COMPROMISE ON PROHIBITION?

THERE MAY BE NEW REFERENDUM PROPOSED IN SENATE.

To Let "Wet" Counties Vote-Election Would be Held in August and Counties May Vote to Retain or Abolish

Dispensaries. The State. The whiskey situation in the senate has within the past few days taken into its fold a referendum that is somewhat in the pature of a "middle ground" propositiou. Although it is generally admitted that the local op-tionists have a majority in the upper branch of the legislature, the proposed amendment to the prohibition measare comes from the local optionists of the senate.

There has, however, been no caucus but merely an understanding on both sides that the matter would be acceptable to a majority of the senators. There has not even been a real caucus among the local optionists, but the matter has been discussed by several of them and the proposed plan seems to meet with general favor.

The amendment which will be proposed is to the following effect: Pass the prohibition bill for Statewide prohibition to take effect July 1, take no other. 1909. Then on August 1, 1909, let the counties now "wet" hold special elections for or against whiskey. If the counties, or any one of the counties, should vote prohibition, then let the county dispensary be closed. If the counties, or any one or more of them, should vote for whiskey, then let the county dispensaries remain as they

Monday, weather warnings were received here that the people might prepare for another cold spell, as a cold wave was heading this way and would be upon us Tuesday and Wednesday. Our people were better prepared for it than they were for the one before, but we were agreeably dissapointed, as the weather was only a little cold. "The weather man" will have to come again, when he may be a little nearer to the actual weather conditions.
