Capt. Earle Jones.

The Columbia State makes some very com-plimentary references to Capt. Earle Jones, of Columbia" now attending school at Ciem-

son. Tois was all well said by the State, and fuly as well deserved by Capt. Jones, to which the Press and Banner adds its fullest endorsement, except as to bis piace of residence. His parenis have never been more than temporary residents of Columbia, and the young man has never re-ided there. Mr. Jones is an A blowille b. y and we never expect anything but the best from those we seud out.

"Tainted Money."

Some extra puritanical foolish religionisti have sought to pose before the public as to good to accept gifts for the church from per sons whose private lives they assumed di not come up to the standards which they had set tor other people. If their toolishnes should prevail, then persons whose lives die not square with the caucus of the church could buy nothing, their money being "tainted." extra good people could not re ceive it in exchange for property. The truth is : There is no "tainted money. But, so to speak, there may be "tain ted meth ods" of getting good money." The true rule should prevent us from adopting "tainted methods" to get good money." It is the method and not the money that may be

"tainted." All lawful money is good, bu some actions may be "tain ted" with evil.
