

gradual income tax that would make the accumulation of large sums impossible. England has had an income tax for forty years, and we have no reason why the United States should not have such a law.

I am in favor of the lowest tariff, though I am not a free trader. The tariff tax has a better origin, yet I favor the necessary tariff.

I believe the Southern people have been robbed of millions by speculations in futures.

I believe in a law authorizing the levy of a tax on corporations, whether in the hands of a receiver or not.

It is not at all strange that Cleveland should be opposed to the free coinage of silver, and although he may be as honest as I am, yet his surroundings are such that he cannot act with the people.

I favor a constitutional convention in South Carolina. I am willing to risk the people in the State.

In 1891 I introduced a bill in the Legislature for high license and those who were representing the liquor interests fought it as strenuously as they did the dispensary law. It is the enforcement of a prohibitory law is impossible. Under the dispensary law we are educated in a life toward temperance. The temptation to drink is now almost wholly removed. In a recent trip to the North-west I find that the prohibitionists there are willing to accept the dispensary law. No man who has the moral welfare of his country or state at heart would encourage the violation of the law.

The people have been informed as to the printing bill. It has gone out for their consideration. The bill is a good one, and it is true that such a bill was put in after the bill had become a law. But whether received early or late, it is a fair one, and the State will save money by the law.

Burglary at McCormick.
Last Thursday night the store of Otway H. McCormick, at McCormick, was broken open. A lot of shoes, hats, clothing and dry goods were stolen. Mr. McCormick, John H. McCormick, and one John W. were arrested. Mr. McCormick was taken with a suit of the clothing on his person. The other two were taken with a suit of the clothing on their person. They were taken to the jail Monday. They and packed the goods and were peddling them. When pursued, we made, they dropped their stolen goods and ran.

Sabbath School 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday night, Sabbath School 10:30 a. m. Superintendent, C. C. Sledge.
All persons are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. E. S. Galloway, the energetic and wide-awake business manager of the Abbeville Press and Banner, has been elected to the position of pastor of the A. R. P. Church, on Monday to hear some first class preaching. When you want a good thing, go to headquarters for it.

NEW STORE IN ABBEVILLE.

J. Haynes McMillan and G. F. Tolley, Furniture Dealers and Undertakers.
The new firm will open a furniture and undertaking establishment in Abbeville on April 1st, occupying the stand next door to Mr. C. C. Martin, second door from the Court House.
Mr. McMillan is well known to our people, and he will command a liberal trade. He is now located in the new building at the corner of the Court House and the first time, and a host of friends will wish him great success. His knowledge of trade, his courteous manner, and his integrity will commend him to the business world. His partner, Mr. Tolley, of Anderson, is one of the best known business men in the State.
Just think of it, you can buy a set (4) high back dinner chairs at only $4, at Kerr's. 8 feet extension tables, solid oak, only $5, at Kerr's.
Solid oak side boards, only $10 at Kerr's.
Try our new Memphis Springs at $5 and be convinced it is the best spring in the market. J. D. Kerr.
The attention of the gentlemen are called to the line of hats and suits at Kerr's. They are made by the celebrated Williams, Howland & Co. and other well known manufacturers.
The young gentlemen will find at Cross & Martin the newest designs and styles in neckwear. They have just received a beautiful line of neckties.
If the ladies want a beautiful line of button and low quarter shoes they should pay the store of Cross & Martin a visit. They have just opened a new line of shoes, and if you are looking for a nice trunk or valise, you will find them at Cross & Martin's.
Ladies blouse set of bottom in the latest. R. C. Bernau will be delighted to make you acquainted with them.
Sword scarf, lace and jersey pins are still in vogue, nice selection at R. C. Bernau.
If you want to buy sterling silver link cuff buttons, and of course, you want to be in style, buy them at wholesale prices at R. C. Bernau.
If you wish your watch "inkered on" carry it anywhere, but if you want it repaired, so it will keep time, R. C. Bernau gets it.
The silverware trust is exploded. R. C. Bernau says on the line of silverware, for he has bought a big lot of sterling silver, very low down, at prices that will astonish you. Now is the time to buy. It is bound to go up again.
Principle is no fake, but a regular 5 cents grand and delightful smoke. Three dollars a hundred, 8 for 25 cents. Harrison & Game, Druggists.
Heavy team harness or any grade at C. P. Hammond & Co.
A good set of home made harness can be bought at C. P. Hammond & Co. for $5.
Call at C. P. Hammond & Co. and get the latest styles for Gent's fine footwear.
Have you seen the genuine diamond rings at Reese & DuPre's for $1.00 each?
Reese & DuPre sell only for cash and can afford to sell you jewelry cheaper than anybody.
Reese & DuPre have the largest and prettiest line of jewelry ever brought to this market.
Just think of a diamond ring being sold for $1.50 at Reese & DuPre's.
Have you seen the pretty scarf pins at Reese & DuPre's?
Stores from $10 up. All warranted. See them.

If your watch is always stopping, your wife's and daughter's jewelry always breaking, or you want to remember that R. C. Bernau has the best equipped repair establishment for these goods. Call at Speed's Drug store, and we guarantee you get both.
If you have much writing to do, you will find a good lot of pens at R. C. Bernau. He never wears out at the point, the temper remains the same for a long period, it does not rust, etc., in one word, it is the best pen. Our fountain pens are appreciated by those that are using them. Prices from $1.50 to $2.50. R. C. Bernau sells them.

We are certainly head-quarters for paints, glass, oil, etc., we handle the best and the people here know it. Call, get what you want at alliance prices. Yours always to please, P. B. Speed.
Principle smokes free, a fine flavor, makes white ash, wind up with a complete set of 25 cents. Harrison & Game, Druggists.

COLORED PRESBYTERIANS.

Their Three Story Brick Building is Nearly Finished.

A little more than one year ago the Rev. E. W. Williams, who for nearly thirteen years has labored for the elevation of the colored people at and about Abbeville, wrote an editorial concerning the management and control of the colored people under the Board of Missions for freedmen. The wisdom and expediency of Rev. Williams' editorial were questioned by the Board of Missions for freedmen and that body at once sought from Rev. Williams a retraction of the offensive words. Failing to get a retraction from him even on condition that he be allowed to hold his position as President of Ferguson Academy, the Board then offered all possible inducements to Rev. Williams to leave Abbeville and take work elsewhere, pledging its cordial support.

Rev. Williams felt compelled to refuse all offers, and remained in the work at Abbeville. Rev. Williams by his consistent and unflinching efforts for the elevation of his race in morals, religion and education has in a large measure won the respect, confidence and sympathy of the community in which he lives, while many strong friends at the North stand by and support him in his present work.

He has a large and flourishing school for which a handsome and commodious brick building has been erected during the winter. A majority of the members of the original congregation, which was divided by the action of the Board of Missions for freedmen still follow him, while fact seems to foreshadow the organization of a new congregation and the erection of another house of worship in the near future.

The new college building is nearly finished and will probably be occupied before the close of the present month.

The new building has accommodations for about fifty boarding scholars and is provided with a large dining room, kitchen and a store room.

And thus it will be seen that Rev. Williams has been instrumental in the erection of one good church and two splendid three-story college buildings. The prospect is that he and his congregation will take steps to put up a new church at some time not far in the future.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Notes of Things and People about the City.
Mr. Willie Leelle and his bride, nee Miss Verneer, of Oconee, are spending sometime with his mother.
Miss Janet Bush has returned to her home in Elberton, after a pleasant visit to Mrs. D. Harrison.
Miss Sophie Haskell is with her brother's family in Monterey.
Miss Sadie and Miss Sadie Colborn have returned home from Sumter.
Mrs. Brownridge, of Anderson, is with her sister, Mrs. C. N. R. R. in the city.
Miss Ellen Parker is at home after a two weeks stay in Atlanta.
Mr. Willis, foreman of the rail road shops, has gone to Monroe to move his family here. They will occupy the cottage of Mr. Joel W. Smith.
The G. C. & N. R. R. will soon build a hotel near the shops. Passengers on the midday train will dine there.
Mr. A. E. Woodall spent Sunday in town.
Mr. T. P. Cottrah, of Greenville, is on a visit home.
Mr. George Smith, of Calhoun Falls, is in the city, looking for a home to live in.
Miss Leona Bialek, of Due West, spent Sunday in town with relatives.
Master Christie Bennet received a painful cut on his forehead while playing on the railroad. Mr. Marshall, an engineer on the G. C. & N. R. road is quick to seek.
A large crowd of strangers visited the rail road shops Monday.
Master William Remphill, in attempting to explain the simplicity of a pistol, fired it off, the ball striking a finger, and his hand is now in a sling.

PUBLIC MEETING.

The Factory Must be Built, and you Must Do Your Part.
PURSUANT to resolution of former meeting a public meeting of citizens of Abbeville and vicinity will be held in the Court House on Thursday afternoon next, 8th instant, at 4 o'clock to take further steps in making the Cotton Factory. A full meeting is desired as important action will be taken.
J. T. Robertson, Chairman.

TOWN TAXES.

The Time for Paying Taxes Extended to March 15th.
The time for paying town taxes is extended to the 15th of March. After that date the penalty will be attached.
R. M. Hill, Intendant.
JAMES C. CHALMERS, Secretary and Treas.

THE NEGRO AND THE MULE.

There is a saying, that a mule never kicks a darkey. If this be the case, Mr. Bernau begins to wonder why he is not paid as he was raised in a country where there are neither negroes or mules, and there, therefore, no occasion for kicking him. However, when it comes to repairing watches he claims, he can do as well as any man. Having served a term of his apprenticeship in a factory, of small and large clocks, he has learned to make any piece, and even make tools for special orders. He has the finest equipment for this work in this part of the country. His self moving wheel center is a beauty. If you bring him your watch for repair, he is sure to give you a job that is unequalled in workmanship and that is going to last.

Laughter.

In his "Problems of Health," Dr. Greene says that there is not the remotest corner or little inlet of the minute blood vessels of the human body that does not feel some wavelet from the convulsions occasioned by good, hearty laughter. The life-principle of the central man is shaken to the innermost depths, sending new tides of life and strength to the surface, thus materially tending to insure good health to the persons who indulge therein. The blood moves more rapidly and conveys a different impression to the organs of the body, as it visits them on the particular mystic journey when the man is laughing from what it does at other times. For this reason every good hearty laugh in which a person indulges tends to lengthen his life, convey, as it does, a new and distinct stimulus to the vital forces.

Which Woman.
"A woman's place is at home." So says the publican. Does he say it to his barnyard?
Does he say it to the poor wife out working for money which her husband spends at the bar?
Does he say it to the poor, lost girl spending the price of her shame in another glass of his fiery liquor?
No! He only says it to the women who, constrained by love for home, come forth to save and protect the home.

—The poor want not only advice but example. Not so much a preaching as a personal sympathy.

He that can feast upon another's misery, vexation, or disappointment, has a most unhealthy soul.

Whatever good thing God has for us in the present, He has better things for us in the future. His best things are yet to come.

The highest points in Christian experience are more often gained by giving than by prayer. "As ye have freely received freely give."

A bag filled with salt and heated is a great comfort to any one suffering from neuralgia.

Making Trouble and Work for Others.

Little selfishnesses are the dead flies that Solomon says spoil the apothecary's ointment. They are like harsh notes which make discord in the sweet melody. Usually these little selfishnesses come from thoughtlessness.

When Frank comes in from school he flings his books on the sitting-room table, because he is in such a hurry to get his lunch before going out with the boys.

May plays tennis all the afternoon, and stays on the grounds so late that she only reaches the porch steps when the tea bell rings. She leaves her racket on the porch chair for some one else to put away while she hurries in to the table.

Dick's muddy overshoes are left at the door, Florence's best gloves are tossed on the mantle and forgotten, and even grave and dignified father sometimes drops his paper on the floor when he leaves the breakfast table.

They all go their separate ways, forgetting, meanwhile, that some one else, tired as they are, and what a pity it is almost always the mother's—must trudge around after them and put these things in place.

These careless folks do not realize how much trouble and work they give to other people. It would seem that their maximum in life is to "take care of number one." Certainly many of their actions could not be sustained by the Golden Rule.

Household Hints.

Lemon juice and salt will remove ordinary iron rust.
Don't shut the lids of pots, boilers and saucepans when putting them away. It retains the odors of cookery.
Sponging the face and hands with a weak extract of pennyroyal will keep away mosquitoes, and will allay the pain from their bites.
Spots and dirt may be removed from paintings and chrome by using a cup of warm water, to which a few drops of ammonia have been added.
To remove tar, rub in grease until the spot seems pretty well loosened, and then wash in plenty of hot water and soap.
Oven doors should not be slammed nor any jarring noise made when cake and bread are cooking. Heaviness is almost invariably the result of jarring.
Never put your stovepipes away without rubbing them thoroughly with linseed oil or something similar. This will prevent an accumulation of rust.
Tea is much better when brewed in a pot that has been heated thoroughly than in a cold one. A cup of boiling water used to rinse the pot is the best method of heating it.
Once removed, the wicks of lamps should be moved, and the burners unscrewed and boiled in a little water in which common soda has been dissolved. This will remove the coating of grease and dust which forms on the brass.
Flour absorbs odors easily, and should therefore not be kept where onions, fish, cheese or other odorous substances are. It should be kept in a cool, dry, airy room, the temperature of which is not below zero or above seventy degrees.

Overseers, TAKE NOTICE.

Salt mixed with stable manure will hasten decomposition and render it more quickly available for the use of crops.
The greatest perpetual battle of life is the warfare waged against self.
If God gives us a blessing it is not for ourselves alone. He wants us to be a blessing as well as to have one.
Beware of despising about yourself; you are commanded to put your trust in God and not in yourself.
When a man and woman are married their romance ceases and their history commences.
The aim of all intellectual training for the mass of the people should be to cultivate common sense.
Trust him little who praises all, him less who censures all, and him least of all who is indifferent to all.
Good manners are a part of good morals, and it is as much your duty as your interest to practice both.
The moderation of men in their highest elevation is a desire of appearing greater than their fortune.
"Verily, verily, I say unto you, if a man keep my sayings he shall never see death."
"And this commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God must love his brother also."

M. T. COLEMAN'S Improved Racket Store

Did you ever trade at a Racket store in your life? If not, it is high time you were doing it. You ask why. I answer, because you can buy good goods cheaper there than anywhere else. The word Racket itself implies as much. You go to sell your goods cheaper than anybody else in town and you will raise a racket every time and a big one at that. Now this is just exactly what I am doing and am raising a big racket too, not in town alone but throughout the entire country. My

Spring and Summer Goods

are arriving every day fresh from New York, at prices unheard of here. Dress goods in all the pretty spring shades, so be sure to come and get your dress for Easter. Laces in all colors and styles at half their usual price. Be sure to see them for they will certainly interest you. Torchon laces from a cent a yard up. Beauties and all linen. Embroidery of every description, the prettiest you ever saw. Checked muslins and nainsooks of all designs and patterns. My are beyond comparison for beauty and away below competition in price. So much for the ladies. Unlike other concerns we have something for the gentlemen as well. Clothing from 6,50 a suit up. Shirts of every description, embracing the favorite negligee, as well as the fancy bosom laundered shirts. Work shirts from 20cts up. Work parts the home made kind at 50c. Suspenders, our brag line, from 5c up. You will find just what you want every time. Hats including wool and straw away under competitors prices. Tobacco, all kinds and at prices to suit the times, it will certainly beto your interest to get my prices. Last but not least is my stock of shoes, it is complete in every line, and in prices that tell the tale. Ladies you should see my stock of Oxford ties by all means the style and prices will be sure to please you. Men, my plow shoes can't be matched in this or any other market for the price.

Now in conclusion let me add, if you don't find the above to be true and if you can buy the same goods elsewhere cheaper than I will sell them to you. I don't ask your patronage and won't expect it. I could not hope to build up a trade and hold it misrepresenting things. I am supposed to know what I am talking about as I am on new man at this business, having had years of experience along this line, and if selling good goods cheap and along the SQUARE HONEST thing by you in every instance, will win your patronage, I expect to have it. I will warrant you the politest attention possible to all who enter my store, and will take a greatest pleasure in sending samples to any address and will give each and every order my special attention.
