Rise in Great Stream Predicted. New Orleans, April 19.—With conditions today in the overflowed territory of the Mississippi river in southeastern Arkansas, northwestern Mississippi and northern Louisiana steadily growing worse, the plight of victims who have been rendered homeless by the rush of the waters from the breaks in the levees in those districts is deplorable. Hundreds of these have been cared for at the emergency camps, established along the lines of the levees at various points, but owing to the inaccessi-bility of some of the vrious points there is much suffering due to lack of food. At least 40 small towns have been inun-dated by the muddy waters from the big stream, and it is certain that many more will feel the destructive effect of the most disastrous food in the history of the val-ley.

It is a stroke about in the instory of the var-ley. Two boat loads of provisions wer deliver-ed at Tallulah today. This partly relieved the food situation, as supplies had almosh been exhausted. Every street of Tallulaa is deep under water. Business and traffic in the Yazoo delta, which is being overflowed by the break at Beulah, Miss., are paraculable. Supplies-will be sent to Rolling Fork and Leland as long as those points can be reached. Be-sides the six negroes who were drowned near the Beulah break, it is believed that others further inland have perished. No boats hiave as yet ventured more than two miles dstant, and it will be some time be-fore it is knwn if the list is to be increased. For the first time since the river began fore it is knwn if the list is to be increased. For the first time since the 'river began its advance not a single point except New Orleans reported an increase gauge at 7 o'clock tonight. The rise at New Orleans. three-tenths of a foot, to 20.2 feet, was pro-bably due to the back up of the water be fore a strong wind. Beginning within the next few days, ac-cording to weather bureau forecast, an-other rise will be recorded at Vicksburg and all points south, when the water which are flowing through Dog Tail and Beulah breaks return to the Mississippi through the Red river. The highest floods ever experinced in the latter in Louisiana are expected.

Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey had a last croweded day of this, his last public appearance in the South before the Democratic convention in Balti-more. He arrived accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and his secretary at 1 o'clock this afternoon and held a short reception at his hotel. At 3 o'clock he addressed the stud-ents at Mercer university and at 4 o'clock he appeared before Wesleyan. He was en-thusiasticaly received by the students and faculties of both colleges. Tonight at 8 o'clock he addressed 2,000 people in the city auditorium. His address iasted an hour and travelec well beaten progressive ground. He said that he was not an arch-radical but an arch-conserva-tive striving to restore not disturb recog-nized principles of democratic government. He was well received. The State of South Carolina. New York, April 19 .- Miss Margaret Hays of this city, a survivor of the Titanic, gave still another version of the manner in which Col. Aator met his death. "Col. Astor with his wife came out on deck as I was being assisted into a lifeboat," said Miss Hays, "and both got into another boat. Col. Astor had his arms about his wife and assisted her into the boat. At the time there were no woman waiting to get into the boats and the ship's officer at that He was well received.
