The Lancet says that few who have done some practical work in the pathology of cancer believe that it has analogies with any known form of infective disease.

Libby's Vienna Sausage

is distinctly different from any other sausage you ever tasted. Just try one can and it is sure to become a frequent necessity.

Libby's Vienna Sausage just suits for breakfast, is fine for luncheon and satisfies at dinner or supper. Like all of Libby's Food Products, it is carefully cooked and prepared, ready to serve, in Libby's Great White Kitchen — the cleanest, most scientific kitchen in the world.

Other popular, ready-toserve Libby Pure Foods are:

Coeked Corned Beef Peerless Dried Beef Veal Loaf Evaporated Milk Baked Beans Chow Chow Mixed Pickles

Insist on Libby's at your grocer's.

Libby, McNeill & Libby Chicago

spill or the over, will not soil or injure anything.
Guaranteed effective.
Of all dealers or sent Of all dealers or sent prepaid for 20 cents. HAEOLD BOMEES 150 DeKaib Ave.

The Ignorant Roman.

posed to emigrate to South America. Corso, of the prosperous times he

"'I'll do splendidly there,' he said. sipping his liquor. 'I have a job would enjoy in Quito.

awaiting me at 200 lire a month. "'But, Aragno,' said a friend, 'you'll never be able to stand Quito R's right under the line. The temperature is 115 in the shade.' "'Oh, well,' the emigrant replied,

'very little of my work will be in the shade, you know."-Minneapolis Scamal.

The Mistake of a Night. He saw her sitting in the dark corner and knew that his chance had Noiselessly he stole up behind her, and before she was aware of his presence, he had kissed her. "How dare you?" she shricked.

"Pardon me," he bluffed, readily, "I thought you were my sister."

She stepped out into the light. "You silly fool!" she giggled, "I am!" He fainted.-Cleveland Leader.

A twelve-year-old lad and a younger sister got the better of a railroad company when Henry Horrigan and his sister Helen bought half-fare tickets from Seattle to Portland over the Northern Pacific. Henry weighs 323 pounds and Helen, eight years old, weighs 190 pounds.

Post -Toasties

with strawberries and cream.

A delightful combination that strongly appeals to the appetite.

The crisp, fluffy bits have a distinctive flavour and are ready to serve from the package without cooking. Convenient, > Appetizing, Healthful food.

"The Memory Lingers"

Popular pkg. 10c. Family size 15c.

POSTUM CEREAL CO., Ltd., Battle Greek, Mich.

Wance me an henry beamus stopt before The big frunt windo uv a drigoods store Awl fickst with hansum thigs to ketch the

AWAKENING OF KNOWLEDGE.

Uv wellthy wimmen when there goen by An henry saw a hat awl made uv With buries on fore sum fare ladeys face Markt ateen dollers an be heeved a si An sed that wimmens closs are offle hi Becaws when u bi hats u are not dun With wimmens closs but only just begun

An henry saw an ostritch ploom markt To twenty dollers an a hansum gown ninety sicks an shooze fore ate ar

An gluvs fore sicks an sed no wunder men Are ap too get discurridged when thay tri To saiv a littul munney too an bi The things there wives an dotters want

Felt in his trowsers pockut just to see Wot he kood bi an when he fellt he sed The only thing wood be a spool uv thred.

An aftur henry lookt heez offle bloo An roat to amy joans an sed he noo Thare chance uv getten marrieds offle slim An sed she did not nede to wate for him Az she had promist too not knowen she Wood proov to be so grate a luckshury. An henry sed purhaps if not for this the mite uv heep as improvement us blice. He mite uv been az iggnorunt uz bliss
An neavur lookt befoar he leept uz tho
That marridge was a simpul thing u no.

—J. W. Foley, in Youth's Companion.

������������� PERILS OF BOYHOOD. By RFV. A. M'ELROY WYLIE. *****

Our childhood was spent in the midst of an old fashioned family. that dainty care which surrounds the families in many of our present house holds. Our parents held a great city dren must be brought up in the country. Thirty acres about the house, within walking distance of the village, and an outlying farm, a large portion of it covered with the primeval forest, was thought to be little conditions for the sturdy development of the sons and daughters.

Work there was in abundance, and and wagons, and plows, and harrows, and all the implements known and on that canvas in lurid light, and even large farm.

The lighted candles and lamps anwas not without its perils; colts were wild, and sometimes had to be broken, and horses would sometimes run away, and there was scarce a boy of ness. seven who did not bear marks of the mishaps he had had with animals on

But it was not all work. Our father knew how to recognize a boy's irrepressible demand for recreation and fun: so he permitted us to have dogs and guns outdoors, and musical instruments and some games for indoor

All work, he well knew, makes the lout and degrades to the level of a machine-turns a man's character in- not on the other. "Luigi Aragno, of my native to a hard and bare skeleton; while Rome," said Mlle. Cavalieri, "pro- fun and recreation, in due proportion with work, clothe the bony structure attended and lessons learned, Saturday afternoon was our own. How those closing hours of the week glowed in our anticipations, and the prospect brightened our animal spirits over the entire six days' tasks.

There was the hunting party for to the magnificent forests which approached to within a mile or two of a long tramp to the distant water, which was deep enough to challenge the skill of those lucky youths who had learned to swim.

With what profound admiration we from a distance to attend the institution of learning in the village, and near their homes, and what wonderful feats in swimming, and diving, and floating they could perform. To our youthful minds, that had never seen a river or lake, these beings were looked upon as little short of superup into the majesty of real heroes. We owe it to one of these river reared boys that we are here now to pen this incident.

Indeed, we owe all we have done in life to that sturdy swimmer who had learned his strokes in the Ohio. That Saturday afternoon stands most conspicuous in our memory, and is as yesterday, though it passed, with its incident, far back in the past.

come: our party was formed for a walking excursion some four miles to Than tired eyelids upon tired eyes." a splendid forest, where ran a clear, deep stream. It was a hot afternoon in July. Many were the walking challenges given and taken on the way, and many were the stones shied at the birds, and great was the excitement when a seven foot blacksnake made his appearance, and the party surrounded the creature and gave it battle to the death.

Of course we were all in a red hot glow when we arrived at the bank of the far away stream. The knowing ones warned us we must not plunge into the water while we were so much overheated. What fun in a summer swim beneath the overhanging trees! The run over the moss covered bank, the high leap into the air, the upright position, arms laid close to the sides, the compressed lips, the closed eyes, the shooting into the flood, the shutting off of human voices, the gurgling of the waters, the refreshing coolness of the plunge to the bottom, the strokes downward, the wonderful good town cannot be made in these spring upward, the buoyancy of the waters and the lightness of the body costs money to make a good town, it

But nearly all this we had to learn afterward, and subsequent to the per- wireless stations over its great terriil of that day.

The Ohfo and Mississippi trained boys disdained such a stream as that, and swam from side to side swiftly as ducks across a barnyard pond. But poor we were as helpless chicks, but ashamed of our fear and ashamed of our ignorance of the life preserving art. We moved shy of these good swimmers for for they would drag us into the deeper water and half drown us. They went off to chase each other on the bank at a distance. Now was the time to do a little practicing in safely shallow water. It seems no trouble for a duck to swim, and not much more for a man. Those strokes seem so natural, so easy, surely all one needs to do is to strike just so with the hands, and just so with the

We move out bravely and are amazingly encouraged. How the confidence keeps up when one knows he can drop his feet down and stand on solid ground with his head above water! But who can describe the sensations of one who cannot swim, when he finds himself suddenly beyond his depth! Instantly the bottom drops out of his confidence, all his deliberation vanishes, and all order of movement merges into the wildest beating and splashing of the waters. You gasp for air and swallow a mouthful of water. The body turns to lead, and the more desperate the movement the more helpless one seems. You cry for help and the water fills your mouth and lungs. A whirlwind of confusion sweeps through your brain, you are sinking and all hope is van-There were seven sons and five ishing. In an instant the sensations daughters, and we knew nothing of and thoughts change in view of the certainty of death. New impressions seize the mind. It runs with light. ning swiftness through the entire past in horror. As for them, their chil- life. Every doubtful and every evil act starts forth with more distinctness than the magnified pictures or

That act of disobedience which resulted in the horse running away and breaking your arm is now more enough to furnish scope and right henious than it was then, and the ache in the conscience now hurts more than the ache did in the arm when it was broken. That mean act it must be done-such work as had of revenge returns to give greater to be met with ax, and spade, and pain than the boy suffered when you shovel, and rake, and hoe, with horses thought yourself "even with him." The school quarrels are all pictured letter-telegram system of the teleneeded in a large garden or on a the little tricks to cheat the teacher all reappear to mock at you in that awful moment. You have gone down ticipated the day by several half the second time, and now are sink- Veteran Reporter Takes Occasion to hours in the winter, and in the sam- ing for the third time. A great hormer the early sun was the signal call | ror of darkness drops on the mind to the early labors. Such a life, too, and the senses. You have a faint impression that the crisis has come, and there is a clutching at the hair of your head-all then sinks into dark-the illuminated canvas.

The next is the awakening. You are lying on the bank and faintly, through a rift in the eyelid, _u see boys as trees walking around you, and amid the terrible roaring a the ears you begin to hear tones you rec-

"He's all right," shouts the Ohio

You open your eyes, and you are thankful beyond words that you landed on this side the dark river, and That afternoon dates one of the most impressive of the writer's INe. and it has never been for a day lost His destination was Quito, in Ecua- with muscle and flesh, and puts the from his conscience. Saved! for There, you know, it is very hot. flash in the eye, and the roses in the what! For good and not for evil. It -Luigi boasted one afternoon cheek. If the work was well done would be base and criminal beyond other than "down" when he conseated before his uncle's cafe in the through the week, school faithfully estimate to turn from the right into fessed. He always breaks "down," the wrong after such a signal token

Newspapers and Public Confidence.

One of the magazines is advertising a series of articles on "The Decline of that afternoon, or the ball clue, or the Public Confidence in the Newspaper riding match, or the long excursion Press." If memory serves us well it was Betsey Prig who said of Sairey Gamp's oft-quoted, but rather myththe village. Or, at least, but often the | ical friend, Mrs. Harris, "I don't bebest in the summer, was the party for lieve there's no sich person." We don't believe there's no sich a thing said." Another one is the "inclemas "the decline of public confidence in the newspaper press." There may be a decline of confidence in some journals that have forfeited their looked on those boys who had come claim to public respect by slovenliness in gathering and presenting the news, or by vacillation of insincerity are of course "post-prandial."-From who told of the great rivers and lakes in their support of the ideals for the Editor and Publisher. which they profess to stand, or by pandering to debased tastes; but the press as a whole is holding its ground. Individual backsliders may be readily detected by that reliable indicator, the volume and character of their natural. At the least they loomed advertising patronage. When a newspaper loses public confidence the reputable advertisers are the first to find it out. When it gains in public esteem they are likewise early discoverers of the fact.

Flexibility of English.

The long looked for afternoon had cal. He proclaimed the lines: "Music that gentlier on the spirit lies to be unmatched for melody in any language. And few would venture to contradict such a master of music and tongues. But surely French ranks next on the roll of languages. For clearness of diction it is unrivaled, and, thanks to its abundance of vowels (close on one for every consonant), it flows rythmically from the tongue. Against Wesley's dictum, that French is to German as a bagpipe totan organ, may be cited a saying of another famous divine. Dr. langue, mais ceux qui parlent ce jar- in the "Purgatorio" (XXV. 23) that Dollinger, "L'Allemand n'est pas une gon se comprennent entre eux." he believed in the efficacy of that London Daily Chronicle.

Good Newspaper, Good Town.

The Gaffney (S. C.) Ledger remarks: "A good newspaper cannot be made these days without good aderal concern is the broad fact that a days without a good newspaper. It -all produce tides of sensation which costs money to make a good newsfill to the overflow the boy's cup of paper.

Russia is establishing numerous

The pawnbrokers of Great Britain issue over 190,000,000 pledges a year.

Queens is the largest in size of the five boroughs of New York City. It has an area of 124 square miles.

Broadway, beginning at Bowling Green and terminating at the Yonkers line, is about fourteen miles long.

A wind with a velocity of 100 miles an hour travels at a rate of 148.6 feet per second; 8800 feet per minute. It has a force in pounds of 49,200 per square foot. All animals are terrified by airships. Partridges, quails and other game birds crouch and hide, while domestic fowl utter loud, warning notes the instant they perceive the monstrous bird of prey. The first charter New York enjoyed was granted by King James II., of England, in 1686. It is known as the Dongan Charter. In 1730 King George II. granted another, in which no direct changes were made for one hundred years.

The highest velocity of wind recorded blew at St. Paul, Minn., at the startling rate of 102 miles an hour. The nearest to that was ninety-six miles an hour at North Platte, Neb. The wind once blew in New York City at a rate of eighty miles an hour.

Acting on the idea that a business man, or, in fact, anyone, wili open and read a telegram where a circular would be thrown into a waste basket, many persons who have heretofore used the mails for reaching prospective customers are now using the new graph companies.

NEWSPAPER ENGLISH.

Roast Some Ordinary Specimens. Albert L. Blair, a veteran newspaper man of Brooklyn, recently entertained the Business Men's Associaof Bridgeport, Conn., with a description of the inside workings of the newspaper. During his talk he discussed different phases of the profession, which he declared is one of high calling and second only to the ministry and pedagogy. The reporter, he said, is a necessary nuisance, and is the man who really makes the paper. Many specimens of newspaper English came in for a grilling. Among them was the word "gutted," which he said happened to every house which had caught fire. He said this word had no place in a clean and upto-date newspaper. He also asked why it was that there were so few "fires" in newspapers, why they were always "conflagratious." He wished that some reporter would say that a criminal "broke sideways" or any said the speaker. Again, a man never "says" a thing nowadays, he declared. He "makes a statement," he "states." The bride always "comes in on the arm" of her father or somebody else. I consider that a great feat, he declared, "to be able to carry a woman on one's arm. It is second only to the feat of Byron, who said he stood on the Bridge of Sighs in Venice with a palace 'on' one hand and a prison 'on' the other. Byron was a poet and an athlete, so I believe he did what he ency" of the weather. At a banquet there is always a "bounteous repast to which full justice was done." Whenever I read anything like that I hear a lot of people in a hall gobbling up food. All after-dinner speeches

Dante as a Soxcerer. A correspondent of the Times sends a curiously interesting paper on "Dante as a Sorcerer," based on the recently published documentary records of the processes instituted at Avignon by Pope John XXII. against Matteo Visconti and his son Galeazzo of Milan. The Visconti were charged with having resorted to witchcraft in order to injure the Pope, and Bartolomeo Canholati, the chief witness English is not only, as Richard against them, declared that in an in-Jeffries asserted, the most expressive terview with Galeazzo the latter stated and flexible of tongues, but also, in that he had conferred with Dante. Swinburne's opinion, the most musi- The evidence, which is in Latin, makes no definite charge against Dante. All that Canholati alleges is that Galeazzo had caused Dante to come to him on this business; and the general impression of his evidence is "that Dante had an uncanny reputation for some people, and that Galeazzo may have hoped that he would consent to exert his maleficient powers against a man whom he (Galeazzo) hated." The particular method resorted to in this case was the "subfumigation" of an image, so that as the image was consumed with heat so would the person be consumed 'against" whom the image was made; are we have Dante's own testimony

The Luggage Question. DeLancey Nicoll, lawyer, is always a well dressed man, and abominates vertisers." But what is of more gen- a slovenly appearance. At the Union Club he said of a Westerner one day:

form of witchcraft .- London Spec-

"He has come to New York for a cek and I don't believe he has ought a stitch of luggage with Here Mr. Nicoll smiled.

"Unless, indeed," he added, "he'ttowed something in the large bags e carries in the knees of his trousrs."-New York Tribune.

Concerning Children.

Children are often worried because continually reprove their small ones without reason.

A child should be left alone and its own way without constant direction of a nervous mother.

A boy, for example, enjoys more a few simple toys, and something which his own ingenuity has worked out, than the most elaborate plaything children. Does the average girl recwhich has been bought.

In the same way the little girl will lavish her affections on a misshapen doll, probably made at home, while the most artistic production of the toy shop will lie in state, to be taken up on rare occasions.

Keep children well, clothe them sensibly, let them understand they are to amuse themselves, and don't 'fuss' them .- New York Press.

A Talk to Engaged Girls.

Above everything let your house hold linen be of the best quality and commence housekeeping with a good supply. Pinch in other departments -if you must pinch-but not in this. No part of the furnishings of a house marks the refinement of a woman's character as does the quality of her house linen. It is economical, too, for, although the initial cost is somewhat greater, the wear is more than double. You may darn good napery, but common damask or linen will not | nothing, but don't go back. bear darning; therefore, from whatever standpoint the question is viewed, the result is the same. One to account temperamentally? It will make life easier to live not only for their mothers are too attentive and yourself, but for those who must live with you.

Recipe.

Your

=

The girl who thinks nothing too much trouble to keep in fashion will be allowed to play or amuse itself in not take time/to adjust herself to family rules, dispositions or views.

Half the family troubles are deo to lack of adaptability. There are varied tastes and natures among brothers and sisters, parents and ognize these differences and adjust herself to them?

Not she. She takes the Grant motto of fighting it out on these lines if it takes the rest of her life. Placating, adapting, sinking one's own personality for sake of harmony never occurs to her.

Perhaps a girl has had more ad- are they made out of-oronze or copvantages than her parents. She has per?" been to school or college, has outgrown home life. What results? Instead of adapting herself to ways of the household, biding her time for changes, she frets, grows superior in her manner, drifts away from her family, even is gullty of being ashamed of them.

Why are there so many unwelcome visitors? Lack of adaptability. However odd the customs of your friend's home may seem, accept them as your own, not grudging, carpingly, or with an air of sufferance, but as if born to them. If you don't like them, say Have you gone to live in a new town? The surest way to remain an outsider is not to be quick readjustof the most useful of wedding pres- ing. It is not easy when one has ents is a quantity of house linen, says reached mature years to make new Woman's Life. It will be a substan- friends, to shake down into strange Cream of Potato Soup .- Pare three large potatoes, cut them in quarters and boil for five minutes. Throw off this water and pour on a pint and a half of boiling water. Add one onion whole, and the tops of some celery. Cover and boil until the potatoes are soft. When thoroughly boiled take out the onion and celery and pass the potatoes and water through a sieve. Scald a pint of milk. Blend to a smooth paste one tablespoonful of butter and one of flour and stir it into the milk until creamed; then put in the potatoes. Let the soup boil for five minutes when it is ready to be showy gimcracks which generally if you spend your time lamenting old form the bulk of wedding presents ways instead of adapting yourself to have departed the way of all trifles. new ones.

Judge Has Feminine Staff.

Wis., recently appointed judge of the Federal Court in Porto Rico, will have a staff of feminine asistants. He has appointed four young women to fill important places connected with the judiciary of the island. The appointees and their duties and yearly salaries are as follows:

salary $2000; Miss Nell Colburn, deputy clerk of court at San Juan, salary $1500; Miss Lulu Gross, deputy clerk of court at Ponce, salary $1200; Miss Mary Nimmons, deputy clerk of court at Mayaguez, salary $1200. Judge Jenkins has received over three hundred and fifty applications from all parts of the United States Where this trait is merged into yieldfor these and other posts of which he ing a point of conscience, because The Misses Cosgriff and Colburn have been in Judge Jenkins' employ for some time. Miss Colburn formerly was his stenographer and has held a similar post with United States Sen-

The "dirigible gown," so named be ause it is capable of many evolutions, and at the same time is perfectly safe and exceptionally modest, is ready to make its debut in Fifth avenue to supplant the startling pantaloon creation of last season, and to become the subject of hours of discussion over the tea tables.

Stylish as a walking gown in city or town, the dirigible, simply by unbuttoning here and fastening there, may be changed to a garment of comfort and ease, especially adapted for the golf links, horseback riding or canoeing.

tume establishment in Fifth avenue, the American birthplace of the censored directoire and of the pantaloon. It is made of broadcloth, the upper portion of the garment cut in modest fashion, with three-quarter collar and the skirt on lines which allow, when used as a walking gown, for a neatly fitting front and back. The bottom of the skirt hangs halfway between the ankle and the instep.

It is not very different from any walking gown, except that the front of the skirt is divided, one portion

The Adaptable Girl.

New York Special to Baltimore Sun.

Ask yourself, "Am I adaptable?" This is the secret of much popurarity. It is not clothes nor money nor looks that count so much as the power to adjust oneself to surroundings; in other words, to fit in.

it comes to c.o hes. They will let themselves ort or pinch themselves in, be boned as for a straitjacket or take to girdles, b. concave or convex, hipless or hipped, befrilled or slinky, shuffle their flesh and their organs rials he had bought, "I can't imagine from one point of anatomy to another, anything worse than your paints." plaster the hair or wear innumerable and disfiguring false locks to meet the latest flicker of fashion.

So why not turn this adaptability lie Standard and Times.

John J. Jenkins, of Chippewa Falls, provided she keeps it to herself. Miss Lou Cosgriff, court reporter, has charge.

"Dirigible" Gown Now.

The new creation comes from a cos-overlapping the other and each held in position by stoutly sewed buttons. For the golf links, the polo field, the balloon or the aeroplane the dirigible skirt is quickly transformed, almost before the invitation is ended. The skirt is unbuttoned down the front, and the divided sides are taken in on an angle, much like reefing a sail, thus relieving the weight from the bottom of the skirt and allowing freedom for running of jumping .-

tial help and will last long after the surroundings. It will never be done

The girl who is adaptable will never criticise the customs of the place that is to be her home. She will not announce, "We did so and so in Blanktown." "How queer we never had such a bridge rule at dey don't even let us serve whipped home!" She may disapprove and feel cream."—New York Evening Teleshe can improve as much as she likes, gram.

The adaptable girl does not force her opinions, obtrude her wishes, or become a regulator. She does not groan over past luxuries when fortune takes wing, nor be ever anxious for something that is not at hand.

She may not like circumstances, but she makes the best of them. So Pittsburg Post. doing, she finds them not half so bad as pictured.

It is well not to be too aday others see no harm, to become a nonentity with a mind that wabbles toward the last person, it is not to be desired. Better be a "stand-outer" than a "standpatter" under such conditions .- New York Times.

Afternoon gowns are more or less elaborate.

Tucking is used a great deal on the ight gowns. Swiss fabrics are often worn with colored slip. This season one finds entire coats and wraps of cretonne. The elastic belts, in different widths, are more popular than ever. Many coats have long revers that cross and button below the waist line.

great deal for trimming coats and ered on the instep of the latest silk hosiery. The tiniest of roses are used for trimming caps of muslin or lace for the baby. The shoulder seam on the new shirt waists is much longer than that of last season.

Lingerie embroidered with the all-pervading chantecler is one of the fads of the hour. A box-pleated quilling of net is the finish at the wrist of a pretty sleeve

Ribs of brass as well as of gilt and white enamel are seen in some of the summer sunshades. Separate blouses of black net with seen recently.

lace insertion are worn over an underblouse of white. Exquisite separate blouses are made of the soft crepe printed in the rich Paisley patterns. One of the old fashions that has been revived is the use of oblong gold buckles to trim gowns.

Bathing suits fashioned after either a princess model or the Rus-Women are adaptable enough when sian blouse are favorites this year.

The Relort Direct.

"See here," cried the artist, who had come to complain about the mate-"That's strange," replied the dealer; "don't you ever use your imagination on your painting?"-The Catho-

Slow But Sure. "Fly with me!" her lover pleaded,
As he pressed her to elope;
But his wishez went unheeded,
For she calmly answered: "Nope! Not while 'aeros,' as at present,
Are so apt to plunge and balk;
But," said she, "the weather's pleasant;
Don't you think we'd better walk?"
—Nixon Waterman, in Lippincott's.

In Quiet Company.

Aunt Martha, the short-sighted (after a five hours' wait by the side of the tailor's dummies)-" Well, if this theatre doesn't open soon, I shall go somewhere else."-Sketch.

The Boom.

"That's a fine pair of vases. What "I made those out of rubber, my boy!"-London Opinion.

Mrs. Bronson-"My husband is plain-spoken; he calls a spade a Mrs. Woodson-"So does mine, but f must decline to repeat what he calls the lawn mower."-Life.

"They are talking about transmuation of metals again."

'Well," replied Farmer Corntossel, after what happened to the gold brick I once bought, I dunno but the idea has something in it."-Washing-opposed to corporal punishment?" Waiter-"Yes, sir. Why, mister,

It All Depends. "Do drummers really get business

Depends altoge: 'r upon the cus-

man. "Sometimes I tell funny stories and sometimes I abuse the trusts."- tomer," replied the traveling salesby telling funny stories?"

Three Acts and an Injunctions his frisky comedy?" ion first." 'He gets the inj 'What injunction?'

"The injunction to prevent the police from stopping the performance. -Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Had Yachts of Their Own. McCarthy was boasting of the prominence of his family in bygone ages. "But there were no McCarthys in Noah's Ark," said O'Brien.

was very exclusive in those days and had yachts of their own."-National Monthly.

"No," said McCarthy, "our family

A Great Help. "I look forward to having a great garden this year."

"You do? Bought some new varieties or seeds?" "No, but I've found a man in the neighborhood who owns a wheelbarrow, and that will be a great help."-

Detroit Free Press. Observation.

"Don't you think a man ought to Coarse Russian braid is used a admit it when he is wrong?" "As a matter of theory," replied Senator Sorghum, "I do. But I've ob-The chantecler is found embroid. served at baseball contests that the public would rather see the game go ahead than wait for the umpire to straighten out a poor decision."- Washington Star. Metaphorically Speaking. "What do you think of these new palaces I have been rearing?" asked Mr. Dustin Stax. 'Magnificent," replied the cynic. "Yet," he proceeded, with a visible #### effort to be modest, "this early pomp reminds me that all the world is a stage." 'Right. And the modern tendency ### bad acting." The Simple Life.

is to make up with fine scenery for

A traveler in Georgia observed a oig negro leaning heavily against a fence in the shade of a ccttonwood tree. Drawing rein, he inquired: "Tired, George?"

The negro showed disgust. Tiahed? Who, me? No, suh Ah'm not tiahed. Ah'm a hoain' this yere patch of co'n, an' Ah'm waiting, fol the sun to git down so's Ah kin go home."-Circle.

A Suspicion. "So you lost your watch. Did you report it to the detectives?" asks the friend.

Yes. Just came from headquar ters," answers the man. "Got any suspicions as to who tool

"I didn't have until after the ser geant got through questioning m about it. Now I suspect myself o stealing it."-Chicago Post.

Wouldn't Sound Well. spade. ... Reverse Process.

Visitor-"So this town is strongly