

INTERSTATE FERTILIZERS

APPLYING THEM IS LIKE PLANTING DOLLARS

INTERSTATE FERTILIZERS are made of plant foods, so mixed that the food is available to the plant all through growth. Never is the crop starved. The needed elements are supplied at the right time. The crop is nourished to a full growth.

Therein lies the skill of mixing fertilizers. We make these fertilizers as accurately as a druggist compounds a doctor's prescription. The analysis on every bag is lived up to. There is no guess work—no mystery.

It is but the result of scientific mixing. We must know what are the best sources of plant foods—which are quickly available—which are slower—which are slowest.

It must be known exactly what elements are drawn from the soil by each crop—the amount of plant foods that they require. It would be utter waste to apply certain plant foods upon certain soils for certain crops.

So we have INTERSTATE FERTILIZER for each crop that the South grows. The needed elements are supplied. The fertilizer is suited to the soil and crop.

And that is why INTERSTATE FERTILIZERS are winning prestige everywhere—why they are causing increased yields.

Our booklet would prove interesting to you. It tells of our tested formulas for Southern crops. Write for it to-day and the name of our nearest dealer.

COTTON ADVANCED

SPUR OF BIG DEMAND HAS CAUSED GAIN. MANY EXPECT FURTHER RISE

EUROPE TAKING COTTON

There Has Been a Rush to Get Cotton for January Shipment. The Dry Goods Market is Showing a Gradual Improvement.

New York, Jan. 26.—Prices of Cotton have risen under the spur of a big demand for the actual cotton at home and abroad. The continent has been a heavy buyer in Liverpool. British spinners have been calling freely for cotton and in this country, Europe has been a large buyer. The exports have been large. There has been a rush to get cotton for January shipments, export business having been to some extent held up by the recent severe weather. The Lancashire mills have resumed work on full time and cloths have been in good demand at Manchester. In this country the tendency of the dry goods markets is showing gradual improvement, none the less certain that it is rather slow. In New York, though prices sagged for a time under considerable liquidation, including no little selling by spot houses, there have lately been signs of awakening life and strength which have confirmed many in the belief that the low price of the crop was touched in December and that henceforth the trend will be upward, for the reason that the weight of even a mammoth crop is off the market.

Europe Taking Cotton

Meantime Europe is taking ever the lower grades of cotton at the South with greater readiness, to say nothing of the white cotton which seems none to easy to get. Though the interior stocks are increasing, owing to milder weather at the South the interior shipments keep pace with the increase. All signs, in the estimation of many, point to an insatiable demand from Europe, where spinners are doing a good business and apparently consider themselves fortunate to be able to lay in supplies at current prices after the much higher prices of recent years.

The labor situation at Fall River has cleared up, 20,000 hands have returned to work in Mexico, and at Lawrence, Mass., efforts have been abandoned to secure an early settlement of the strike.

Ginning Report Bullish

The census bureau's total of the ginning up to January 16, of 14,510,000 bales, is nearly 100,000 bales smaller than should be expected. On the other hand, it is still insisted that with the ginning thus far roughly speaking 5,000,000 bales in excess of the quantity brought into sight, it is a hazardous proceeding to start a bull campaign, seeing that this cotton may come on the market with a rush on any good advance. Also, it is contended, recent rains have helped the soil of the South, and even at current prices, there is no likelihood of any decrease in acreage, so that with a soil fortified against drought and another big increase impending, another big crop may have to be faced, especially as recent cold weather is said by a government expert to have disposed of the boll weevil for two years to come. But the sharp demand for the actual cotton, chiefly from Europe, is the dominant figure, conjoined with an absence of selling pressure.

Dynamite Demonstration Postponed

We regret to announce that owing to the weather we will not be able to give the dynamite exhibition which was scheduled for today. The Demonstrators were here yesterday and said it would be impossible to use dynamite after such a downpour of rain.

They wired the DuPont factory, however, and had a reply to the effect that they would give us a demonstration sometime in the month of March, the date to be selected later, which will be announced in these columns.

Madame Sherry.

Muse of the many-twinkling horse, Terpsichore, oh, teach your pets The charms that shine, the grace that glows In rhythms, quavrs and minutes.

No one has as yet headed Mr. W. E. Henley's appeal in his ballad crying for the return of antique dances and written musical play around them. But at any rate, we have declared our independence of the slavery of the waltz. The step is not a very radical one, perhaps, but Madame Sherry, which comes to the open house February 28th is built around a polka. It lives and moves and has its being in it. It will probably die of it, but not for many years yet for the musical play is good enough of its kind to outlast the generation that produced it. This all pervading polka is called "Every Little Movement Has A Meaning All Its Own," and has as charming, catchy lilt to it that you will sing; hum and whistle for many a long day after hearing it sung in "Madame Sherry."
