If it is settled that Bryan is to be the Presidential candidate, why let the National Democratic Convention meet and so declare by a whole lot of telegraphing could be stopped. We have been told five or six hundred times that he is the Democratic choice.

Mr. W. E. Lomax is one of the best looking men that comes to Abbeville.

Card. After twenty-four years in the drug business, in the same store, some have moved, and as it has always been our endeavor to move upward, in all things, we have moved two doors higher up the street, where we are better prepared to serve the people than ever, and wish here to thank them, one and all, for their kind patronage in the past and ask that they continue to patronize us in the future. Come to see us in our new home, where you can always find what you want in drugs, paints, window shades, school books, cigars, tobacco, in fact, anything you need in our line. Yours most respectfully, W. D. Wilson.

Schedule for One West Railroad.

Morning train leaves Due West 10:15. The evening train leaves Due West 5:15. The Southern from Greenville and the Southern from Columbia meet in the morning at Abbeville. The Due West train will take passengers from both these trains.

To the Public.

It gives me pleasure to announce that I have connected myself with the firm of The L. W. White Co., and to assure my many friends that I shall renew my efforts in this firm to merit their continued confidence.

Valuable Mules for Sale.

I have for sale a pair of mares, well matched, one 5 years old and one 6 years, weight about eleven or twelve hundred pounds. Both mares are very quick and work well together. Guaranteed to work any where. For prices apply to T. B. Ammons, Calhoun Falls, S. C.

Lost Mattress.

A piece of mattress was lost by me on the road from Abbeville to Lowndesville. I will appreciate it if the person finding it will notify me. J. F. Gilbert, Abbeville, S. C.

Approved by all Good Men.

Attorney General Lyon has the approval of all the good people of the State in his laudable efforts to bring the dispensary affairs to order. If these men are guilty they should be punished to the fullest extent of the law. Gaffney Ledger.

A Good Motto.

"That good show" is the motto used by the management of "The Cowboy Girl" the new western play. The motto like the play is a quiet but potent and effective departure from the old worn-out plays and contains more pure fun and startling situations, tells a new story and is presented in a new and novel manner with special scenery and a great cast, at the opera house Feb. 11th.

Meeting of Daughters of Confederacy.

The Daughters of the Confederacy will meet at the home of Mrs. W. A. Culvert, Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 11th, at four o'clock. Mrs. L. T. Miller, Secretary.

Something New.

"There's nothing new under the sun" does not apply to "A Cowboy Girl," the magnificent scenic production that will soon be seen here. This play and its departure from the old worn-out plays and contains more pure fun and startling situations, tells a new story and is presented in a new and novel manner with special scenery and a great cast, at the opera house Feb. 11th.

McMurray's Locals.

There is no "just as good" argument used to sell our goods. You get what you ask for here. The McMurray Drug Co. We treat every one alike under the same circumstances. The amount of your purchase does not count. We appreciate the patronage of all. The McMurray Drug Co. means something special for your health and comfort. The McMurray Drug Co. We mean what we say and we want you to mean "Your money is back if you are not pleased. The McMurray Drug Co."

Glenn's Locals.

Volcanic roofing, best on the market, $2.25 square. Poultry wire, 1-2-3-4-5 foot, also hog wire. Pratt's poultry food, lice killer and cattle powders. New garden seed, onion sets, seed potatoes. All the best grades guano, acid, potash and cotton seed meal. New crop N. O. syrup, cans, kegs, 1/2 barrel and barrels. Fall stock powders, gears, farm tools, nails, etc. Collar pads, all hair, 20; good pads, 25; extra good hame strings. Beardless spring barley and seed oats. 150 barrels Majestic and Alpine Snow flour. Heavy pant goods worth 15c. Only 10c yard. Rock salt, worm powders colic cure for horses.

Morse's Locals.

I have a few sacks of "Bort" or "90 day" oats—the best for spring seeding. When in need of a good saddle, bridle, harness or anything in the line, call on me. I can supply your wants at reasonable prices. And still another car of the best Jellieo coal to arrive about Feb. 1st. Send for your orders and get good blocks from the car. Wilson's "Stock" and "Ponitry" Food—the best for your horses and cattle, and to make your horses say "I like it." "T. W. Woods Seeds" are the best yet—that is the kind I sell. Flowers, wheel-barrow, garden and farm tools of all kinds. I have had a few trade on grades this season. Have a few left and also extra backs. Put in a grade and buy coal from me; it is cheaper than anywhere else you can get the wood, and so much more convenient.

Notice to Stockholders.

NOTICE is hereby given to the stockholders of the Bank of Donalds that a meeting of such stockholders will be held at the Banking House at Donalds, S. C., at 10 o'clock M., Saturday, February 29th, 1908, to consider a resolution of the Board of Directors, that the surplus on hand be paid out by way of stock dividend, and that the additional capital stock authorized by the charter to wit: Ten Thousand Three Hundred and Eighty Dollars be issued. JUDGE KLUGH DECLINES TO GRANT NEW TRIALS.

LINDSAY AND SIMS SENTENCED TO FIFTEEN YEARS IN THE PENITENTIARY.

Declared the Jury Had Done Only Its Duty in Finding Defendants Guilty of Man-slaughter, Especially for the Killing of Moon.

Greenville News. "This case very narrowly escaped, if it escaped, being a cold blooded assassination. The defendants, in my mind, had no provocation for doing what they did and the jury is to be commended for bringing a verdict against them. I do not think that there was any doubt in the minds of the jurors as to the guilt of the prisoners; the only hesitation was as to whether they were guilty of murder or manslaughter. I am inclined to believe that it originated over that horrible traffic—the illicit dealing in opium. These words were the cause of the trial yesterday in announcing that he could not grant a new trial in the case of Thomas R. Lindsay and Columbus Sims, who were convicted on Saturday of man-slaughter, having been tried for the murder of Jas. R. Moon. Turning towards the prisoners, the judge said:—'It is, therefore, the sentence of this court that each of you be confined at hard labor in the state penitentiary for a term of fifteen years.'

The words of Judge Klugh fell with some effect upon the prisoners. For them it means practically the end of their lives. They were practically the prime of life and when their sentences are ended will be old men. They received their sentence without quivering and appeared resigned to their fate. Later Sims appeared to be deeply affected. Mr. A. Vin H. Deane, attorney for the prisoners, made a hard fight for a new trial. He claimed that the evidence was not sufficient to warrant the conviction of Columbus Sims; that the evidence against him was not sufficient to warrant the conviction of Thomas R. Lindsay. He also claimed that the evidence proved that Lindsay shot in self defense. A new trial was asked for another hearing was asked for a few minutes from the court room and the case was heard. The judge heard an abridgement for another hearing for the week.

Judge Klugh said that he was convinced that the trial was a fair one and that he did not care to reverse the decision of twelve jurymen who had heard the evidence. He said that twelve men could come nearer deciding a case fairly than could one and for each of them, it is a hard thing to do. He deplored the killing and said that the conviction of the men should serve as a warning. He said the case was heard for the week. He said that he thought that this case originated from it.

Judge Klugh also refused the motion for a new trial in the case of Wilkes Swilling, convicted of man-slaughter. He sentenced him to serve a term of seven years in the state penitentiary. He also refused the motion for a new trial in the case of John Swilling, convicted of man-slaughter. He sentenced him to serve a term of seven years in the state penitentiary.

LIVE STOCK ASSOCIATION.

To be Held in Columbia, February 6th and 7th—Noted Speakers will be Present—Good Program.

The sixth annual meeting of the South Carolina Live Stock Association will be held in Columbia, S. C., Feb. 6th and 7th. Several speakers of note have been secured and a good program is expected. The sessions will be held in the City Hall, and you are urged to attend.

We believe that the association has been of benefit to the state, but if we are to stand up for our motto, "More live stock and better live stock," the work of the association must be pushed.

No association can do its best unless the members attend the meetings, especially the annual meeting, where the policy of the association is outlined. It is the duty of each member to attend this meeting. Several matters of importance to the association will be discussed at this meeting and you should be there.

Meeting of School Improvement Association.

On last Saturday Miss Mary T. Nance, President of the Association of Rural School, and State Superintendent of Education Mr. O. B. Martin met a number of the county teachers and other citizens at the court house to discuss rural school improvement.

Mr. D. B. Martin made a straight open talk on the conditions, showing that there is great room for improvement and that the time is ripe for a revolution in rural school matters.

Neighborhood Favorite.

Mrs. E. D. Charles, of Harbor, Maine, speaking of Electric Bitters, says: "It is a neighborhood favorite here with us. It deserves to be a favorite everywhere. It gives quick relief in dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney derangement, malnutrition, nervousness, weakness and general debility. Its action on the blood, as a thorough purifier makes it especially useful as a spring medicine. This grand alterative tonic is sold under guarantee at Speed's drug store. 50c."

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest coffee imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Health Coffee imitation is made from pure toasted cereal or grains, with malt, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. L. T. Miller.

TRIAL CATARRH TREATMENT are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this wonderful prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by C. A. Milford.

A Cure for Misery.

"I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces," says R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters, and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; and it puts yellow jaundice clear out of the system." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at P. B. Speed's drug store.

ROMANS LIKE SECRECY.

Do Not Want Strangers to See Their Household Arrangements. It seems to be a part of the real simplicity of the Italian Latin to put on a quite useless look of mystery on all occasions, and to assume the air of a conspirator when buying a cabbage, and more than one great foreign writer has fallen into the error of believing the Italian character to be profoundly complicated. One is apt to forget that it needs much deeper duplicity to maintain an appearance of frankness under trying circumstances than to make a mystery of one's marketing and a profound secret of one's cookery. There are few things which the poor Italian more dislikes than to be watched when he is buying and preparing his food, though he will ask any one to share it with him when it is ready, but he is almost as prone to hide everything else that goes on inside his house unless he has fair warning of a visit and full time to prepare himself for it.

This is perhaps not entirely a race peculiarity, but rather a survival of medieval life as it was all over Europe. There are plenty of clear indications in our own literature that the ladies and gentlemen of two or three hundred years ago did not like to be caught unprepared by inquisitive visitors. The silks and satins in which they are portrayed would not have lasted a lifetime, as they did, if they had been worn every day. As for the cleanliness of those times, the less said about it the better.

In Rome there was a long period during which not a single aqueduct was in repair, and it was a trade to clear a supply of water out of the Tiber from a portion of the yellow mud by letting it settle in reservoirs, and to sell it in the streets for all household purposes. Who washed in those days? It is safer to ask the question now than it would have been then. Probably those persons washed who were the fortunate owners of a house well or a rainwater cistern, and whose water had much the same all over Europe. It is certainly to the credit of Transylvania that it is not a dirty place today by Italian standards.—Marion Crawford in Century.

MARY ANDERSON'S WARDROBE.

When She Had but One Stage Costume Near Her Five Act Plays. Three months elapsed between Mary Anderson's first appearance on the stage and her second performance, "a heart breaking interval," writes Mrs. De Navarro in The Ladies' Home Journal. Manager Macaulay of Louisville then offered her his theater again for a week, and she presented the chief roles in five plays—"Faust," "The Hunchback," "Evelina," "The Lady of Lyons" and "Romance and Juliet." Of her first week's engagement she writes: "At the end of the week I was in debt to the manager for the sum of $1, the house having been large enough only to cover the running expenses. All I had gained by a week of hard work was a sad heart and a very sore throat. Besides, creditors became unpleasantly importunate, for my scanty wardrobe was not yet paid for. This consisted of white satin dress, simply made, which did me no work at all. It sparkled in silver trimming for Juliet, was covered with pink roses for Evelina, and cloudy with white lace for Pauline. The unfortunate gown owed its many changes to the nimble and willing fingers of my mother, who spent much time each day in its metamorphoses.

"A train of velveteen, a white muslin dress, and a modern black silk gown, which, like Mrs. Toodles, we thought 'would be so useful,' but which had to be discarded after its first appearance, completed my wardrobe—surely a meager one for five plays of five acts each, requiring at least 12 gowns. We had built up financial as well as artistic hopes for that week and were disappointed in both. It proved more successful than we first thought, for shortly after, Ben De Bar, one of the greatest Fallstars of his time, engaged me for six nights at his St. Louis theater. At the end of that time I found myself in his debt for the sum of $600, but the houses had steadily improved, and the press was filled with long articles enthusiastic about the present and full of predictions about the future."

Brutally Cruel—Death and Damnation (News and Courier).

Marion, January 23—Special: Hon. James Norton, of Mullins, Ex-Comptroller General of the State and Ex-Congressman of the 8th district, and now a member of the General Assembly from this county, was in Marion today, and upon the occasion of his review of the trial of the Columbia correspondent in the News and Courier of Sunday, and that Senator's speech in the Senate on this point, he time had proved him wrong on the suffrage of the Constitution adopted in 1885; Senator Tillman and his followers pledged to hold another election if they would call the Constitutional Convention one of them should be disfranchised. As a result of the Convention and the franchise pledge, many—indeed most of these poor white men—have been practically disfranchised by the Constitution of 1895. The Senator's statement, in this interview from the Senator, that no honest white man will be disfranchised by the Constitution of 1895, is a lie, and a lie that has been proved in the case of many of these poor white men in this county in the past, and their much forgotten history.

FEELS HIS FIGHT IS FUTILE.

Tells Congressman Wyatt Aiken That He Can Not Hold Out Longer Against It. The State Bureau, Washington, 23. After a stern opposition to the Southern Appalachian and White Mountain reserve measure, lasting through several Congresses, in which he held at bay senators who passed it, some committee which ignorantly reported it, and got reports from the State Bureau, and the South, who came here to press it upon him, Uncle Joe Cannon at last feels that he is up against an adamant wall. Representative Wyatt Aiken was talking to him today and said he was going to vote for the bill to come up in the house. "Aiken," said the speaker, giving his cigar an upward turn, I do not see how you can do anything to stop it. When New England and the South get together on a proposition, that's the best of a combination." Zach McGehe.

Health Coffee is really the closest Coffee imitation ever yet produced.

Health Coffee imitation is made from pure toasted cereal or grains, with malt, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. L. T. Miller.

Uniform was of course a thing virtually unknown in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, though the Swiss, if we are to trust old woodcuts, wore the white cross on a red ground even at Sempech.—Macmillan's Magazine.

Sad Case.

A little girl went with her mother to see a lady who was an assiduous collector of china, and in whose parlor were cabinets filled with her trophies, besides odd plates and dishes, bearing indisputable marks of age, which hung in conspicuous places on the walls. The child sat quietly during the long call, and while her mother and the china collector talked of matters of mutual interest she looked about her with big, wondering eyes. "Mamma," she said thoughtfully as she was getting ready for bed that night, "don't you feel sorry for poor Mrs. Haskell without any kitchen, child? What do you mean?" asked her mother. "Why, didn't you see?" asked the little girl in a tone of great surprise. "She has to keep all her dishes in the parlor."—Philadelphia Record.

WYATT AIKEN'S GAIN.

SPEAKER CANNOT PROMISE HIM TO LET BILL COME UP.

Appalachian Park Bill will be Considered at This Session—Aiken Secures Cannon's Word for it. (Anderson Daily Mail, Jan. 31, 1908.) Washington, Jan. 30.—Speaker Cannon promised Congressman Aiken last night that he would let the Appalachian park bill come before the house this session. The speaker means that the bill will pass as the sentiment in the house is overwhelmingly in favor of it. The speaker refused to promise more than that the bill will pass as the sentiment in the house is overwhelmingly in favor of it. A very interesting, protracted meeting closed in the A. R. P. Church of this place last week. Rev. D. G. Phillips, of Newberry, S. C., did the preaching. He is the guest of Dr. D. G. Phillips of precious memory, whose name he bears. Very large audiences attended the meetings. A new word was preached with great power and persuasiveness. There were twenty accessions to the Church; these members were drawn into the Church from the town, the College, and the community. The meeting was held in the church of Dr. D. G. Phillips in appreciation of his faithful services on this occasion.
