

TRIBUTE TO GUILFORD CADE.

Tribute to Guilford Cade who at the age of 96 years closes a long useful life.

Guilford Cade was born in Wilkes County, Georgia, December 11th, 1812. He was a son of Robert Cade, and Dissa Wade. In 1839 he married Sarah Howell, sister of Elbert County, Georgia. She died in 1851 leaving four children, Samuel Robert, Mary Eliza, Victoria Duane, and Guilford Cade. Mr. Cade, devoted husband that he was, cherished his memory most tenderly, never marrying again but remaining single and devoted to his children as well as he loved so well. To his children he was ever a devoted father. For some years after his marriage he was a merchant in the town of Petersburg which was situated in Elbert County, Georgia, in the point of land between Savannah and Broad River at their confluence, was at that time a flourishing town though now it has long since vanished away entirely. Later he gave up merchandising and devoted himself to planting in the same county, and was very successful as a planter.

When the war broke out his eldest son, a youth of seventeen entered the Confederate Army and served under Longstreet faithfully and gallantly until the end. The younger child Guilford likewise went into active service at the age of sixteen. When the reserves were called out Mr. Cade joined the forces collected at Atlanta for the defense of that city against Sherman's army. He was wounded, he suffered heavy losses in the war in property, but set to work to rebuild and succeeded in rebuilding his fortunes. In 1865 he moved to Abbeville County South Carolina, in which county all of his children were born.

With untiring industry and enterprise he devoted himself to business with such success that he became a man of large means. He retired from active business at the age of seventy after seeing all of his sons and daughters married and prosperously established. From the time of his retirement from business he lived in Mount Carmel, South Carolina, among the friends he loved and by whom he was loved. He was a man of the most marked characteristics were modesty and reticence, especially in regard to his deeds of kindness and charity. Whenever he did an act of kindness he was most careful to do it so quietly that as few as possible might know anything about it. And many are the kind acts that he did in his unobtrusive way.

In the ninety fifth year of his age, he passed away peacefully early Friday morning January 18th, 1907 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Knox with whom he had lived for many years. To these friends he was deeply attached and by them he was always treated with great kindness and affection. He was laid to rest in the cemetery at Mount Carmel. Both of his sons had preceded him into that other world. His two daughters, Mrs. S. A. Mcintosh of Bordeaux, S. C. and Mrs. W. A. Lee of Abbeville, S. C. and many grand children and great grand children survive him.

TREE DESTROYED.

From the Limb of Which a Mob Hanged an Innocent Man.

Last Saturday was a week ago, a rabbit pursued by hunters sought refuge in the hollow of the oak on which Dave Roberts was hanged by lynchers about twenty years ago. The hunters in the effort to smoke the game set fire to the tree, and after burning for several days it fell. The tree was on the side of the public road leading to Greenwood and on the land now owned by Mr. W. A. Long of this city. Dave Roberts was a negro. He was found with seed cotton. Dr. King lured him. The Doctor was locked down. Roberts was charged with the crime and placed in the jail at Abbeville. One Sunday night lynchers came and took him out. They marched him to the tree on which he had spoken, and hanged him to a limb. It is said that Wince McNary, a negro, several years ago on his deathbed, confessed that he, and not Roberts, struck down Dr. King.

Chew What You Know About and Know What You Are Chewing

There is real pleasure in chewing the best tobacco grown—where the best tobacco grows—in the famous Piedmont Country.

Only choice selections of this well-matured and thoroughly cured tobacco is used in making SCHNAPPS. That's why SCHNAPPS and others of the Reynold's brands, as shown by the Internal Revenue statistics for a fiscal year, made the wonderful growth of six and one-quarter million pounds, or a net gain of one-third of the entire increased consumption of chewing and smoking tobaccos in the United States.

Evidently, chewers cannot resist the flavor and they cheer SCHNAPPS because SCHNAPPS cheers them more than any other chewing tobacco, and every man that chews SCHNAPPS passes the good thing along—one chewer makes other chewers—until the fact is now established that there are many more chewers and pounds of tobacco chewed, to the population, in those States where SCHNAPPS tobacco was first sold than there are in the States where SCHNAPPS has not yet been offered to the trade.

SCHNAPPS is like a cup of fine Java coffee, sweetened just enough to bring out its natural, stimulating qualities. SCHNAPPS pleases all classes of chewers: the rich, because they do not find a chew that really pleases them better at any price; the poor, because it is more economical than the large 10c. or 15c. plugs and they get their money's worth of the real snappy, stimulating flavor so appreciated by tobacco lovers. All imitations contain much more sweetening than SCHNAPPS. They are made that way to hide poor tobacco improperly cured.

For the man who chews tobacco for tobacco's sake, there is no chew like SCHNAPPS.

Sold at 50c. per pound in 5c. Cuts. Strictly 10c. and 15c. Plugs
