KILLED NEAR DONALDS

MAN OVERCOME BY GAS AND FELL, BREAKING NECK.

Accident in Saluda Copper Mine Near Donalds—Another Man Injured.

(Anderson Daily Mail.)

Donalds, June 24.—A distressing accident happened at the Saluda Copper Mining Company's plant near here here about 4 p. m. yesterday, in which Geo. W. Dickens was killed and Alex Bond was injured. Magistrate J. C. Martin held an inquest last night and it developed the facts that Dickens had done an unusual amount of drilling in the evening and came out after loading three heavily charged holes with dynamite. After the discharge, Dickens, wishing to see the effect of his shots, descending into the shaft and came out safely, reporting to Captain McKee, the superintendent, that the shots were good. McKee asked how he knew. Dickens replied that he had been down. McKee reprimanded him for going down so soon after the blast, as the smoke and gases have to be driven out before it is safe to go in to the shaft, and this requires considerable time.

Capt. McKee ordered the shaft cleared of smoke, etc., and in rigging up for this a net was dropped into the shaft, and although this was not natural, Dickens ordered the men to lower him into the shaft to recover the net. Young McKee remonstrated with him, but he went down anyway. Soon he signalled to draw him up. When about 15 feet from the top of the shaft, he was seen to let go and fall back. Another miner, Alex Cond, immediately descended to the rescue of his friend, accompanied by a negro. They succeeded in getting Dickens out of the water, where he had fallen, and were hoisted out, Bond overcome by the fumes and unconscious, the negro having brought him up. A negro miner named Davis then volunteered and descended, looped a rope around Dickens's body and he was hoisted to the surface, Davis remaining in the shaft till the cable could again be lowered.

Dr. Crawford, who was summoned, found that Dickens's neck was broken by the fall. The coroner's jury found that George W. Dickens came to his death by being overcome by gases in the shaft and falling from the rope. Dickens is a married man and his family, composed of wife and four children, live at Pula-ki, Va. His remains were embalmed and will be accompanied by Capt. McKee to Virginia today.

No blame is attached to the management for this sad accident and

Capt. McKee has shown himself a most sympathetic friend and generous official.

Mr. Bond, who was critically ill last night, is reported out of danger this morning.

A Thrilling Rescue.

How Burt R. Lean, of Cheney, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Dispenser J. E. Jones Gives Some Interesting Facts.

Abbeville S. C., June 23, 1909.
Dear Sir—Will you please answer the following questions:
1st. Why was the per cent. profit greater in 1908 than it was in 1907?
2d. What does it cost to enforce the Dispensary Law under the present system?
—Hugh Wilson.

Abbeville, S. C., June 23, 1909.

Dear Sir—in reply to your request of June 23rd:

As to your first question. We do not believe that we sell any more to Abbeville County than we did 1906. The increase since 1906 has come from Georgia, Greenwood, Anderson and Laurens, and a little from Edgefield County.

As to the difference in profit in 1908 and 1907. In 1908, under the operation of the State Dispensary, a part of the profits were paid out of the State Dispensary profit in both Dispensary and Prohibition counties alike. The net profits from the State Dispensary were increased under county control by reason of the fact, all purchases are shipped direct to County Dispensary.

Since the County Dispensary was established, it has cost Abbeville County for special constabulary, under the direction of the Sheriff of Abbeville County $881.00. The result is that the sum $1,740.00 was paid into the County treasury as fines by violation of the Dispensary Law, and two convicts served terms on the county.

The Element of Interest.
By Waldo F. Warren.

It has been said that there is only one interesting thing in the world, and that is life; and that all other things are interesting only as they bear relation to life.

This undoubtedly explains why certain advertisements make a greater impression which, in addition to the advertised article, contain some suggestion of human life.
