LOWNESSVILLE LETTER.

Off to the Colleges--Interesting Personal Notes--Farm News and Other Items.

Lownessville, Sept. 24, 1900.

Miss Lilla Wagner, of Charleston, came in Monday for a visit to Mr. E. W. Harper and family.

There were two latter day saints in our town Monday. They were as usual distributing their beloved literature to all who would receive it. They did not seem to give out much of it as our people are still disposed to hold to their belief that the "old time religion" is the true one.

Miss Meta and Miss Vera Allen left Monday morning for Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the morning session of the Southern Institute.

Miss Lilla Belle McCalla started upon her return to Winthrop College the first of last week.

Miss Ada Fennell took the train Tuesday morning for Abbeville, S. C., where she will register at the Federal College.

Mr. R. O. Piquette and family moved into the Franks House on Main street last week. He is manager of the oil mill and ginney machinery, and will be here for several months, at least while his services are needed in the above industry.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. R. Nance, of Abbeville, came on Monday--the first named on business connected with the coming October Court.

Monday evening and night, there was a considerable change in the temperature. For a part of Tuesday and Wednesday, fires and warmer clothing added comfort to the lean and bony folk, but it was just cold enough to make the fat ones feel good.

Last week's Press and Banner gives of about sixty of Abbeville County's young men and maidens who are in different colleges seeking higher education. This showing tells well for old Abbeville. There might have been added to the number given several others, who have gone, or will very soon go from this place.

Miss Carrie Gannett is in Abbeville, attending the Southern Institute, and Mrs. Allen, of Limestone Institute, Mr. E. F. Lattimer, of Anderson College, Mr. John McCalla, of Clemson College, and Mr. W. B. Harper, of the University of South Carolina, are in this country in the State that can beat this record.

Messrs. Meta and Lena Brownlee, of Penny's Creek, and Miss Edna Watson, of Warrenton, who were visiting them, spent several days of the past week with the family and the uncle of the first named.

Rev. J. H. Plummer, of Abbeville, reached here Friday evening and remained here till Saturday morning.

Dr. C. C. Brown, of Sumter, came in Friday. That night at 8:30 p. m. he filled his engagement to deliver his famous lecture upon "The Humorous Side of Comedy and Farce," in our school building. The greater part of our citizens were in attendance. The audience was well pleased, judging from the laughter that was much in evidence. We hope to have him again in the future.

Mrs. Bettie Kennedy who has spent the most of the summer with relatives in other places, returned to her home here with her brother, Mr. S. Baker on Saturday.

Fodder pulling is about over and this year in this Township it was an unusually early and easy job, with a large majority of our planters. With them it was more in name than in fact. The planting community has for years based its hopes for a corn and fodder supply almost entirely upon their bottom lands. These entirely failed them. It has only been a denier result that brought about the planting of upland corn, and even when it was planted if anything like a paying yield was realized it was more than was expected.

If greater interest had been shown in better preparation and manuring and cultivation given, the outcome would perhaps have been very different and more encouraging.

Mr. Mott Barnes and his mother, Mrs. Minerva Barnes, of Anderson, came down Saturday, on a visit to Mr. D. L. Barnes' family.

Miss Lilla Beckwith, after a very enjoyable stay of three weeks in a summer cottage, returned to her home here Saturday.

Mr. G. W. Speer, of the Abbeville Bar, came yesterday and was shaking hands with his many friends in this place. He came especially to see the family of his father, Dr. A. J. Speer.

Miss Bertie Power, of Anderson, came down yesterday, and is still the guest of the writer.

Mr. F. T. Cunningham has just written a little poem which improves its appearance very much.

The cotton receipts at this "post" have to date, been small, compared to those of last year, same date. The planting ones seem to think that the crop will in this Township hardly reach the half of an average one. While the price of the staple is a conservative one and ordinarily would put our people "square with the world," yet it will take a considerable advance in price to put them in as good a condition financially as they were last winter, owing to the loss of their usual market. It is hoped that some of the small grain possible. They will have an unusually good time to attend to this important matter of the future of their crops.

Will soon be over, Horace Greely's advice was, "go west young man, go west." It would now doubtless be good advice, sow oats and wheat, young men, (and old too) sow oats and wheat.
