

The R. M. Company.

"WHERE INNOCENCE IS BLISS."

The R. M. Company.

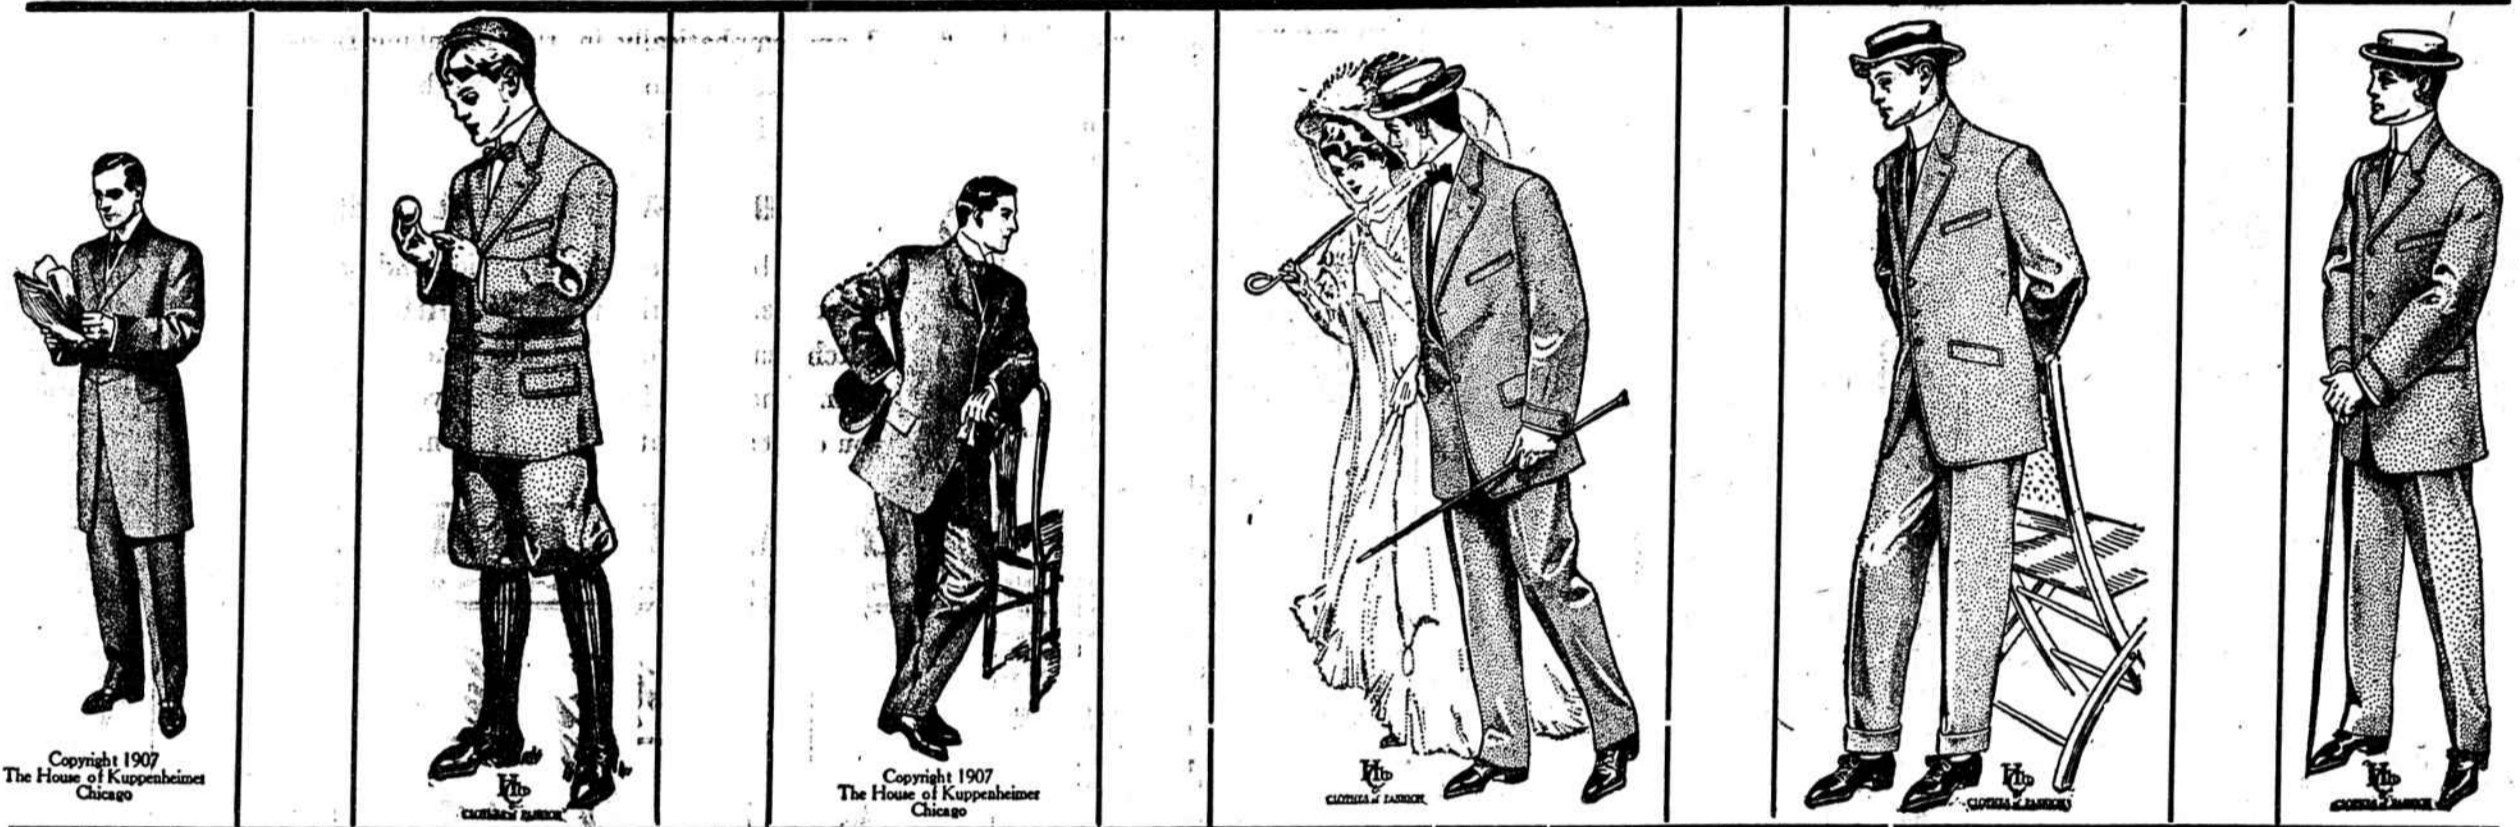

THE Speaker didn't notice his mistake in the above quotation—but his hearers did. It is just so with a great many people in the matter of dress. They are not able to see that the kind of Clothes they wear are unbecoming—not attractive and detracts from their personal appearance, but the good dresser who patronizes can notice at a glance the difference from those who patronize Houses whose Clothing does not measure up to the Hackett-Carhart Standard. Another and important consideration—the Hackett-Carhart Clothes are not any higher in price than the other kind from the other fellow. Bear these facts in mind—they are important to the man who wishes to dress well.

The Rosenberg Mercantile Company

Shoes! — Shoes!

We carry nothing but the very best Shoes, and have them in all styles, hence the matter of suiting oneself from our stock is only a matter of personal taste.

Our Leaders embrace
Hanan's and Howard & Foster's for Men.
Krippendorf-Ditman's for Ladies.
Scheffle's for Children.

Men's Furnishings!

Men's Furnishings is another line of Merchandise on which we specially pride ourselves. We keep our stock replenished with all the newest things that the fashionable young men delight in.

There is no part of Men's dress in which taste varies more than in Hats, but we are prepared to meet these variations.

We have Stetson's in all grades. No Name, not quite so high in price, but almost equal in wear, and fully equal in style. A full line of Straw and Panamas Hats.

❖ ❖ WE ASK YOUR PATRONAGE AND GUARANTEE ENTIRE SATISFACTION. ❖ ❖

The R. M. Company.

The Rosenberg Mercantile Co.

The R. M. Company.