SOILING GRAIN.

Early Sowing Important—Make Oat Crop a Specialty.

This is the month to commence grain sowing. Usually there is an inclination to delay till November. This is because the work of gathering cotton is pressing; but this should not prevent the sowing of grain, as one man with a single or double team can accomplish much. The man may be spared from cotton picking, while the others are engaged in this work. It is a mistake to let the sowing of the crop interfere with the important work. It is true there may be rain, injuring the cotton to some extent. But it takes quite an amount of rain to do much harm; and it is never possible to have all the crop picked and housed, when every effort has been made. Some will be exposed to the weather, anyway. It is far better to take time to sow the grain, and the better the preparation given, the more probability of a good crop next year. It is not time to do any extra preparation, then it will do just to plow the seed in, thus breaking the ground only one time. On good soil this will give good results.

Of late years, it has become the practice to plow in especially early. It is better to prevent winter killing. This is the safer way to plant the oat crop. If the harrow can be used best, plowing is what we want, and so a stand assured with less seed. It is best to cover the seed some depth—perhaps two or three inches—whether broadcast or drilled. Do not plant on the poorest land and in out-of-the-way nooks. This would be doing an injustice to yourself, and to the grain. The latter supplement the oat crop, and come at a time when a change is beneficial. At no time is it more important to plow the soil itself in washed areas. It is only the greater benefit than in preparing for fall grain. The tendency is to slight the grain, but just before the winter weather to take firm hold in the ground. As much care should be taken in preparing for grain for the spring-planted crop. It is quite difficult to make enough corn to last the year round. In fact, it is not necessary if grain, particularly oats, is planted.

Many are intending to plant grain this fall; there are many others who are indifferent. These should awaken to the importance of the grain crop—particularly oats. At least two acres of good land should be planted for each work animal. More would be better. Do not plant on the poorest land and in out-of-the-way nooks. This would be doing an injustice to yourself, and to the grain. The latter supplement the oat crop, and come at a time when a change is beneficial. A Sure-enough Knocker.
J. C. Goodwin, of Reidsville, N. C., says, "Bucklin's Arnica Salve is a sure-enough knocker for ulcers. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but that wonderful salve knocked it out in a few rounds. Not even a scar remained." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c. at Speed's drug store.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.

Certain Ingredients That Really Grow Hair When Properly Combined.

Reocin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is a powerful antiseptic and antiparasitic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also create a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rexall's "33" Hair Tonic. If it does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid for it. We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has effected a positive cure in 95 per cent of cases where put to a practical test.

Reall's "33" Hair Tonic is entirely unique, and in every particular better than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better preparation to give you. J. C. Milford & Co.
