result in any serious intury.

F. James. Mr. Boggs moved that the temporary organ-ization be made permanent, which was un-animously carried. The chairman announced that the convention was ready for business. Mr. Shelor moved that the nomination be made by primary election under the majority plan. After considerable discussion this was adopted by a vote of 31 to 13. The primary was defeated at first, Abbeville going argunst it, with Anderson, which fought primary vigorously and made it distasteful to Abbeville by inserting the plurality rule. A proposition to begin balloting immediately, however, led Abbeville to reconsider. A motion was then made that the chairman of each delegation appoint a man to act on a committee to determine time and rules for governing said primary, which was carried, and the following committee was appointed ; E. B. Gary, E. B. Murray, Geo. Westmoreland, J. E. Boggs and J. W. Shelor. The convention then took a recess untill the committee could report.
