Personal Journalism.

Without reflecting upon anybody, and without assuming to know more than others, we think some of our esteemed brethren of the press side-stepped during the recent campaign.

In these days there are two political parties. It may be right for a newspaper to seek to elect or defeat a candidate, but we are quite sure that a newspaper fails in the proper exercise of its duties as publisher when it becomes the organ of anybody, and it seems to us that the editor who assails character makes a mistake which is apparent and which the best element of the county will not approve. A newspaper, like any other good citizen, should build up rather than tear down. Character is too sacred to be ruthlessly assailed. It is better to build up or to raise the better man still higher than to run the reputation of a struggling brother merely because he is ambitious to hold office. The highest and the best sentiment of the people cannot long approve of a system of character assassination. Better build up or show the better merits of the other man.

It is a mistake for any newspaper to espouse the cause of one candidate to the injury of another.

It is legitimate and right to advocate or to defend a principle, but in making the election of any one a personal matter, the newspaper is obliged to lose in influence and credit. While specific acts of any man may be a proper subject of discussion, yet it is not journalism to assume the role of character assessor.

Another matter. The newspaper that proposes to indulge in personalities lowers his paper in the public esteem, and thereby injures its usefulness. Unnecessarily intermeddling in the race for office creates enmities that may last for a life time, and which intermeddling is gratuitous.

If a county newspaper every two years address new names to its list of enemies, its business and its standing in the community is necessarily injured. The editor of a newspaper, no more than any other citizen, has no right to intermeddle to the extent of personalities. A bully may do these things, but who respects a bully? A bully may be dreaded but what James Gilliam is going to look after you or combat in this respect. For a little item of beef and 1500 lbs of pork. Come everybody and be our guests.

The Expert's Report.

The expert who was employed by the grand jury made his report to the court last week and there seems to be a disposition to pigeon hole the same. While there is a very general enquiry for it yet the authorities have not ordered it to be made public. Except scarcity of money in the treasury is urged as a reason for not giving the public the benefit of the knowledge of the facts of that investigation we have heard no reason assigned for suppressing or withholding the report.

If the grand jury was considering the matter of economy it should not have ordered the investigation, but since the investigation has been made we think the expert should be paid a fair sum for his work.

We have not seen the report of the expert but we assume that there is nothing in the report that would justify the officers in plotting it away where the citizens may not see it.

When there is a bridge down, there is a public demand for its rebuilding, but nobody expects a builder to replace it without being paid for it.

In like manner, if the county has any public building or other reasons of the public for which it is possible that the officers may not desire the publication of the expert's report, we are not informed if there are other than economic reasons for not paying either the expert or the printer, but we presume that there is nothing in the report which should be concealed from the people. Of this the grand jury and the officers, and not we are the judges. To conceal the report is unfair to the officers themselves. As a rule it is not however, safe for public officers to conceal anything.

Come and see your new Court House, Thursday, Oct. 1, 1908. You ought to be proud of it.

Come Everybody.

Home folks and neighbors of adjoining counties; men, women, and children, come out and all join with us in dedicating the new Court House and City Hall. There will be speeches of welcome and the past and present; and all by distinguished orators. A complete program will be published later.

We want you to take dinner with us. Mr. James Gilliam is going to look after you or combat in this respect. For a little item of beef and 1500 lbs of pork. Come everybody and be our guests.

Extra Trains on Seaboard.

The people of Abbeville have noted with great satisfaction the service on the Seaboard effective recently. Including a night train each way passing Abbeville, there are now three trains a day each way. The service from Abbeville to Atlanta and from Abbeville to Norfolk points could not well be improved. Norfolk, Richmond, Washington, New York are now completed in the shortest time possible; and a complete dining and sleeping car service is maintained from Abbeville to New York. Such good service deserves and is receiving the support of an appreciative public.

In a Hollow Log.

It has been suggested that a good place to put the report of the Grand Jury would be in a hollow log in the big woods surrounding De La Howe's grave, during the night time in the dark of the moon.

If those having this matter in charge are determined to hide it put it where a coon hunter can't find it.

It is the custom of that old Roman who wrote his laws in nonpareil, small invisible letters, and placed the same on top of a high pole to prevail?

Christian Missionary.

Mrs. J. L. Presley, of Due West, was the guest of the Misses Cater last week, and those of our people who met her were delighted with her attractive presence. She is the fairest and the youngest looking mother-in-law in the county, whose charm of manner is only exceeded by the grace, beauty, and the sweetness of her Christian heart. Many a preacher and man may work, but as unproclaimed and as modest missionaries of Him who likened himself to the lily of the valley and to the rose of Sharon, no man's work can compare to the work of good women in bringing sin sick souls to the foot of the Cross, where the great Physician may make them whole and where He may whisper to the languishing heart that consolation which He alone can give.

Need a New Thanksgiving Day?

The Anderson Intelligence seem to be opposed to the primary elections. Except for the "cards of thanks" which follow the Press and Banner has no complaint to make of the primary. We would ask the aid of our brother in an effort to have inserted a new Thanksgiving day in the calendar, which shall be on a stipulated day as soon after the election as the candidates may be able to catch their breath.

Big Day in Abbeville.

Mayor McMullan is making great preparations to give the people a great day in Abbeville on Thursday, October 1st, when the corner stone of the City Hall is to be laid, and when the corner stone of the new Court House is also to be laid.

$1000 has been subscribed with which to furnish the material for a hash dinner for all who may come.

All the people of the town will join Mayor McMullan in trying to make it a pleasant day.

An elaborate literary feast has been prepared. Music and a good cheer await all, and the Press and Banner would suggest that the five thousand people can be fed.

Mr. S. S. Boles.

Mr. S. S. Boles of Lowndesville was in Abbeville attending court last week. Mr. Boles has been a figure in the politics of the county for many years. He stands well with the people of Lowndesville and when he appears to them in behalf of a candidate there is something doing. He is always in the best of spirits and has the happy faculty of imparting his good feelings to others.

Dr. Kirkpatrick of Lowndesville was in town this week attending court. He is a good physician, a good man, and a good friend to the Press and Banner in whose office no man meets a heartier greeting.

Dr. Kirkpatrick has prospered greatly since beginning the practice of his profession at Lowndesville. He is held in the highest esteem wherever he is known.

Mr. James Brownlee was in town last week and met many old friends. He is brother of Capt. John E. Brownlee of this county.

Meeting of City Council.

The Regular Meeting of the City Council was held on the 15th inst.

A petition from Hon. F. B. Gary has been presented to the Council asking that cement walks be placed in front of his residence on Greenville street, Mr. Gary to pay half the cost and the city pay half the cost. The petition which was referred to the street committee was reported on favorably.

Councilman from the Fourth Ward, Mr. Henry, introduced a motion to remove the muzzles from a dog on the city.

Those who have had trouble keeping their canines muzzled will be glad to know that they may remove them now.

The Chairman of the Board of Health, Dr. Gambrell, called attention to the bad condition of the city fire house in his report.

The Mayor informed the Council that the arbitrators had agreed on a price for the City Electric Wiring and Machinery; the price agreed on is $1825.34. This is the amount to be paid Mr. W. N. Thomson.

Mr. Hugh Wilson succeeded in finding a motto which admirably characterizes his book "Nothing is so truly believed as what we least know."—Associate Reformist Presbyterian.

But, neighbor, Mr. Wilson is going to try to know what he "believes." He has received two copies of "La Fe Cristiana," and he has found it exceedingly interesting. He could write a very small volume in comment on these two numbers, but he has no chance to print his comments on the same, except in book form, and that is very expensive. If the A. R.'s would give him a chance he thinks he could write interesting paragraphs for his columns while exposing his lack of knowledge. The owners of the Press and Banner are dead opposed to our lectures on foreign missions. And so it is, the light is completely shut off from the people. When Mr. Wilson writes his next books he hopes to be better informed. He expects to subscribe for "La Fe Cristiana" with the view of absorbing all of the interesting facts and funny speeches to be found in that splendid paper. His great regret is that he has no chance to write up his admiration. As in all the missionary literature with which Mr. Wilson is familiar, there is some impressive truth mixed up with much indescribable ludicrousness in "La Fe Cristiana."

Perhaps the "La Fe Cristiana" like Mr. Wilson may have difficulty in securing the names of churches in this case, but we are prompted by personal ethics. Mr. Wilson would gladly lend his subscription list.

Keep the Record Straight.

The Columbia State, in publishing election returns incorrectly, stated twice that Mr. Boggs had actually received 232. In a complete difference of 580 votes does not affect the man who is elected, but in another sense it does. Hundreds of voters who see only this statement are left with the impression that the winning candidate carried his matter by only two votes to one as his matter of fact he carried it by nearly six votes to one.

Are We in a State of Peace?

Nearly every day the newspapers give accounts of the killing of one or more men in the State. If more people are killed in the State, the fact is not so prominently brought out.

Preacher in Politics.

We heard three men say last Monday that they were leaving the churches and members because of their utterances in politics.

When a preacher goes into politics, the danger is, that he will go out of religion.

The Press and Banner requests that each business man in town give a short sketch of himself, his business, clerks, etc. This data is desired for use in a special edition of the Press and Banner to be issued Sept. 30th, 1908.

There is a pretty strong sentiment among the voters of the above candidates and the plan of abusing the other fellow has brought him votes. The Press and Banner hopes to see the day when men may run for office on their own merits and not on the demerits of others.

If preachers dabble in politics their stock of religion may get low.

Miss Marie Cromer, of this town, has just returned from the mountains of North Carolina, where she taught school for a term. She wouldn't tell us of her lovers in North Carolina, but we know that as pretty a girl as she is must have captured enough North Carolina hearts in sufficient numbers to spare a few to throw at the birds in Abbeville.

Mr. J. R. McComb, who has been in Inverness, Florida, for a time, returned to Abbeville last week to carry back with him Mrs. McComb and their pretty little baby. Mrs. McComb is in the Margaret neighborhood. We hope that he may get rich and come back to his old home.

Mr. J. T. Magill was in town Monday. He is from Due West.

The electric lights came on Sunday night on all the boulevards. The power and the light again remain with us throughout the twenty-four hours.

Miss Mimma and Miss Anna Bell of Edgefield are visiting their sister, Mrs. Robert Mabry of this city.

We are agents for the Pittsburg Perfect Fence. The L. W. White Co.

Ozey B. Burnett.

The Memphis Democrat of Texas devotes about four columns of its space to the masterful work of Ozey B. Burnett, who has been farming in the Handshaws of Texas. The paper speaks of Mr. Burnett as the Cotton King. It seems that this is a correct cognomen judging from his marvelous prosperity and success in growing cotton. Mr. Burnett states that his biggest yield has been 255 bushels on 255 acres, though he has made as much as that on less acres.

Mr. Burnett is now the owner of about 1,000 acres of ten hands land, some of which he has just staked off and much of which cost him less than ten dollars per acre. He would not take $75000 per acre for much of his land now. When he moved into that section of the State he had things his own way for neighbors were from eight to fifteen miles apart. It had to be done by demonstration. The cotton, corn and such crops could be successfully grown in that part of Texas. In later years people have moved in and the land known as the land having been demonstrated prices, have gone out of sight.

Mr. Burnett left this county about 18 years ago. He stayed in other sections of Texas for a year or two and moved into the Panhandle about 15 years ago. He was a hard worker and a hard worker in the county.

Mr. Burnett married Miss Elizabeth Ward, of this county. They were neighbors. In all his work this good woman has been his help. She was a hard worker. Her father's heart was even larger than his. His children are like him in this, and too, they have the energy that characterized him to the day of his death.

THE STATE MUST PAY FOR ITS LIQUORS.

Decision in the Dispensary Case Filed.

Judge Pritchard Sustained on Every Point by Federal Court of Appeals.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 15.—The Federal Court of Appeals today filed its decision in what is known as the South Carolina dispensary case. The state loses. Judge Pritchard is sustained at every point.—Anderson Daily Mail.

EAST END.

What "M" Sees and Hears on His Rounds About the City and Along Route No. 3.

Our college girls and boys have left for their respective colleges and the social circles are dull.

The six o'clock evening holidays are over and the clerks have again settled down to work.

Messrs. Frank Henry and Eugene Link are now here on the military department of the A. Smith Dry Goods Company where they are ready to serve their friends with the best of bargains.

The beautiful song by Miss Virginia Gambrell sang in the Methodist church last Sunday morning was well attended and retained the undivided attention of the entire congregation.

Captain G. N. Nickles, while receiving a large and most complimentary vote, mostly comprised retired and gave way to Dr. Carlisle who cast yet received a few more than the other.

Mrs. Vose and her two grandsons, Masters Willie and Walter McDonald, returned last week from a most delightful summer outing on Pawley Island where there were the guests of Colonel and Mrs. E. M. Dear who entertained them in a royal style and with the best hospitality that is characteristic of the Dear family wherever they are known. They also spent some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Osteen, where they had a most delightful visit. Their entire trip and nights were well spent.

Miss Beattie Murray has returned to her home in the city and is ready to be pleased to serve her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hampton, traveling ticket agent for the Seaboard, are in from Atlanta and spent Sunday in the city and during his stay called on his best girl, Miss

The following young ladies left yesterday for Winthrop College at Rock Hill, S. C.: Misses Irene McIlwain, Edna Cox, Benita Lawrence, John Henry, Julia, Edith, McMillen, Beatie Jones and Mary Syfan.

Fern Hill school will open next Monday, Mrs. E. M. Dear, principal.

Mr. Thomson Penney, of Sharon, returned last week to his studies at Wofford.

Mr. John Evans returned last week to Davidson College, N.C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilson were among the visitors in the city last week.

Miss Lella Evans after spending a few days very pleasantly with her home people returned last week to her home in the city.

Miss Lucy Evans left last week for Greer, S. C., where she has accepted a situation as music teacher at the home of Mrs. A. K. Watson and daughters Louise and Belle visited relatives on route 3 last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Able after spending the past week with their father Mr. John Able and family on route 4 returned to the city last Friday looking after the building of a temporary bridge over Live River at Calhoun.

Miss Nellie looking after McGraw's bridge. When we think of the Supervisor's business we wonder what he is doing.

When at the same time and thereby avoid the unjust censure of many people.

Misses Ella and Blanche Smith, two of Abbeville's pretty young ladies spent last week with relatives on route 2.

Mr. and Mrs. David Giam were welcome guests in the city last Monday.

Mrs. L. J. Brown, accompanied by her sister Mrs. Sara Evans, left last week for Marion, Ala., where they will join Mr. Brown who is President of the Marion Female University, in which institution Miss Sara Evans is a member.

Master Paul Knox, one of the handsomest black-eyed boys on route three, entertained a number of his friends on Wednesday afternoon celebrating his seventh birthday. They were a romping merry lot of girls and boys and each was well served. Delightful and fun was the party.

Look Out, Bird Hunters.

Reports are circulating here that parties have been out bird hunting in this county. This is an undoubtedly true because it has been the case from time immemorial.

Abbeville now has a game warden, and the sentiment of the majority of the people stands for upholding the game law. No one is allowed to hunt partridges before the 15th of November in this county.

Mr. Hiram Lawson is game warden, and he expects to see to it that the law is enforced, and further he will be backed by the law abiding people of this county in its enforcement.

No one has a right to break this law any more than he has the right to break any other law. If you go hunting before the 15th of November you are amenable to the law and should be punished.

The Audubon Society has its eyes open. Do you know its members? They are watching you, so look out, hunters.

Abbeville County now has the prettiest Court House in the State. Come Oct. 1, 1908, let us eat and be merry for once.

Sent to Prison for Twelve Months.

Orr Firth, who killed his father and uncle near Mt. Carmel about a year ago, was tried here last week for killing his father. He was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to the penitentiary for twelve months.

Chattanooga Reversible Disc Plow

They Plow "a Comin' and a Coin"

Reversible Disc Plow the most practical and valuable of all disc plows for the average farmer. They work on both hillside and level land, and are too well and favorably known to need extended description. They leave no "water furrows" in plowing terraces, hillside or level land, when doing reversed plowing. Or, they may be used in plowing around land.

They handle more cubic inches of soil with less draft than mold-board plows. They completely turn under stalks, trash and weeds. They break up "hard-pan" and the soil. They leave the ground at bottom of furrow porous and natural. They prepare the soil to withstand either a wet or dry season. They insure better crops than any other method of plowing.

Our Pump Wouldn't Work.

Hon. W. P. Wideman was in town last Wednesday seeing his son Boyce Wideman off to the Bell Buckle Co-educational school in Tennessee. We tried to interview him on the reason for not sending his son to Due West. While he is a fast friend to Due West he wanted his son to be prepared to enter the College which he himself was graduated. He didn't know Mr. Mower, the treasurer of the institution, did not send his children to Due West.

Mr. Wideman said he thought he was for Missions, but he would say nothing now. He would take more time to think over the matter before giving out anything either privately or publicly. In view of the possibility of higher accessions to the Church in Mexico, which increased numbers would involve greater expense and require more missionaries and more teachers, we asked him if he didn't think the increased numbers and increased cost would break up the A. R. P. Church, root and branch. He would know nothing along this line and would not venture an opinion. We then wanted to know if he didn't think it would be cheaper to call our Missionaries home and support them here, rather than to let them remain in Mexico, where the danger is that more Mexicans may join our communion and ruin the A. R. P. Church in this county. He said it would take time for him to study the matter. He didn't want to be quoted in the paper. He was, as usual, as polite and as agreeable as possible, but our pump wouldn't work him.

Whether or not his mind ever becomes clear on the subject of missions, he is as good a man as you could find in a day's journey. When our pump, to see if it will work, then, we now we believe he is wanted in the favor of maintaining missionaries in Mexico. He can quote Scripture to justify the sending of missionaries to the heathen. And we believe he now thinks the Catholics of Mexico belong to that class of the human family.

The Finishing Touches.

The Court House and City Hall are nearly completed. The grounds in front of these buildings are being cleaned and leveled. Painters and carpenters are finishing the buildings.

These public buildings are things of pride and will stand as monuments to the beauty and public spirit of all the people, but more especially to the promoters of the work. Both buildings are as near fireproof as architectural skill and mechanical handwork could make them.

To Mr. Nickles and to Mayor McMullan the people of this generation owe a debt of gratitude.
