LAW HELD INVALID Prohibits Prescriptions and Alcohol in Arts and Sciences.

Federal Judge Decides Against State of Missouri.

CASE AT KANSAS CITY

He Declares That the Court Reached the Conclusion That the Traffic Has Not Been Remunerative After Trial-Road Run at Loss.

Kansas City, Mo .- A notable decision in favor of the railroads was handed down by Judge McPherson, of the United States District Court, in the two-cent fare and maximumfreight rate cases, involving eighteen Missouri lines. The railroads contended that the rates fixed by the statutes of the State were not remunerative, but confiscatory, and asked that the enforcement of the statutes be enjoined. The State brought proceedings to have them enforced.

The maximum freight law involved reductions ranging from two per cent. to forty per cent. on heavy freight in carload lots. The railways secured a court order temporarily restraining the State officials from putting this act into effect, and, on June 11, 1907, Frank Hagerman, of this city, repre-senting the various railroads, petitioned the court to make this order permanent. By mutual agreement and at the suggestion of Judge Mc-Pherson, who desired to have a practical test, the two-cent passenger rate law was put into effect on June 11, 1907, to run three months. At the end of that period both sides agreed to continue the rate in effect, as the results obtained had not been considered sufficient and the law is still being enforced.

After many delays, the cases were finally brought to trial before Judge McPherson. Both sides presented a long array of figures to uphold their claims, some of the most prominent ailroad men and attorneys appearing either as experts or counsel. The final arguments were presented on January 20 last. At that time Governor Hadley, who, as Attorney-Gen-eral, had begun the cases, spoke for the State, Mr. Hagerman made the principal argument for the railroads, and a dozen other attorneys of prominence took part.

The courtroom was crowded with iawyers and railroad men, eager to hear Judge McPherson's decision.

"The question," said Judge Mc-Pherson in his decision, "is whether the traffic wholly within the State of Missouri generally referred to in the evidence as local traffic, can be carried under the freight-rate statute of 1907, and the passenger-fare statute of 1907, at such profit as will give a reasonable return after paying ex-penses upon the investment, or whether such traffic is carried at a loss, or less than such reasonable profit. * * * The court has reached the conclusion that upon this question the statutory rates fixed by either and both statutes are not remunera-

The judge says as to the abolition of passes that the evidence shows the passenger revenue is increased by reason thereof less than one per cent.

Most Drastic Law Ever Put on St ute Books of Any State-Drug Stores Out of Business.

Topeka, Kan .--- Kansas has tak the lead of all the States in absolut prohibiting the sale and manufactu of alcoholic beverages. Govern Stubbs has signed the bill prohibit the sale of liquors for any purpo and it is the most drastic law e put upon the statute books of a State. Druggists are barred fr handling any kind of liquors, a physicians are prohibited from p scribing them for medicine. Alcol cannot be used in the arts a sciences.

At least a thousand drug stores Kansas will go out of business bef June 1, the date for the publicat of the law. Large stocks of lique in storage, in clubs, in wholes houses and drug stores will have be disposed of before the new is takes effect. What will become the great stock of liquors is a prolem.

There are a great many promine Prohibitionists who fear the Leg lature went too far in absolutely p hibiting the sale of alcoholic lique for any purpose, and especially in d nying physicians the privilege of u scribing it in their practice. The advocates are glad that the liqu drug store is outlawed, but they gue that in making the law so swe ing there is likely to be a reaction which would bring with it a reign of the boot-legger, the club and the 'joint," which have scandalized several communities of the State. However, the Attorney General's office does not take this view. In a statement John Marshall, Assistant Attorney-General, said:

"This law is constitutional. The Supreme Courts of several States, of Kansas and of the United States have said that a State may entirely prohibit the manufacture and sale of in-toxicating liquors. This law will be easier to enforce than the old law, because of its simplicity and because of the power placed in the hands of county attorneys and the Attorney-

General. "If the friends of Prohibition and law enforcement will not become panic-stricken, but will stand and present a solid front, Prohibition in Kansas will advance to complete victory in the next two years. We will enforce the law."

EXTRA SESSION CALLED.

President Taft Does Not Mention Taria Revision in His Proclamation.

Washington, D. C .- President Taft issued a proclamation calling for an extra session of Congress on March 15. At the extra session Congress will consider the revision of the tariff, which the Republican party in its platform last year pledged itself to bring about.

President Taft has repeatedly told of his intention to secure the revision of the tariff. In his inaugural address he declared that at the earliest opportunity he would call Congress to meet in special session, at which only the question of the tariff would be considered.

The call does not mention the object for which the special session is called.

One of the industries of Messina was the exportation of sumach-the powdered leaf of the sumach plantthe finest varieties of which grow in Sicily. This is used in tanning goat skins, and sumach gives a clear, white tannage, unaffected by the action of light, and therefore suitable for dyeing into colors where permanence of shade is desired. A genuine "morocco" is goatskin tanned with pure sumach, but there are many upholsterers who could not give this definition offhand. Goatskins dyed with babool nods or similar barks are only imitation moroccos, although it takes an expert to discover the difference. Long wear, of course, reveals the deception.
