BLOATED WITH DROPSY.

The Heart Was Badly Affected When the Patient Began Using Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Elizabeth Maxwell, of 415 West Fourth St., Olympia, Wash., says: "For over along without worrying much until dropsy set in. My feet and ankles swelled up, my hands puffed and became so tense I could hardly close them. I had great difficulty in breathing, and my heart would flutter with the least exertion. I could not walk far without stopping again and again to rest. Since using four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills the bloating has gone down and the feelings of distress have disappeared." Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, box.

Leanness is caused generally by lack of power in the digestive organs to digest and assimilate the fat producing elements of food. First restore digestion, take plenty of sleep, drink all the stomach will bear in the morning on rising, take moderate exercise in the open air, eat oatmeal, cracked wheat, graham mush, baked sweet apples, roasted and broiled beef, cultivate jolly people and bathe daily.

"What Shall I Do?"

That is the problem which frequently confronts everyone especially parents with small children. A slight illness treated at once often saves a long period of sickness and expense-sometimes prevents death. The trouble is that so few people can think on the instant what treatment to apply, even if they have the knowledge necessary to recognize the disease and know what simple remedies are best. To meet :' is want at small expense the Book Publishing House, 134 Leonard street, New York City, is sending postpaid a doctor book on receipt of sixty cents in stamps. The book is illustrated, contains 598 pages, explains symptoms, causes and simple means of overcoming ordinary illnesses. It was written by the eminent J. Hamilton Ayres, A. M., M. D. It is a volume which should be in every household, as no one can tell what moment he may require the knowledge it contains.

A Discoverer of Geniuses.

Much surprise was expressed in Germany when it was announced that Michael Georg Conrad had just celebrated his sixtieth birthday. His name as a critic and magazine writer had so persistently been associated with those of the latest lights in literature: art and music, that few realized he would soon join the ranks of the veterans. His magazine, Die Gesellschaft, seemed to exist for the sole purpose of discovering or championing strong individualities. He was one of the most ardent defend-

Fear of Assassination Keeps Witnesses From Murder Trial.

MARCUM ONCE SAVED BY BABY

Second Trial of Judge James Hargis Begun in the Mountain Courts -Mrs. Marcum's Story-State's Witnesses Intimidated.

Beattyville, Ky -All the men known to be members of the Hargis or of the Marcum faction were searched by the Sheriff's officers for firearms before they were permitted to enter court. More than a dozen revolvers were confiscated and several long knives taken from the Breathitt County visitors. B. R. Jouett made the opening statement of the prosecution's case in the new trial of Judge James Hargis and Edward Callahan for the murder of James B. Marcum. He announced that many of the State's witnesses had remained away because they feared assassination, and warned the jurors that the Hargis-Cockrell feud, had disgraced Kentucky. which done. One incident he promised to prove was a plot by which it was arranged that Tom White was to kill Marcum with a shotgun as he passed the Hargis store. Marcum passed by holding his baby in his arms. White, he said, was upbraided for not shooting and replied that he did not want to kill the baby. Hargis is quoted as saying: "You ought to send that brat to hell with its daddy. Jouett's statement was dramatic in the extreme and the picture he drew so vivid that Mrs. Marcum and other women in the courtroom cried Mose Feltner, upon whose testimony the Commonwealth depends largely was the first witness. Feltner told of many alleged plots against the life of Marcum, all of which were instigated by Hargis and Callahan they agreeing to "stand by him." The witness said he had told Smith and Abner of an agreement he had made with Hargis and Callahan to kill Marcum, but afterward told the defendants that he would not go into the plot with B. F. French, who had been selected by Hargis as his partner in the contemplated crime Mrs. Abrelia Marcum, widow of the murdered lawyer, was examined She told of the various times in which she saw Curfis Jett, John Abner, John Smith, and Tom White lurking at places near her homo after Marcum had been warned by Feltner that they would be at those places for the purpose of carrying out the plots of Hargis and Callahan to kill him. Mrs. Marcum had seen Smith, Abner and Jett enter and leave the house of Alexander Hargis, where the window in one room was raised about six inches. Mr. Patrick, a lawyer of Jackson Curtis Jett enter the side door of the Court-house in Jackson and a few minutes later shots were fired and Marcum fell dead in front of the Court-house. It was called to the attention of the court that partisans of Hargis and Callahan were intimidating witnesses for the osecution, causing some of then to leave town. The court announced that the intimidators would be severely dealt with.

Health Authorities Have Thus Far Emma Stephany Tells How She Shot Her Sweetheart James Frizznell Been Unable to Stop Spread While Celebrating the Fourth. of the Disease.

Washington, D. C. - Information received by the Insular Bureau of the War Department from Manila is to the effect that cholera in a very virulent form is raging there. During the week ending July 4 there were 116 cases and ninety-nine deaths from the disease. That the health authorities have thus far been unable to stop the spread of the disease is indicated by the further report that during the twenty-four hours preceding 8 o'clock a. m., were twelve cases and five deaths reported from the provinces. During the same period in Manila there were twenty-nine cases which came to the knowledge of the Health Department, twenty-three of which were fatal.

The situation has assumed a very grave aspect, and the authorities have taken stringent measures to stamp out the disease as speedily as possible, but it seems to have gained a headway which is regarded with some apprehension. It is said that the disease is confined almost entirely to the native population, although several cases among white persons have been reported. It is believed, however, that the army and the civilian employes of the insular Government have thus far escaped from the ravages of the disease. It has been the practice of the Philippine authorities to cable the names of employes of the Government in case of death, and as none have been reported in this manner it is thought that there have been no fatalities among them. The islands have never been entirely free from cholera, but up to the present time the disease has been practically under control, only an isolated case having been reported to the authorities from time to time.

After an absence dating from March 21 cholera again reappeared in Manila early in May, when there were six cases and six deaths. During May there were also fifteen cases and twelve deaths from the same disease in the provinces. Every possible effort was made to trace the source of infection, but so far all attempts have been unsuccessful. The first case occurred in the person of a beggar, who was known to have been in the city for at least several weeks. As far as could be learned, he ate only such food as is common to the poorer c'asses. While it has not been possible to trace any connection between the cases, yet they have all occurred in the district of Tondo, and all of them in houses that border on the same estero.

MORE PAY FOR 45,000 HANDS OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERKLEY

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It.

When a physician tells a woman suf fering with serious feminine trouble Scale of 1904 Resumed in the Fall that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operate table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for just such operations.

There are cases where an operation s the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of menacing female troubles cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Miss Margret Merkley, of 275 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Loss of strength, extreme nerveusness, shooting pains through the pelvic organs, bearing down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said I had a female trouble and ulceration and advised an opera-tion. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-pound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well."

Female troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive-if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing-down pains, don't neglect your self: try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Turning a Crank.

Turning a crank is less fatiguing than hammering. It is estimated that the daily work developed by a man hammering is about 480,000 foot pounds, while in turning a crank he develops 1,300,000 foot pounds.

It consequently follows that turning a crank with resistance well balanced with a flywheel is a better way of utilizing a man's strength than by direct hammering. Machine drill makers are now, perfecting hand drills for mining work. The mistake was formerly made of endeavoring to produce hand machine drills to compete with power drills. It was not recognized that there was a good field for small light drills to utilize a miner's strenth to the fullest degree. -Engineering and Mining Journal.

Prayed For More Snakes.

In a rural town in Michigan lived a family named Beaver noted for their hardihood in all manner of naughtiness. They were the great torment of the minister's life. Finally, one of the boys was bit by a rattlesnake and sent for him. He found the lad greatly scared and very penitent. After some consideration, the reverend gentleman closed the interview by prayer.

"O Lord," he began, "we thank Thee for rattlesnakes. We thank Thee that a rattlesnake has bit Jim. Send another, we pray Thee, to bite Tom, and one to bits Joe. And, O Lord, send the biggest kind of a rattlesnake to bite the old man; for nothing less than rattlesnakes will bring this Beaver family to repentance."-Methaphysical Magazine.

Perils Lurk in the Clothes Brush.

The brushing of dusty clothes in the living rooms of the household is opposed to cleanly sentiment, apart altogether from the evil to health, which, as the bacteriology of dust distinctly indicates, might easily be caused by the process. The imagination does not require to be stretched very far to realize that the clothes brush might be easily responsible for the dissemination of disease. Dust is rarely, if ever, free from micro-organisms, and among them pathogenic entities have been recognized. Dust is, in fact, an enemy to the human race, a vehicle of disease, and should everywhere and on every occasion, however trifling, be prevented as far as means can be employed to that end.

LAWYER KILLED BY STUDENT.

Chester Thompson Charged With Murder in the First Degree.

Seattle, Wash .--- G. Meade Emory, a lawyer, who was shot by Chester Thompson, a university, student, died in the Minor Hospital. Thompson is the son of a Seattle lawyer, and is a nephew of Maurice Thompson, the author.

Murder in the first degree will be the charge against Thompson, according to a statement made by the Prosecuting Attorney. The plea of the defense will be insanity, based partly on the infatuation of the accused youth for Charlotte Whittlesey, niece of Judge Emory, and partly on Thompson's eccentric actions report was convicted in the Mercer County Court of sending poisonous candy through the mails to his twelve-year-old daughter, Josephine. Davenport's wife was first suspected of the crime, and arrested. In the Judge's summing up the testimony of the handwrriting experts was bitterly attacked. The Judge said it seemed to him there was no doubt, according to the testimony, of the identification of the handwriting on the box of candy. Davenport wept when he heard the amount of nutriment, and the easy digestion of Grape-Nuts is not hard to find.

In the first place the starchy part of the wheat and barley goes through various processes of cooking to perfectly change the starch into Dex, trose or Post Sugar, in which state it it ready to be easily absorbed by tho blood. The parts in the wheat and barley which Nature can make use of for rebuilding brain and nerve centres are retained in this remarkable food, and thus the human body is supplied with the powerful strength producers so easily noticed after one has eaten Grape-Nuts each day for (week or 10 days.
