Mr. J. Wade Drake, Anderson, S. C. Dear Sir—We have heard that by a liberal use of fertilizers, principally in side dressing, you made seventy bales of cotton on sixty acres of land last year. We will appreciate it if you will give us your method of preparation, fertilization and cultivation which resulted in this crop. We wish which resulted in this crop. Anderson Phosphate & Oil Co., Anderson, S. C. Gentlemen-Answering your favor of the 7th will say that after preparing the land well I put two hundred pounds of fertilizer to the acre before planting. At the second plowing I applied four bundred and fifty pounds more of fertilizer to the acre and when the first cotton blooms appeared I ap-lied seventy pounds of nitrate of soda to the acre. I did this on sixty acres on the sixty acres I gathered sixtyeight bales of cotton, axeraging 511 pounds to the bale. And then, when I thought I had gathered the crop after Christmas, I picked enough cotton to make 712 peunds of lint cotton so it will be seen that altogether I made more than seventy 500-pound bales of cotton on the sixty acres. I cultivated this cotton as I usually cultivate my cotton except that it was fertilized better than usual. A good part of this fertilizer was Anderson Phosphate and Dear Sirs: I have your letter of June 4th, and in reply will say that my experience in side dressing corn last year was as follows: In one field of about 15 acres which I planted in corn I side dressed. On the 10 acres which I side-dressed I made 35 bushels to the acre. On the five acres not side-dressed I made 35 bushels to the acre. It cost me about $30 to side dress the 10 acres; about $30 to side dress the 10 acres; about $30 to side dressed the yield was not over 10 bushels to the acre. It increased the yield at least 25 bushels of corn per acre. I intended side dressing the whole 15 acres but rain came on and line More of Lexington Va. Rev.R. M. Would You Think of Eating Salt Pork Every Day?

Lard is hog fat-so is salt pork. Both are indigestible and often unhealthy. Until Cottolene was placed on the market, people had to use lard for all frying and shortening purposes—they had no recourse. But now there is no excuse for eating lard-soaked pastry and jeopardising your digestion with lard-soaked food. Cottolene is a vegetable product—pure, healthful, digestible. It contains no hog fat. Even a dyspeptic can eat and enjoy Cottolene food without the afterpangs of indigestion. Once give Cottolene a fair trial and you'll banish lard from your kitchen money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S DEMOCRATS.

Keowee Courier, June, 2, 1909. It is really refreshing to waich, even at long range, the course of our representatives in national affairs—at least it is refreshing in national affairs—at least it is refreshing in some instances; provokingly thresome in others. Most enspicuous among the refreshing ones has been the course of Congressman Aiken, of the Third, who has steered clear of entangiling alliances with "the enemy" throughout and has held fast to Democratic principles of merit at all times. with the enemy throughout and has held fast to Democratic principles of merit at all times.

Senator E. D. Smith is shother whose course, though just in the formative stage is keeping a weil to a the main channel of Democratic principles.

This long-drawn-out discussion of tariff issues may result in little or no immediate benefit to the American people as a whole, but if our Democratic Senators and Representhives will stand squarely by their guns as Mr. Smith and Mr. Alken are doing, there will be future greaults beneficial to the whole country and to the Democratic party, which "is not dead, but sleepeth."
