Wyatt Aikea Bowie.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Bowie have been blessed with the arrival of a son and beir. They have started him out right by giving him the name of our popular Congressman May he live long and be an honor to a parent and a credit to him whose name he bears.

Daughters of the Confederacy.

The regular monthly meeting of the D. of Ca., will be beid at the home of Mrs. Richard Hill, prat Tuesday afternoon at four v'clock, Dec. 12th. A full attendance is urged.

Death of David McAdams.

Mr. David McAdams, a plumber living at Anderson, was accidently shot and killed by a friend while bunding Thanksgiving day, Mr. McAdams was a young man about 27 years of age, and leaves a wife and three little children.

He stood well in Anderson, his adopted home. The invariable statement made by those who knew him was that he was a most excellent young man. He was a son of Mr. Allen J. McAdams, a large farmer of the Due West section of this county.

Is Tillman Responsible?

To Senator B. R. Tillman certainly belongs credit for the dispensary law, and for the beneficial effects of that law he deserves the grateful thanks of al' prohibition and tem-

When a man of simple tastes gets a waiter filled with goods like this what is be to do? If we had to eat all of that list we would have to bring a drug store of specifies to restore impaired digestion.

Abbeville certainly has a good hotel building, which is kept in the most superb manner by Mr. W. T. McFall. His meals are not interior to the meals served at any o the best hotels in Atlanta. With an army o assistants Mr. McFall not only satisfies the public but gains the praises of all who assemble at his tables or lodge in his rooms The quality of the food, the style of serving and the promptness with which every re quest : - Asfied makes the Eureka Hote the best pince at which to stop.

From McCormick.

Hon, J. B. Holloway who in former years acceptably represented his section of the county in the Legislature of South Carolina was in Abbeville last Monday, and spoke in most complimentary terms of the sobriety and the good order of the multitude who were in town during sale day. While he did not disregard the sobriety and the good order of McCormick when great gatherings were there, he couldn't conceal the idea that order here was better than in McCormick.

To Vote It Out.

It has been said that the popular reaction in favor of license and less restrictions on the sale of liquor is so great that the fate of th dispensary is in the balance. In our own opinion, the fate of the dispensary depends entirely on the number of alleged prohibi tionists who vote with the license people We know where to find the licence people, But who can tell where the prohibitionits can be found? If they should be found in the license camp the result can be easily foretold.

Kuights of Pythias Bazaar.

On evenings of December 12, 13 and 14, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, the Knights of Pythias will glv; a big bazaar in Rosenberg's hall.

The members of the committee, which were appointed over six weeks ago, have been working quietly but steadily and carnessly to make tule bazaar an even greater success than the one given last year. The ladies of this town and surrounding country, have responded most generously to requests for ald in the different departments of the bazaar, and to them is due the bright promise of the success.

Sez'e, why? Sez'l, don't the dispensary sell licker? Yes, sez'e. Sez'I, then, if y don't you vote to sell licker?

I do, sez'e.

Would't that be rong sez'l?

Would't that be rong sez'!?

Sure, sez'e.

Rez'I, deacon, if they is 10 times as much licker sold after the dispensary is voted out as before it makes no difference to you, yove cleared your skirts.

Now the deacon, that is deacon Smith, cals these places where a feller can dampen his googgier, bline taggers. For my part I think that's too survygrous a name. Deacon Smith thinks it suits 'em exactly but he's prejudiced, now for i've been in many a place where a feller could wet his neck, rite in Abbeville too, but not sloce the rotten old Dispensary has been there, and as iar as I onld see, Zebu or Yak or gnu would be just as apropriate as bline tagger. That name is entirely too aurvygrous, as a matter of fac it's mighty bad when a gen'i'man has to sneak and hide from gov'ment sples, but if you have to, why, let or go galeger.

Well, that ole humbug, that ole cancer, that is dead there won't be entirely and the feller from the wake to keep off the cais. I have heard as how Noot Nickies was in I have heard with the heard was heard with the heard was heard with the heard was hea one grate abomination before Beeizibub, the Dispensary.

I declar it's necherly a sin for one to hate anything like I hate the dispensary. I hated it when it was first hatched out, I hated it when it was if it begun to feather; I hated it when it was old enuf to crow, and I hate it now, and I wish I could stomp the jiblets out of every one in the State.

That there editer of the Press and Banner—why don't you gents stop 'im? He'ii injer your paper as shore as there's a poplist in Georgia if he keeps on holdin up for the dispensary when everbody is dead agin it tooth and toenail. The editer of the Medium aint much better. If you gents will get these editers straight I'il moke it rite with you as shore as my name is Guilermo Sed.

Look at the McCormick Messenger and trim your sails accordingly. There's a editer with my and the mother of the mother of the merchant live.

pondendial effects of that has be deserves the grateful thanks of all prohibition and temperate people.

But is Mr. Tillman responsible for the efforts now being made by the license advocates to vote out the dispensary in various counties? We think it entirely probable that that he is. He, like the devil, quotes Scripture. And these quotations were intended to prove that the Bible does not discourase the drinking of intoxicants. And various of his speeches would lead to believe that he thinks a little liquor does good and not harm.

Well, now, if Mr. Tillman is correct in proving that the Bible does not discourage the drinking of intoxicants, and little is not wrong to drink dispensary stock, then the existing restraints or limitations on the sale of liquor is wrong, and the law should be repealed.

If it is not against durine command and is not against humane interest and morality, to drink liquor, where is the justice or the farmers in restricting the sale of liquor?

If Mr. Tillman's speeches are rightly interpreted, any bar to the sale of liquor?

But what shall we say to the poor little prohibitionists who are shivering in the pitch calcold, but are so anxious to do something that they shamelessly join the license element? They are neither hot norcold, and may be very properly spewed out by hones!

May Dargam who is chairman of the oliticant day booth, feels condident that no was decided to the little promises to charter and the little promises to be abutted the base of the cotton crop, President Harvie Location, Monday morning saved millions of foliars to the cotton growers of the cotton growers of the cotton growers of the cotton crop, President Harvie Location, and the law should be repealed.
