SHUTTING OFF STEAM

"Shall we stop our advertising for awhile now?"

The advertiser who thinks of discontinuing may argue: "We have been advertising so long and so steadily that our name and specialties are well known."

No; neither will the engine stop the minute the men suspend shoveling in coal. The point is, however, that when the engine is to be started again ten times as much will have been lost in power as has been saved in fuel or feed.

Using up reserve force reserves, is a loss, however it may be looked at. The buying public is prone to forget.

It is, moreover, much more difficult and much more expensive to regain a lost customer than to prevent his straying away.

People naturally look to our columns for advertisements of what they want to buy. The merchant whose announcement appears regularly has a great advantage over the occasional advertiser.

"THE ALDRICH SYSTEM."

Of Growing Two Rows of Corn and Two Rows of Cotton Over the Whole Field. Changing Rows Each Season.

We are indebted to Mr. Aldrich, the originator of the plan, for the following letter:

Dear Sir: Replying to your letter of the 25th inst., I will say that I am unable to give you the information desired as to a "comparative test" of my system with that in vogue—of, perhaps, I should say with that which was in vogue—since so many all over the South, are now using my system.

A test to be of value should be accurate, and situated as I am, with many irons in the fire, I cannot devote the necessary time and close personal attention to such a test.

Some State Experiment Station ought to make it and report results. I have several times planned with a view of making a thorough comparative test, but when weighing time came over more imperative matters claimed my attention.

Another fact was apparent—that I had no caterpillars while my neighbors' fields divided from mine by a hedgerow had plenty of worms.

I am unable to offer any solution of that, but as the same was the case with a field near Willington planted by my system, there would seem to be something more than a coincidence in the phenomena.

At one time last summer, in August; my cotton suffered so much from drought that I began to fear that it was being prejudiced unduly by the proximity of the corn, although the corn blades were then too ripe to pull for fodder if I had been going to strip them, yet when the rain came more fruit for cotton matured and when the crop was all picked the yield showed that the land had produced all that I had any reason to expect from it.

Very truly yours, Alfred Aldrich.

Mrs. M. M. LeRoy.

On Monday, February 20, 1906, at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. I. L. LeRoy, near Willington, S. C., there fell asleep one of God's noble women, Mrs. M. M. LeRoy. She was 74 years of age and had been a lifelong member of Buffalo Baptist Church.

The writer of this tribute has known the deceased for many years, and does not hesitate to say he believes she was a sincere Christian and has gone to be with her Savior. We buried her the next day in the family grave yard on the LeRoy farm, near her old home.

In the District Court of the United States for the District of South Carolina.

IN THE MATTER OF J. HAYNE McDILL, Bankrupt, IN BANKRUPTCY.

To the Honorable Wm. H. Brawley, Judge of the District Court of the United States for the District of South Carolina.

At Abbeville, in said District, on the seventh day of March A. D. 1906, now comes J. Hayne McDill, the above named bankrupt, and respectfully represents to the Court that, after he had been examined at a meeting of his creditors and had filed in Court a schedule of his property and a list of his creditors as required by law, he offered terms of composition to his creditors, which terms have been accepted in writing by a majority in number of all creditors whose claims have been allowed, which number represents a majority in amount of such claims; that the consideration to be paid by the bankrupt to his creditors, the money necessary to pay all debts which have priority, and the costs of the proceedings, amounting in all to the sum of seven hundred and ten dollars, has been deposited, subject to the order of the Judge, in the National Bank of Abbeville, a designated depository of money in bankruptcy cases.

Wherefore the said J. Hayne McDill respectfully asks that the said composition may be confirmed.

J. HAYNE McDILL, Bankrupt.

ORDER OF NOTICE THEREON.

District of S. C.—

On the 8th day of March A. D. 1906, on reading the foregoing petition, it is—

Ordered by the Court, that a hearing be had upon the same on the 22nd day of March A. D. 1906, before said Court at Charleston S. C. in said District, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon; and that notice thereof be published in The Abbeville Press and Banner, a newspaper printed in said District and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the same time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered by the Court, that the Clerk send by mail to all known creditors copies of said petition and this order, addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

Witness the Honorable WM. H. BRAWLEY, Judge of the said Court, and the seal thereof, at Charleston, S. C., in said District on the 9th day of March, A. D. 1906.

RICHARD W. HUTTON, Clerk.

(Seal of the Court)

Very truly yours, Alfred Aldrich.

Mrs. M. M. LeRoy.

Why is it that when baking powder is mentioned at once come to my mind? Why when soap is spoken of do people think of a certain few kinds? Or when sarsaparilla or root beer is being discussed why is it that nine out of ten people will name the same makers?

THEIR NAMES HOUSEHOLD WORDS

the names of one or two brands at once come to my mind? Why when soap is spoken of do people think of a certain few kinds? Or when sarsaparilla or root beer is being discussed why is it that nine out of ten people will name the same makers?

Because all have been so advertised that their names have become household words. And the same can be said of scores of other articles of every description. They have been advertised day after day and year after year in the newspapers and the magazines and by other means.

In every city there are several concerns which are the largest in their respective lines. They are known by everybody in town and in the surrounding territory. It will be observed that these concerns are liberal users of newspaper advertising and that their advertisements appear practically every day.

It is by means of their advertising that they have gained their widespread reputation, and they continue to advertise because they find it profitable to do so.

It is possible for any merchant to cause his name to become so associated with that of his city that to mention one is to suggest the other. There is no way by which this can be done more easily and cheaply than by using the newspapers. They enable a merchant to keep before the public, day in and day out, so constantly and persistently that his name and business become household words.—Portland (Me.) Express.

The way to make your name a household word in this town is to keep your advertisement in this paper. It goes regularly into the homes and is read by the people.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Probate Judge.

To the voters of Abbeville County. Having been informed by Mr. R. E. Hill some twelve months ago that he would not be a candidate for the office of Probate Judge, I decided to appear before the People of Abbeville County for that office thus for I have received out spoken encouragement from friends, and believing that there should be an end to all things.

And as I am somewhat a believer in rotation, I hereby announce my self as candidate for Probate Judge subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

J. F. Miller.

To the Voters of Abbeville County: Owing to the condition of my health during last summer and fall I had about abandoned the idea of standing for re-election to the office of Probate Judge and so stated to some of my friends; but as my health has very much improved within the past few months, and as I have been urged by a good many of my friends to once enter the race for the office for another term, I have concluded to do so. I therefore hereby, announce my self as a candidate for re-election to the office of Probate Judge for Abbeville County.

Thanking you for the generous support which you have accorded me in the past, I promise that, if by your suffrage, I should be retained in the office for another term, it shall be my utmost endeavor to so conduct the business of the office as to meet with your continued approval.

Respectfully, R. E. Hill.

For Superintendent of Education.

We are hereby authorized to announce J. B. Gibert for the office of Superintendent of Education of Abbeville County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

For Supervisor.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Supervisor of Abbeville county subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

W. A. Stevenson.

L. W. White has just received a car of Barbed Wire and Nails. All persons wanting barbed wire had better leave their orders at once as the demand for it is so great the supply will not last long.

To The Trustees of Abbeville Presbyterian Church.

Don't allow your church to pay 8 cents per pound for wood.

If they buy 100 pounds of white lead in kegs, they get 88 pounds of white lead and 12 pounds of wood; but when they buy L. & M. Paint they get a full gallon of paint that won't wear off for 10 or 15 years, because L. & M. Zinc hardens L. & M. White Lead and makes L. & M. Paint wear like iron.

4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed Oil will paint a moderate sized house.

L. & M. costs only $1.20 per gallon. C. S. Andrews, Ex-Mayor, Danbury, Conn.

Writes, "Painted my house 19 years ago with L. & M. Looks well to-day. Sold by P. B. Speed. Abbeville, S. C."

The State of South Carolina, County of Abbeville, Court of Common Pleas. Summons for relief.

(Complaint Served.) John L. Turner, Plaintiff, against E. S. J. Nash, Defendant.

To the Defendant, E. S. J. Nash: You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint in this action, which is filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas for Abbeville County, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint upon the subscriber at his office, law range, Greenwood, South Carolina, within TWENTY DAYS after the service of this summons upon you exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the Plaintiff in this action will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated at Abbeville Court House, South Carolina, this Twelfth day of February, Nineteen Hundred and Six. Ellis G. Graydon, Plaintiff's Attorney.

To the absent defendant, E. S. J. Nash: Take Notice, that the Summons and Complaint in the above-entitled action are filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas for Abbeville County.
