GOOD ROADS BY RAIL

TRAINLOAD OF EXPERTS ON EDUCA-TIONAL TOUR.

Shird Train That Has Been Sent Out by the National Association-South to Be Taught to Build Highways Scientifically.

A train of twelve cars, known as the "Good Roads Special," left Washington on the lines of the Southern railway early in November to stop at ten or twelve of the chief cities reached by the system and aid in organizing good roads associations and at the same time give a practical illustration of modern roadmaking. The tour will end Jan. 1.

The train carried a full equipment of roadmaking machinery and a party of eighteen persons, all skilled in the manufacture of good dirt and macadam roads. It is the third such train to be organized through the efforts of the National Good Roads association, one having been sent along the route of the Illinois Central from April to July and a second having traversed the district between Chicago and Buffalo along the routes of the Lake Shore route and the New York Central. Everywhere the meetings have been widely attended and have produced permanent organizations determined to better the country roads of the sectunity of buying from tion concerned.

Mr. Martin Dodge, director of the ofus now at prices that fice of public road inquiries in the agricultural department, and M. O. Eldridge, his assistant, with Mr. W. H. Moore, president of the National Good Roads association, are in charge of the "Good Boads Special." Under their diing more for goods w. Richardson (secretary of the ne W. Richardson, /secretary of the national association, and several clerks when you can buy will undertake to organize in each of the cities visited a permanent good them at McKee's store roads association. To this end they will confer with the mayor and city for less. We will sell council of each city and the officers of its commercial organizations, arrange that a suitable hall shall be hired and obtain the use of ten or twelve teams, as many men and a sufficient supply of crushed stone to construct a length of good road as a sample.

When the train arrives, the engineers will begin at once to build about a mile of dirt road with the teams, men and materials furnished by the locality. They will then surface or macadamize as much of that road as their time will permit. When the practicability of the movement has been thus manifested, the mayor and commercial organizations will unite in a call for a President Moore of the National Good Roads association says of the project:

"The south can have good roads if it will, and the sooner the citizens get together and work alon ganized and practical line these results Just stop and think for will be reached the quicker. There is nothing that will do more to increase the value of virgin lands and advance the development of the rural districts than well constructed public roads. The improvement of the road system will have a wonderful effect upon stimulating the settlement of people on farms, and as these settlements are be-Standard Granulated ing made so will the value of the land increase. "Wherever a city or town is found possessing well made roadways leading therefrom you will find the business of that point is in a prosperous condition. Therefore the citizens of every town in the south will be promoting their own interests if they give this movement their moral and if nec-"It is hoped that every state, county. city and town officer will give this subject of better roads serious consideration and then take the matter in hand immediately and show his constituents that the movement for better roads will receive his utmost consideration and utmost co-operation. "It is universally decided that good roads are what we want. In order to secure them we must pull together, working systematically and on practical lines. This grand tour, planned by the Southern Railway company, is a signal for action. If the states visited are not alive to this and do not avail themselves of the opportunity to secure information rendered by the good roads special train, no one will be at fault except the citizens of the states in which the exhibits are made."
