

Perfect Through Suffering.
God never would send you the darkness,
If he felt you could bear the light;
But you would not eling to guiding hands
If the way were always bright;
And you would not care to walk by faith
Could you always walk by sight.
'Tis true he has many an anguish
For our sorrowful hearts to bear,
And many a cruel thorn-crown
For your tired head to wear.
He knows how few would reach heaven at all,
If pain did not guide them there.
So he sends you the blinding darkness
And the furnace of seven-fold heat;
'Tis the only way, believe me,
To keep you close to his feet.
For 'tis always so easy to wander
When our lives are glad and sweet.
Then nestle your hand in your Father's
And sing, if you can, as you go;
Your song may cheer one behind you
Whose courage is sinking low.
And well, if your lips do quiver,
God will love you better so.

A Substitute for Weather in Conversation.

A substitute for weather in conversation has been suggested, and had it been adopted in time, we should not have found ourselves in our present lamentable situation. It is proposed that arithmetical observations be submitted for those of a meteorological nature. For instance, people of ordinary culture might thus converse:
"Good morning, miss. Nine and eight make seventeen."
"Yes, sir, they do; and three from seventeen leave fourteen."
"And one more will make fifteen."
"Yes, sir; but seven into fifty-three is very different."
Or, if the parties have attained a higher grade in mathematical knowledge we might have something like this:
"How do you do, madam? Six and seven-eighths added to four and a quarter make eleven and one eighth."
"Yes, indeed, Mr. Jones; and three and a ninth will not go evenly into fifteen."
"Certainly not; and eleven-twelfths of six will come within two and a half of being eight."

Now, would not such conversations be improvements in every way upon the succession of weather platitudes which have so long been in vogue?

Terra Cotta Wells
—AT—
Reduced PRICES.

I AM USING A 12 inch and 15 inch AUGER of superior make. Doesn't let dry dirt or quicksand run out like some old time inferior Augers, thus insuring a good head of water in quicksand in much less time.
My plan of putting in pipe in the only one that keeps quicksand from filling up the well, but if one-third, or even one of my wells should even be a failure my guarantee would amount to something, for I would go and remedy same, or return the money.
The 12 inch Auger has given splendid satisfaction, especially for rock, tenant houses and small families at much less cost.
If you want a good head of water and a certain well, address
