Escaping Censure.

A wise man said:
"It is harder to avoid censure than it is to gain applause, for this may be done by one of the great actions in a life-time; but to escape censure a man must pass his whole life without saying or doing one ill or foolish thing."

If he had lived in this section of the world, and had run a newspaper at this time, he would have said that "no man can escape censure, if he aspires to be anybody at all."

Those persons who have no opinion of their own, or at least those who express no opinion in which they are not first fortified by the known esteem of some body else, seldom are censured, though they may be held in very poor opinion by their neighbors.

For this reason those who speak out, or talk or act in a manner which has not been suggested or directed by the real or assumed leaders, must be told to sit down must be censured.

No matter if a man should "pass his life without saying or doing one ill or foolish thing," yet it is morally certain that he will be censured.

The State News.

We present this week much news of current events in this State. The accounts of the Anti-Tillman Democratic meeting and caucus will be read with interest, and add a chapter to the political history of the State.

"The Weather Report," including the crop prospects, are not without interest.
"The New Tariff," as discussed by the Hon. William L. Wilson, gives valuable information on a subject that has been attracting wide-spread attention.

"The Industrial South," throws light on matters to which the attention of all Southerners is now directed.
"One Year's Drinking Bill," will furnish a text for temperance people and philanthropists.

"The Nomination of Senator Hill, as Democratic candidate for Governor of New York," attests the popularity of the distinguished Senator.
"Thirteen Year's a Fugitive," furnishes one more proof that our sins will find us out.

"The Next Legislature," and the composition of that body, shows who will likely make our laws next winter.
"The Jewish New Year," is a timely and readable article.
"The Hurricane," and the damages which it did, are recited.
"An Important Decision" on the school question is noted, and commented on.

"The Different Motives," which actuated the Governor in certain cases, are discussed.
"Another Money Crop," and "what will be come of an indirect management of the onion crops," is set forth.
"The Blue Ridge Railroad," is receiving attention, and it now seems that the dream of half a century will be realized.

The card of Dr. Sampson Pope, Independent Reform candidate for Governor, is presented.
These are some of the State matters that are presented this week, and the whole goes to make up an unusually interesting lot of reading.

"Rural Democrats" is stirring up a hornet's nest, and it will be a wonder if somebody don't get their "fish" up.
The sermon on "Getting Ahead," may excite criticism.
Georgia's good luck in securing a cotton mill is discussed by the Manufacturers Record.

Dr. Pope's Candidacy.
Dr. Sampson Pope, of Newberry, protests that he is a candidate for Governor, and we presume he really is in earnest.

WEST END.
Happenings and Incidents of a Week Around the City.

Mr. G. B. Lythgoe is again on his "native heath," on a short visit to his mother and sister. Birk has been for several years in the Gate City with the Southern Express Company, where he holds the stenographer's position in the managers office. His many friends here have always a hearty welcome for him.

Miss Jennie Sondley came home Saturday after several weeks' stay in Charlotte. Miss Lila Bowie of Due West spent Monday with her aunt Mrs. L. H. Russell.

Calhoun Falls was represented Monday by Mr. Geo. Smith and Col. Matt. Cater. Miss Grace Jones, after a delightful visit of two weeks to Miss Mary White, left last Saturday for Abbeville, her home.

The Oil Mill is running on full time, and giving employment to a large force of hands. During the summer season the mill was thoroughly overhauled and put in first-class shape for the busy season, and now under the efficient management of Supt. W. F. Ferguson, and his splendidly trained workmen, is every day turning out oil, hulls and meal by the wholesale.

The Oil Mill is a great thing for the town as well as for the surrounding country, paying out for work alone about $2000 per month. This money is spent here at home. The mill gives employment to 25 persons in the mill proper, and nine in the ginery. The mill runs day and night, the employees being divided into day and night gangs. The day men, eighteen in number, under Supt. Ferguson. The nine night men under Mr. A. B. Cochran, Foreman.

Morrow presides in the office and has the bookkeeping and weighing in his charge. The magnificent lyceum building is under the management of Mr. S. T. Eakin as treasurer. Since last season a Carver Suction Elevator has been added to this department, and it is only a matter of a minute or two in unloading cotton, and no trouble to farmer. The capacity of the hull room has been increased 50 per cent.

Abbeville would be better off with more institutions like the oil mill, and we anxiously look forward to the building of the cotton factory.

Miss Corrie Williams, accompanied by Mr. J. T. Lattimer of Lowndesville, came down Monday and spent the day in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Cohen spent Sunday and Monday with friends in Abbeville.

Mr. Charles Stern, one of the leading merchants of Athens, Ga., spent Thursday night in the city on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. A. Cohen.

There was service in every church in the city, except the Baptist.

The exodus of our young folks still continues. Six of our most popular and energetic young men have left us. Last Saturday Messrs. Robt. McC. Perrin and T. T. Quarles were the ones to say good-bye. Mr. Perrin goes to Whitmore to take charge of a school. Mr. Quarles to Covington, Ga., where he will buy cotton. The northbound vestibule, Monday afternoon, carried from us Messrs. C. A. Milford, C. C. Gambrell and Lewis Russell.

All these young men go to Baltimore to take professional courses. Mr. Fraser Lyon left for Wofford College yesterday.

We know that each one of these young men will be a credit to his mill, and to our little city. Good luck and a happy home-coming for you boys, is the wish of the best of friends and the girls you've left behind you.

Two weeks ago we gave the names of the teachers in the Graded School with the grades they were to teach. Below we give the number of scholars in attendance.

1st Grade.....	46
2nd Grade.....	26
3rd Grade.....	20
4th Grade.....	15
5th Grade.....	12
6th Grade.....	9
7th Grade.....	8
8th Grade.....	21
9th Grade.....	12
10th Grade.....	2
Total.....	203

Under the management of Prof. Bailey and his assistants the school is all that a school should be, and it is an institution that Abbeville is proud of.

Mr. E. G. Clinkscales who has been visiting his aunt Mrs. J. M. Gambrell since last Friday left Monday for Wofford College.

Mrs. W. C. Senel Monday on the vestibule for a visit to relatives in Laurens.

Messrs. F. C. DuPre and T. S. Leitner are with P. B. Speed. These gentlemen are places of Messrs. Milford and Gambrell, who left Monday. Our Frank is well known.

Mr. Leitner is from Camden, S. C. Both of these gentlemen are competent druggists, and will be glad to serve you.

Mr. H. B. Stokes of Newberry is with White Brothers in charge.

Mr. Frank Sullitto is in the city. Frank Mr. Frank Monday for a short stay with his cousin Mr. Richard Sign.

Mr. Robert Augustus Lee of Due West was ordained in Trinity church last Sunday by Bishop Capers, assisted by the Rev. Mr. McCullough, Rev. Mr. Holmes, Rev. Mr. Edward McCrady, Rev. Theodore Forrester. The exercises were very impressive. In the afternoon the Bishop administered the sacred right of confirmation to a large class.

Mr. Joseph B. Sloan, one of Greenville's rising young lawyers, was in our city two days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lee and their two daughters from Due West spent Tuesday in town with Mr. W. A. Lee's family.

Miss Lizzie Holmes, Miss Ellen Parker and Miss Nellie Hayne, after spending several weeks here very pleasantly with friends, left on Monday for their home in Charleston.

Mrs. Cobb of Athens, mother of our townsman Mr. J. B. L. Cobb, came over on the vestibule last Saturday and spent Sunday with Mrs. E. B. Colburn.

Miss Lizzie Stratton of Spartanburg who has been in our city for several weeks as the guest of Mrs. Aug. W. Smith left on Monday evening for her home.

Miss Elsiea Walter came down last week and spent several days with Mrs. W. C. McGowan. She returned to her home in Anderson on Monday.

Miss Lila Woodell, who has been visiting the Misses Marshall for the past week, returned to her home in Greensboro, N. C. last Monday.

Mr. G. S. Cade of Bordeaux spent Sunday in town with his sister, Mrs. W. A. Lee.

SALE DAY.

Considerable Crowd in Town—Quiet and Good Order.
Last Monday was Sale Day, and quite a number of persons were here from the different sections of the county.

There were but few public sales of any kind. The master sold for partition 425 acres, bounded by J. T. Ligon, T. A. Watson, Mrs. D. J. McCrady and J. T. Ligon. The tract was sold for $250 a acre.

The price of the tract was sold so low to show that our lands have a money value, even with cotton below six cents.

The people generally are beginning to trim down their expenses, and are paying their debts as fast as they can get their cotton to market.

Abbeville is now full of buyers and the farmers need have no fears that they will not get the top of the market.

The full stock of goods at prices lower than ever offered before are drawing buyers from every quarter of the county.

DOBBLBY DESERVING.

A Nice Compliment to a Nice Young Lady.
Mr. R. M. W. Hall of Abbeville was in town last Monday, accompanied by his daughter Miss Ada Hall who is a pupil of the Abbeville High School, and at the close of the session bore off a gold medal, a prize for general excellence in all her studies.

Rev. H. C. Fennel delivered the medal with some beautiful and appropriate words. Her teacher paid her the highest compliment when he said that she doubly deserved the prize.

DOWN THEY GO.

The Old Wooden Shutters Disappeared.
Mr. George W. Lomax, a prosperous and thrifty grocery dealer of Abbeville has had the old wooden shutters removed from his store window, and his place of business looks better, is safer from fire and burglars. Under the old way of bolting and barring window shutters a store might burn down before it would be discovered by the night watchmen or a chance passer.

VERY SICK.

Their Eight-Year-Old Daughter in a Critical Condition.
Miss Fanny, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Mazzyk, was very low yesterday evening with congestion of the brain and it was feared that she would not live through the night.

Mrs. Mazzyk and her children had been for several days on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Livingston, and her daughter was taken sick last Saturday. Mr. Mazzyk was summoned by telegraph, and came yesterday evening.

You should see our line of chamber suits. The suits are the money. See them on down in the last week.

Not being able to get our new store completed before Oct. 15, we will be found in Messrs. P. Rosenberg & Co.'s ware house until then.
