Once in Persia reigned a king, Who upon his signet ring Graved a maxim true and wise, Which if held before his eyes, Gave him counsel at a glance, Fit for every change and chance, Solemn words, and these are they: "Even this shall pass away."

Trains of camels through the sand Brought him gems from Samercand Fleets of gallops through the seas, Brought him pearls to match with these But he counted not his gain, Treasures of the mine or main; "What is wealth," the king would say, "Even this shall pass away."

In the revels of his court, At the zenith of the sport, When the palms of all his guests Burned with clapping at his jests, He amid his figs and wine, Cried, "Oh, loving friends of mine! Pleasures come, but not to stay; 'Even this shall pass away.'

Fighting on a furious field, Once a javelin pierced his shield; Soldiers, with a loud lament, Bore him bleeding to his tent. Groaning from his tortured side "Pain is hard to bear," he cried, But with patience, day by day, "Even this shall pass away."

Towering in the public square, Twenty cubits in the air, Rose his statue, carved in stone Then the king, disguised, unknown, Stood before his sculptured name, Musing meekly, "What is fame." Fame is but a slow decay— "Even this shall pass away."

Struck with palsy, sere and old, Waiting at the gates of gold, Said he with his dying breath, "Life is done, but what is death?" Then in answer to the king, Fell a sunbeam on his ring, Showing by a heavenly ray: "Even this shall pass away."

Badly Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me mose good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by P. B. Speed, druggist, 50c.

When you have a cough or cold do not ask some one what is good for it, as there is danger in taking some unknown preparation. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs, colds, and prevents pneumonia.
