

House Gown.

For the cool weather challie, cashmere, albatross and soft silks are all appropriate, while for immediate wear muslins can be utilized. In the illustration ring dotted batiste is trimmed with banding of embroidery, but there are as many trimmings as there are materials, so that every opportunity is offered for the exercise of

The gown is made with the fronts.

backs and under-arm gores. Both fronts and backs are gathered, and the backs are pleated to give a Wat-teau effect, after which they are joined to a narrow yoke. The sleeves are the favorite ones of moderate fulness, gathered into straight bands.

When still shorter length is desired the gown can be cut off on indicated lines and any trimming that may be individual preference.

The house gown that is made with

New York City .- The jumper waist is one of the attractive novelties whose simplicity commends it at a the slightly open neck and elbow glance and which is suited to all the sleeves is the favorite one of fashion, preferred can be used at the lower lighter weight materials. This one is made of pale blue louisine silk, edge. The quantity of material required trimmed with a simple banding and is worn over a guimpe of Persian for the medium size is eleven yards

THE PULPIT.

A SCHOLARLY SUNDAY SERMON BY THE REV. DR. F. W. GUNSAULUS.

Subject: The Shut Door.

New York City .- The Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus, D. D., LL.D., of Chi-cago, is filling Dr. Donald Sage Mackay's pulpit in the Collegiate and is so ideally comfortable that it appeals to the woman of practical mind as well as to the one who seeka Church of St. Nicholas, and Sunday morning, to a very large congrega-tion, he preached on "The Shut for novelty and smartness. This one tion, he preached on "The Shut Door." His text was Matthew vi:4, "Shut the Door." Dr. Gunsaulus is eminently simple at the same time that it is absolutely graceful and can be made from a variety of materials.

said: I wish I could by some contrast impossible for me and possible only in the experience of your own hearts emphasize the difference between this command, as it comes to us loaded. with infinite love, and the commands that come out of recollections of our childhood, that might give us some idea of the different texture of life, the life from which the heart is always moving into the infinite ranges of God's life, into which we are in-vited day by day. "Shut the Door." I think the instant demand, espe-cially upon American life, with its swollen veins and arteries, its various confusions and starry look and stumbling feet, is to get out of the whirl and hear a voice speaking with deep. fine authority, saying to us as we go through life, with its cares, duties, amusements and contradictions, "Shut the door." This is the voice of Jesus. He is telling us the secret of prayer, in the closet-secret prayer in which the human soul comes alone into the presence of God; prayer in which man finds his true altitude and attitude; prayer in which alone a man is able to look into motives, perceiving the values of life, in which he gains his spiritual heredity and in which he assumes his sonship unto God through God's grace.

The one thing that Jesus seems most intent about, that you and I should enjoy the privilege of prayer and receive its benefits, is all ex-plained and emphasized in these words, "Shut the door." We are living at a time when prayer is a fact and a force. The world of the materialist has passed: the world of the idealist is here. The scientists of today are telling us, "Let us pray." It is not strange that we should begin to realize the unifying and exalted influence of prayer upon man's mental life. What, after all, is there today in life, when life's issues are so profound and even tragic, that will unify all one's powers-the powers of the mind and of the affections-as will prayer? When I pray in secret I am unified as a man. If man is to be re-made, if he is to be made whole so that his various parts shall be no longer fragments, each afar from the other, he must be divinely unified. But, my brother, if that is to be your experience, "Let us pray." Here is the Master coming quietly from the fields of Galilee into your heart and mine, urging upon us, as the old. deep harmonies of the religions of all ages sweep into His soul, urging us, not only that we should pray, but pray alone. We see Him at Gethsemane, at the very crisis of His life, leaving Peter and James and John behind, and going alone to pray. I think the most significant announcement with regard to Saul, who was to become Paul, and his experience on the road to Damascus was made unconsciously by the one who said: "Behold, he prayeth." What an entire transformation! What a prophecy of his future!

Do you think that Christ is calling you to an easy task when He says: "Shut the door?" Do you even know he nathway back to the old closet are interested! Surely, there is nothmy dear friends." O, poor soul! it seems such ordinary talk, does it not, enemy is myself. This is the one I need to conquer. Here are passions,

After all the limitations of life that come to vs through loved ones.

be separated from these friends.

"Shut the door."

early days?

If so.

them.

hand

side.

say,

surely.

be tenderer and deeper and I shall "My own, dear friend, I come back to you with a friendship that is all divine. Thou art my friend. J have been inside where the door was shut.'

I wonder where this door is to be found. I wonder, sometimes, when I try to have a secret moment in my own life, if there might not have been a second meaning in the word when He said: "I am the door." For surely there is nothing in this universe responsive enough, great c-ough to shut everything else out and to shut the soul in-great enough in tenderness-so that the slightest touch of an infant soul will "shut the door." Here is the authority of Jesus Christ. No one knew the world outside as He knew it; no one knows the world inside as He knows it; no one else will take my thoughts, my feelings, my soul; no one else can shut the world out and the soul in. Here is a man who has been trying to pray and shut the door as Jesus told him to do. It takes more intellect to shut that door than to write Hindustance or Shakespeare; more character than to marshall an army and lead it to battle. No muscular power will do it; no intellectual refinement or process of philosophical investigation, no wealth. Ah, you will have to leave your wealth outside. "Shut the door." It is only the man in the grandeur of his solitude, in the presence of God, when he means more to God than ever before, it is only then that finally he gets the door shutjust because Jesus is our entrance. He is the door. I realize, day by day, how finite He is when I touch Him; how infinite He is when He touches me.

How about that past? There it is. Nothing rankles more than man's past, that will lift its head up and say: "Ah, here I am. Look at me. I know you. I have heard you pray before. Those hands, I know where they have been. That heart. I know how dark it is." Have you ever tried to shut the door against a past like that? Have you ever known what it is to have the past hiss and sting? Sometimes you think you have the door shut, but oh, how that past, that seems a giant, fully armed, too big to get into the door, suddenly transforms, flattens itself out, lies like a serpent, and by and by you hear it wiggling at the door, hissing. Oh, I must have a door accurately fitting, that whether the past slithers like a serpent or comes like a giant, I can shut that door. Oh, how at last the soul takes hold of one thing and severs all from the past, and that one thing is Jesus Christ.

I am interested in men's problems. Do you know anything that is interesting enough in this world to keep the past out, except Jesus Christ? Is there anything that so appeals to your interest that you actually turn your back upon the past and say: "I have a present. Thank God. I have a present. I am looking to Him who says, 'Follow Me.' He has never yet told us we have followed Him too far. Since He says that, and as long as my heart pulses and as long as my will keeps in harmony with Him. I have a future." Your past is out of doors; your present and your future here, simply because you have "shut the door." I tell you, brethren, the manliest, the grandest, the greatest thing you can do this morning is simply to accent Jesus Christ as the door into the communion. The door moves upon such hinges of love that you need but to say: "I am a sinner: I want to be alone with God," to start it moving—to get in, with the past outside. My friends I will look for them by and by. And my enemies? I want to conquer only one of them.

want to be alone. I will "shut the door." May God's holy Spirit, who is here this morning, quicken every heart Get back this very day-The road is now all and "shut the door." You need not overgrown. But since that day there be afraid that the world will lose have grown up brambles over the anything. You will be a better man pathway. First. of all, we must find when you go out, with a whiter face, cleaner hands, a more loving and a braver leart. "Shut the door." this path, if we are to find our manhood and womanhood. Is it not an astounding fact how little secret prayer there has been in our lives? Dependence on God.

No Real Grievance.

"I s'pose you're takin' a vacation?" "Yes, and I've earned it, by George! It's the first time I've had one for a year. Been working like horse for twelve long months."

"You think that's tough, do you, mister? You don't know what hard luck is. If you had to hunt jobs, the way I do, you'd change your tune. I've only had three months' work 'ne the last year."

"Then you've had nine months' vacation, you lucky dog. What are you kicking about?"-Chicago Tribune. of the dog.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

Burning Off Paint Makes Insurance Void.

It seems that considerable danger to property exists in the practice of burning off old paint before re-painting. The question has long been a subject of debate in the technical journals, and now house-holders and the newspapers have begun to discuss it. Those of us who, with trembling, have watched the painters blow a fiery blast from their lamps against our houses, and have looked sadly at the size of our painting bill because of the time wasted on this preliminary work, are interested in the investigation by the Greenfield (Mass.) Gazette and Courier, which gives considerable space to the reasons for the practice, questions its necessity and suggests ways to prevent the risk of burning down one's house in order to get the old paint off. It says:

"There is a good deal of discussion among house-holders as to the desirability in painting houses, of burning off the old paint, a practice that has grown very common of late in Greenfield and elsewhere. Insurance men are strongly opposed to this method. It makes void insurance policies for fires caused in this man ner. Several houses in Greenfield have gotten afire as the result of this method, and in some places houses have burned as a result.

"It is undoubtedly true that when a house has been painted over and over again there comes to be an accumulation of paint in bunches. If new paint is put on top of these accumulations it is almost sure to blister. To burn it off is the quickest and cheapest and perhaps the surest method of getting rid of this old paint.'

The Gazette and Courier quotes certain old patrons to the effect that accumulations of paint are unnecessary. These old-timers lay the blame partly on the painter who fails to brush his paint in well, partly on the custom of painting in damp weather or not allowing sufficient time for drying between coats, and partly to the use of adulterated paints instead of old-fashioned linseed oil and pure white lead. The paper says:

"Many of the older house-holders say that if care is taken at all these points, it is absolutely unnecessary to have paint burned off. They advise that people who have houses painted should buy their own materials, and to have them put on by the day, so as to be sure to get good lead and oil. Of course the burning off of paint greatly increases the cost of the job.'

The trouble house-holders everywhere have with paint is pretty well summed up by our contemporary, and the causes are about the same everywhere. By far the most frequent cause of the necessity for the danger-great detriment of the paint.

frequent causes of paint trouble. But they do often buy adulterated white lead because the property owner insists on a low price and the painter has to economize somewhere. The suggestion is therefore a good one that the property owner investigate the subject a little, find out the name of some reliable brand of white lead, and see that the keg is marked with

The linseed oil is more difficult to Pure white lead and linseed oil are little trouble necessary to get them well repays the house owner in dol-

Serious Loss of a Matrimonial Broker tain gentleman, who besides his ordinary profession of storekeeper, is also a marriage broker, had three beautiful young girls intrusted to his care for the purpose of finding them husbands. The next day it came to the ears of some robbers, who promptly raided the house, and at the point of a revolver carried off the girls. The populace is indignant, the parents are raving, and the poor marriage broker is in terror of his

on the Face

Those annoying and unsightly pimples that mar the beauty of face and complexion will soon disappear with the use of warm water and that wonderful skin life .- Shanghai (China) Times.

Pimples

beautifier.

There is trouble in Honan. A cer-lars and cents saved.

that brand.

want.

A Use For Silk Hats.

quantity of cast off clothing, Α says "Answers," which a charitable society gave out for distribution among the poor of London, included several silk hats, which were soll as nosebags for pedlers' donkeys.

The Dog Disappeared. A New South Wales farmer went out the other day, and tied his small dog to a fence. On his return he found a large carpet snake attached

The Roman police have cleared the city of soothsayers, who have been doing a flourishing business there to the end of the leash and no signs for years.

Side Lights on History.

the great Alexandrian library.

Carnegie.-Chicago Tribune.

The ruthless vandals were burning

"They may destroy it, if they will,"

With the light of a deathless hope illuminating his pale but resolute face, he sat down and wrote to Mr.

said the librarian, "but another one will be established on its ruins!"

Tized, Nervous Mothers

Make Unhappy Homes-Their Condition Irritates Both Husband and Children-How Thousands of Mothers Have Been Saved From Nervous Prostration and Made Strong and Well.

Mrs. Chester Curry, Leader of the the verge of hysterics, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposi-tion and reacts upon herself. The writes: trouble between children and their writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-"For eight years I was troubled with ex-treme nervousness and hysteria, brought on by irregularities. I could neither enjoy life nor sleep nights: I was very irritable, nervous and despondent. "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and proved to be the only remedy that helped me. I have daily im-proved in health until I am now strong and well, and all nervousness has disappeared." Mrs. Charles F. Brown, Vice-Presi-dent of the Mothers' Club. 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-

Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-"I dragged through nine years of miser-able existence, worn out with pain and ner-vousness, until it seemed as though I should fly. I then noticed a statement of a woman troubled as I was, and the wonderful results she derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege-table Compound. I decided to tryit. I did so, and at the end of three months I was a differ-net woman. My nervourness was all gone. I ent woman. My nervousness was all gone, I was no longer irritable, and my husband fell in love with me all over again." Do you feel something like a ball rising in your throat and threatening to choke you; all the senses perverted, morbidly sensitive to light and sound; pain in the abdominal region, and Women should remember that Lydin E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the medicine that holds the record for between the shoulders; pearing-down pains; nervous dyspepsia and almost the greatest number of actual cures of female ills, and take no substitute. Free Advice to Women. continually cross and snappy? If so, your nerves are in a shattered Mrs. Pinkham, daughter in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., invites condition, and you are threatened with nervous prostration. Proof is monumental that nothing in all sick women to write to her for the world is better for nervous prostra-tion than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege- with female troubles enables her to adtable Compound; thousands and thou- vise you wisely, and she will charge sands of women can testify to this fact. you nothing for her advice. Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advics-A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills.

cannot be equalled at any price

To Shoe Dealers: W. L. Douglas

Children's sh

SHOES FOR EVERYBODY AT ALL PRICES. Men's Shoes, $5 to $1.50. Boys' Shoes, $3 to $1.25. Women's Shoes, $4.00 to $1.60. Missee' & Children's Shoes, $2.25 to $1.00. Try W. L. Donglas Women's Shoes, $2.25 to $1.00.

es; for style,

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W.L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater value lawn combined with lace. The ma- | twenty-seven, ten and three-eighth terials are exceedingly dainty and yards thirty-six, or seven yards fortycharming and the soft silk lends it- four inches wide, with six and oneself to the design of the waist with perfect success. The model can, however, be utilized both for the separate waist and for the gown, and will be found charming in every material that is soft enough to drape with success, which means very nearly all of the fashionable ones, if we except the suitings designed exclusively for street wear.

The guimpe is of the regulation sort with front and backs, that are faced to form the chemisette of lace. and with full elbow sleeves. The waist is made with front and back. which are laid in tucks at the shoulders and is without an opening, being drawn over the head and confined at the waist line by means of a tape inserted in the casing or in any way that may be liked. The sleeves are pretty and oddly shaped and make a singularly good effect over the white ones of the guimpe.

The quantity of material required for the medium size i:, for the waist two and three-fourth yards twentyone, two and one-fourth yards twentyseven, or one and five-eighth yards forty-four inches wide, with tw.lve yards of braid; for the guimpe, two yards thirty-six inches wide, with one vard of all-over lace.

Kcep Pumps From Slipping.

A vexed question among women pumps from slipping up and down materials, are being worn for street approved of fashion, but annoying be- skirt and lingerie waist seems to young woman who had purchased an the artist-writer, whose sensitive soul expensive pair of pumps and didn't was jarred by its unfitness. In forlike the idea of discarding them had eign watering places, however, this a couple of eyelcts made one each separate waist is still extremely wellside of the pumps just above the toe liked, although the skirt with which and laced across ribbon ties. Of it is worn usually shows some very course the appearance of the pump strong note of harmony even if it is was lost, but in its place was gained not of its own color. a pretty effect of a low tie, besides a degree of comfort worth the style that was lost.

Smart Little Topcoats.

Smartest of all are the little topcoats, very short over the hips, a trifle knotted at the back into generous longer in the back and a trifle longer still in the front. They have double cclor is used for the belt, and there revers, the under one of velvet or silk, short sleeves with three-inch Although we see such frocks about turned-back cuffs and either brass or emoked pearl buttons of quite neer css to say they are not strictly magnificent size.

fourth yards of banding to make as illustrated.

Separate Waist Liked.

Scarcely anything but members of who follow the styles is how to keep the linen family, or, at least, wash at the heelr. Pumps are pretty and and morning gowns and the heavy cause of this tendency. One clever have fallen beneath the hammer of Bows For Short Sleeves. Almost too much of a lingerie effect is given a short-sleeved white lawn dress by tying the sleeves in to the arms with ribbons that are bows. A wider ribbon of the same is a knot of the same at the throat. the stores, and without gloves. it is intended for shopping wear.

How this passion for publicity has Our heavenly Father keeps us conlinked itself to our willingness to restantly in the condition of uttermost main away from the secret place. dependence on Him. Were it other-Truc, a while ago, when we were in trouble, we found our way back. wise with us how wanton would become. Therefore, He writes the How sweet it was! But that was not secret prayer, for we did not "shut the door." It was prayer with the sentence of death upon ourselves, and also upon our choicest temporal mer-It was prayer with the cies-not that He always means to door wide open, through which we remove them, but to hold them as a were looking back at the things from special gift from Him; and, despairwhich we were trying to escape. You ing of all succor but His own, that we say, "I can get back to that place.' should place our trust not on self. Are you quite sure that you can: not on valued fellow-creatures, but "shut the door." How we like on God, who can raise up to help us to peek out and see what the majority even the very dead (2 Cor. i:8-10) are thinking - how our neighbors He is considering our weakness, and feel about things. How we want the our need, and our work; and in perdoor just a little way open in order fect wisdom and love has already arthat we may hear the sounds of the ranged for the very best. claims of good causes, in which we

How Christ Will Come.

ing wrong about that. "Shut the Let us take the words of He will so come in like manner as Jesus into our hearts to-day as sim-He has gone. We are not to water ply as we can and sincerely accept them. "Shut the door." "Why, lown such words as these with any-"Shut the door." "Why, you say, "that is something thing short of a return precisely corresponding, in its method, to the de-I can do with one hand, while parture which was visible, corporeal, grasp other things with the other literal, personal, and local; so, too, will be His return from Heaven to No, both hands must be in-There must be no effort to earth. And He will come as He went; grasp things without. "Well," you a visible manhood, only thronged, amidst the clouds of Heaven, with "what shall I shut the door power and great glory. This is the against, there are so many things with which I must keep in touch?' aim that He sets before Him in His departure; He goes in order that He I don't know: He says. "Shut the door." "But," you reply. "there is my church, my family, my relatives. may come back again .- Rev. Alexander Maclaren.

The Only Hindrance.

in the presence of the great, sweet Being, Who is saying, "Shut the What hinders that you should be Being, Who is saying, "Shut the door?" I must be alone with God; I a child of God? Is not salvation free? Is no: the invitation to it must feel again my personal relahung out to you on every page of tionship to my Father; I must realize the New Testament? Is not Christ again that if there were only one offered to you in all His offices, and being in the world, and I were that being, while the moral universe subare you not welcome to all His benefits if you want them? Is not the Holy Spirit promised to them that sisted, still there must be a cross, still a Christ, still :. Gethsemane, still ask Him? Nothing can hinder you the morning of the ascension, still the open sepulcher. The only way to from being a Christian, but your own be rid of our cnemies is to "shut the worldly, selfish, proud, obstinate, unworthy and self-righteous heart .door." The real truth is that, when Ichabod Spencer. the real crises of life come, my only prejudices, hates, lusts. Oh. my A little girl who had just returned friend, whatever your gain or loss, from church, was asked what the text realize this, that never until you shut had been. She replied: "I keep my the door will you go into the presence soul on top." The father did not reof God: never until in secret prayer member such a text, and inquired you are alono with your enemies where it could be found. Eagerly What can any man do to harm me, the child took her Bible and pointed unless I harm myself? If ever you out the well-known passage where are tossed about upon seas of darkthe apostle says, "I keep my body ness, it will be because you neglected under." The child was a born com to put the anchor on board and your mentator of the right sort. ship is at the mercy of the waves

The Place oFr the Soul.

Take God With Us.

are serious are the limitations that To enjoy God and heaven it does not require that we wait till the last there is one thing that a man needs, touch of death reveals all things in it is in some holy and grand way to the light of eternity. We may take God and heaven along with us every know of no other right, gentle and loving way but the way of prayer, day, and carry their peace and glory into all the dull and prosaic scenes and as I shut the door. Inside of of earth .- Thomas Lathrop. that door I will never lose my power of friendship, my soul's friendship is real, lighting her altar fires for her While you have to walk to Heaven a little horse-sense will be a big help friend, and when the prayer is over and the door open my friendship will on the road.

trouble with an employer. ous practice of burning old paint is the use of poor material. The oil

The Abyssinian peasant is bathed should be pure linseed and the white but thrice in his life-at birth, at lead should be real white lead. The marriage and at death. N.Y.-39. latter is more often tampered with British Strikes Decrease.

mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing children involves; it is impossible for her to do anything calmly. The ills of women act like a firebrand upon the nerves, consequently nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," sleep-lessness, and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism. Do you experience fits of depression with restlessness, alternating with extreme irritability? Are your spirits easily affected, so that one minute you laugh, and the next minute you feel like crying?

than the oil. Earthy substances, and FITS, St. Vitus'Dance: Nervous Diseases permanently cured by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. $2 trial bottle and treatise free. pulverized rock and quartz, are frequently used as cheapeners, to the Dr. H. R. Kline, Ld. 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa. Paris honors famous literary men by

Painters rarely adulterate white lead themselves and they very seldom aming streets after them. use ready prepared paints-the most

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens thegums, reduces inflamma-tion, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25ca bottle

Vienna is to have the largest and finest illuminated fountain in existence.

BABY'S TORTURING HUMOR

Ears Looked as If They Would Drop Of -Face Mass of Sores-Cured by Cuticura in Two Weeks For 75c.

"I feel it my duty to parents of other poor suffering babies to tell you what Cuticura has done for my little daughter. be sure of, as it is usually sold in She broke out all over her body with a bulk when the quantity is small; but humor, and we used everything recomreliable makers of linseed oil can be mended, but without results. I called in learned on inquiry and, if your dealer three doctors. They all claimed they could help her, but she continued to grow is reliable, you will get what you worse. Her body was a mass of sores, and her little face was being eaten away her ears looked as if they would drop off so necessary to good paint that the Neighbors advised me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before 1 had used half of the cake of Soap and box of Ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body were as clear as new-born babe's. I would not be without it again if it cost five dollars, instead of eventy-five cents. Mrs. George J. Steese, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other make. Wherever you live, you can obtain W. L. Douglas shoes. His name and price is stamped on the bottor, which protects you against high prices and inferior shoes. Take no substit-tute. Ask your dealer for W. L. Douglas shoes and insist upon having them. Fast Color Eyelets used: they will not wear brassy Write for Illustrated Catalog of Fall Styles. W. L. DOUGLAS, Dept. 15, Brockton, Mass. DROPSY NEW DISCO KEY H. H. GREEN'S SOAS. Box DENSION Washil ton, D. C. 701 Coburn St., Akron, Ohio. Belgium, where libraries are almost un-known, has 190,000 public houses. Successfully Prosecutes Claims

Whether you raise Chickens for fun or profit, you want to do it intelligently and get the best results. The way to do this is to profit by the experience of others. We offer a book telling all you need to know on the subject-a book written by a man who made his living for 25 years in raising

One 100, package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can let-How to Dro, Eleach and Mix Colors, MONKOE DRUG CO., Unionville, Miasouri

It tells you how to Detect and Cure Disease. how to Feed for Eggs, and also for Market, which Fowls to Save for Breeding Purposes and indeed about everything you must now on the subject to make a success.

SENY POSTPAID ON RECEIPT OF 25 CENTS IN STAMPS.

