COLORED LOVERS.

They Have Trouble, But are Finally Made Happy.

Last Thursday afternoon quite a crowd of colored people were seen standing in front of the Court House, and upon investigation it was found that a runaway marriage had just taken place. Trial Justice Sanders, of McCormick, performing the ceremony. Sam Simonds and Miss Lila Smith were the contracting parties.

Connected with this marriage is a story, going to show that true love does not always run smooth. Sam Simonds is a railroad darkey, whose headquarters are at Monroe, and holds the position of brakeman on the G., C. & N. Railway. He is reported to be sober, thrifty and prosperous, and it is said that he has saved several hundred dollars ahead. Seeing Miss Lila Smith, a very pretty young colored girl of Abbeville, he thought his happiness would be complete if she were his wife. He made known the emotions and desires which filled his heart, and his sweetheart was not averse to his suit. They had frequent talks and each had made pledges. The marriage was proposed, but the lover and his sweetheart knew that an irate mother would never consent.

The girl had no money to prepare the wedding apparel, but Sam was full handed, and so he furnished the money, and the girl had a nice wedding outfit—made by the most expert of the mantua makers. An elopement was arranged and the groom's friends Mark Smith and Laney Richardson were chosen to assist him in getting his bride. They took her, and she took a great quanty of nice clothes, to Monroe a few days ago where the marriage was to take place on Sam's arrival. But North Carolina has some curious laws on the subject of marriage, and which laws seem to have been passed for the especial annoyance and disappointment of couples in this and similar conditions. A marriage license had to be secured before they could be united as husband and wife, and prior to the issuing of a marriage license in that State there were perplexing conditons which delayed the happy event. During the delay the irate mother swore out a warrant for Mark Smith and Larney Richardsen, charging them with kidnapping her daughter, and the police of Monroe took the daughter in charge. All were brought back to Abbeville. The lover protested his abiding love for his sweetheart, and she in turn said that she would marry him.

The mother seeing that it was useless to prosecute the case further, consented to the marriage, and the men who were charged with kidnapping were released from the clutches of the law. Trial Justice Sanders made the lovers one, and they took their departure for Monroe, where they will make their future home.

NOT ON THE DEAD HEAD LIST

No Copy of the Press and Banner Without Hope of Fee or Reward.

President's Office
Winthrop Normal and Industrial College of South Carolina.
Rock Hill, S. C., Oct. 22, 1895.

Editor Press and Banner, Abbeville, S. C.:

Dear Sir—We are arranging to organize a reading room for the Winthrop Normal and Industrial College, and desire to have the newspapers of the State on file.

We would appreciate it very much if you would send us your paper for this reading room.

We have young ladies from every part of the State, and you would be helping the cause of education by giving a favorable response to our request. Very truly,

D. B. Johnson, President.

ANSWER.

While it may be that there are publishers who would send their papers to almost anybody who would take them out of the post office, yet it is true that the Press and Banner sends no paper out without hope of fee or reward. If President Cleveland should want the Press and Banner he must pay it, just like any other citizen.

We are surprised that a great State institution should seek to have its reading room placed under the "dead head," "dead beat," column, though we are gratified to see that the institution is anxious about the intelligence of its students.

If President Johnson wants the Press and Banner sent to the reading room of the college over which he presides he must pay two dollars a year for it. We are in the business to send the Press and Banner to people who are willing to pay for it. Whole families could be found in Abbeville county who would be very much obliged to us if we would put them on the "Dead Head" list.

NEW COUNTIES.

We Havn't Spare Space to Establish One at Every Corner—Welcome Correspondent to the Front.

Honea Path, S. C., Oct. 25, 1895.

As is generally known, the people of Honea Path and surrounding country are now "head and ears" into the new county. Honea Path is a deserving little town, Mr. Editor, and it is evident that if any "corner town" is entitled to a court house this is the place. For it can truly be said that Honea Path is the corner of four counties, each of which could easily spare a few miles and thereby make a county that has long been needed. Why not let Abbeville give the north corner to us and thus fight Greenwood?

Trade is continually on the increase, and and everybody that you meet is a busy body.

Mr Geo. Grier and family have returned from the Exposition.

Editor Moore, of the Chronicle, spent a few days in Pickens last week.

Chris. Suber of Antreville is now with Mr. J. J. Mattison. He will be glad to have his friends give him a call when they are in town.

Miss Sue Whitefield, of Anderson, after spending a pleasant week with her cousin, Miss Maggie Hudgens, has returned home.

Miss Maggie Hudgens and Miss Mamie Harkness spent Saturday and Sunday in Anderson.

Arthur Bell, of Level Land, is now attending school at this place.

If you have a boy or girl whom you would like to educate, send them to the Honea Path High School. The rates are cheap, the advantages equal to those of a college, and the best corps of teachers in the county. Start them at once, before the classes are too far advanced for new pupils.

We think the jury did the right thing in finding Peterson guilty of the murder of Constable Moseley. It is now time for such cold-blooded, brutal murders to be stopped.

Gus Rich, the "ten cent" show man, entertained about fifty persons in the school house on last Saturday night. It is an evident fact that after paying house rent and then 20 per cent to the library, that he was not so "rich" after all.

Weekly debates are now given in the boys' Literary Society and before long it is to be hoped that something like a public debate will be had.

We are glad to see that Abbeville will soon have a big cotton mill. Abbeville is just now supplying a long felt want.

What will Abbeville county look like after Greenwood, McCormick, Ninety-Six, Honea Path and Lowndesville all get their counties? Won't she be a small potato? Yet all are "certain" that they will get a new county. It looks like now as if the only thing for Abbeville to do, is to do what the tied sheep did—prepare for a clipping.
