pox and scarlet fever are prevalent in some-portions of this State, I send you a recipe which is said to be a cure for both diseases, thinking you may see fit to have same published in the papers of the infected por-tions of the State. I have for years had this recipe pasted in my scrap book, intending to try it myself, should I have need to do so. To the present time we have had no need for it, but I give it to you in the hope that it will prove all that it claims to do."

Cored Bis Mother of Rheamatism. "My mother has been a sufferer for many years from rheumatism," says W. H. Howard of Husband, Pennsyivania. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painfol. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Baim and a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Baim and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An oc-casional application of Pain Baim keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by all Druggists, Abbeville, with." For sale by all Druggists, Abbeville, H. M. A correspondent of the Stockton (Cal.) Heraid writes: "Appended is a recipe which has to 'my certain knowledge been need successfully in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure the smallpox, though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered cow-pox in Eng-land, the world of science hurled an ava-lanche of fame upon his bead; but when the most scientific school of medicine in the world-that of Paris-published this recipe as a panacea for smallpox, it passed unheed-ed. The Common Sparrow. The house sparrow has been called a nuisance, a street gamin, a vagabond, a thief, a robber, and this by many so called bird lovers, yet, in my opinion, he is one of our most interesting birds. He is lively, bright, thrifty and brave.

An Hory, oright, thrity and brave.
No one, not even his worst enemy, can gainsay this. He is also ever ready to help his own kind out of any difficulty into which they may fail.
One day, as I was walking up street past a large mill where dozens of spar-rows were collected, I saw something which has much increased my esteem for the so called little street gamin. It was in nesting time, and young birds hardly able to fly were quite common. As I walked on my atten-tion was attracted by one of these in the middle of the road alone. He Cromer-Smith.

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season was that of Miss Georgia Cromer to Mr. Hovey L. Smith, which occured Dec. 28, 1904, at White Hall S. C. At the appointed hour the lovely home was crowded with friends and relatives to witness this happy union. The house was tastefully decorated with holly, mistletoe and chrysanthemums. 'As the sweet strains of Mendleson's Wedding march was rendered by Miss Janie Jay, the bridal party entered the parlor.

First came Miss May Belle Griffin and Miss Cora Hardy, next Miss Salle Dominick and Miss Zoe Richey. Then came the groom and his best man Mr. L. J. Walker, of Greenville. Lastly came the lovely bride leaning on the arm of Miss Lodia Seymour.

They were made one by Rev. J. B. Muse.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white silk trimmed with lace and rib-Beported To the Mikado-Fifty bon. She carried fern and white geraniums.

The bridesmaids were attired in pale blue silk trimmed with lace and ribbon. They carried mistletoe.

After the ceremony they marched into the spacious dining room where a most delicious supper was served.

The numbers of beautiful presents, which this couple received, gave evidence of their popularity. They left next day for Greenville which will be their future home.

The bride's traveling suit was brown broadcloth trimmed with silk and buttons with hat, gloves and cloak to
