tion.

the heavy-hammer thrower at the U.

C. Broke all records this year, and the world's record on top of it. He's Daylight nodded and went over to

"I'd like to go you a flutter, son, on

The young man laughed and locked

"Hold on," he muttered. "Just one more flutter. I reckon I wasn't just Again the hands locked. It happened quickly. The offensive attack of into defence, and, resisting vainly, his light was dazed. It had been no trick.

the superior skill had been his.

Strength, sheer strength, had done it.

He called for the drinks, and, still arm. It certainly was not the arm he years. The old arm? Why, it would have been play to turn down that young husky's. But this arm—he con-

This laughter aroused him. He joined in it at first, and then his face slowly grew grave. He leaned to-secret. Get out of here and quit

The young fellow flushed angrily,

"Son," he said, "let me whisper a ter from the young men.

ward the hammer-thrower.

drinking before you begin.

hands with him; and to Daylight's as-

that proposition," he said.

was forced down on the bar.

ready that time."

him, placing his own arm in opposi-

SYNOPSIS.

Elam Harnish, known all through Alasta as "Burning Daylight," celebrates his 30th birthday with a crowd of miners at the Circle City Tivoli. The dance leads to heavy gambling, in which over $100,000 is staked. Harnish loses his money and his mine but wins the mail contract. He starts on his mail trip with dogs and sledge, telling his friends that he will be in the big Yukon gold strike at the start. Burning Daylight makes a sensationally rapid run across country with the mail; appears at the Tivoli and is now ready to join his friends in a dash to the new gold fields. Deciding that gold will be found in the up-river district Harnish buys two tons of flour, which he declares will be worth its weight in gold, but when he arrives with his flour he finds the big flat desolate. A comrade discovers gold and Daylight reaps a rich harvest. He goes to Dawson, becomes the most prominent figure in the Klondike and defeats a combination of capitalists in a vast mining deal. He returns to civilization, and, amid the bewildering complications of high finance, Daylight finds that he has been led to invest his eleven millions in a manipulated scheme. He goes to New York, and confronting his disloyal partners with a revolver, he threatens to kill them if his money is not returned. They are cowed, return their stealings and Harnish goes back to San Francisco where he meets his fate in Dede Mason, a pretty stenographer. He makes large investments and gets into the political ring. For a rest he goes to the country. Daylight gets deeper into high finance in San Francisco, but often the longing for the simple life nearly overcomes him. Dede Mason buys a horse and Daylight meets her in her saddle trips. One day he asks Dede to go with him on one more ride, his purpose being to ask her to marry him and they canter away, she trying to analyze her feelings. Dede tells Daylight that her happiness could not lie with a money manipulator. Daylight undertakes to build up a great industrial community. He is insistent that she marry him and ye a husky all right all right." arm and looked at it as at some new perplexity as to bring a roar of laugh-

CHAPTER XVIII.

When the ferry system began to run, and the time between Oakland and San Francisco was demonstrated to be cut in half, the tide of Daylight's terrific expenditure started to turn. Not that it really did turn, for he promptly went into further investments. Thousands of lots in his residence tracts were sold, and thousands of homes was being built. Factory sites also were selling, and business properties in the heart of Oakland. All this tended to a steady appreciation in the value of Daylight's huge holdings. But, as of old, he had his hunch and was riding it. Already he had begun borrowing from the banks. The magnificent profits he made on the land he sold were turned into more land, into more development; and instead of paying off old loans, he contracted new ones. As he had pyramided in Dawson City, he now pyramided in Oakland: but he did it with the knowledge that it was a stable enterprise rather than a risky placer-mining boom.

Work on Daylight's dock system went on apace; yet it was one of those enterprises that consumed money dreadfully and that could not be accomplished as quickly as a ferry system. Not content with manufacturing electricity for his street railways in the old-fashioned way, in power-houses, Daylight organized the Sierra and Salvador Power Company. This immediately assumed large proportions. Crossing the San Joaquin Valley on the way from the mountains, and plunging through the Contra Costa hills, there were many towns, and even a robust city, that could be supplied with power, also with light; and it became a street-and-house-lighting project as well. As soon as the purchase of power sites in the Sierras was rushed through, the survey parties were out and building operations begun. And so it went. There were a thousand maws into which he poured unceasing streams of money.

In the spring of the year the Great Panic came on. The first warning was when the banks began calling in their unprotected loans. Daylight promptly paid the first of several of his personal notes that were presented: then he divined that these demands but indicated the way the wind was going to blow, and that one of those terrific financial storms he had heard about was soon to sweep over the United States. How terrific this particular storm was to be he did not anticipate. Nevertheless, he took every precaution in his power and had no anxiety about his weathering it out

And in the end, when early summer was on, everything began to mend. Came a day when Daylight did the unprecedented. He left the office an hour earlier than usual, and for the reason that for the first time since the panic there was not an item of work waiting to be done. He dropped into Hegan's private office, before leaving, for a chat, and as he stood up to go,

"Hegan, we're all hunkadory. We're pulling out of the financial pawnshop as you can notice it. But let me tell in fine shape, and we'll get out without leaving one unredeemed pledge behind. The worst is over, and the that I'd sure give it all, right here on end is in sight. Just tight rein for : couple more weeks, just a bit of a pinch or a flurry or so now and then. and we can let go and spit on our

For once he varied his programme. Instead of going directly to his hotel, he started on a round of the bars and cafes, drinking a cocktail here and a cocktail there, and two or three when he encountered men he knew. It was after an hour or so of this that he dropped into the bar of the Parthenon for one last drink before going to dinhe was in the most genial and best of | tered it. spirits. At the corner of the bar seveval young men were up to the old trick of resting their elbows and attempting to force each other's hands down One broad-shouldered young giant never removed his elbow, but put down every hand that came against him. Daylight was interested. "It's Slosson," the barkeeper told (Copyright, 1910, by the New York Herald Company.) (Copyright, 1910, by the MacMillan Company. The hand that had made the Circle refuse to marry a money-slave with whisky-rotted carcass.

He got out of bed and looked at himself in the long mirror on the wardrobe door. He wasn't pretty. The old-time lean cheeks were gone. These were heavy, seeming to hang down by

His Arms Went Out and Around Her.

their own weight. He looked for the lines of cruelty Dede had spoken of,

and he found them, and he found the harshness in the eyes as well, the eyes that were muddy now after all the cocktails of the night before, and of the months and years before. He looked at the clearly defined pouches that showed under his eyes, and they shocked him. He rolled up the sleeve of his pajamas. No wonder the hammer-thrower had put his hand down.

Those weren't muscles. A rising tide of fat had submerged them. He stripped off the pajama coat. Again he was shocked, this time by the bulk of his body. It wasn't pretty. The lean stomach had become a paunch.

The rigid muscles of chest and shoulders and abdomen had broken down into rolls of flesh. And this was age.

Then there drifted across the field of vision of his mind's eye the old man he had encountered at Glen Ellen, coming up the hillside through the fires of sunset, white-headed and white-bearded, eighty-four, in his hand the pail of foaming milk and in his face all the warm glow and content of the passing summer day. That had been age. "Yes siree, eighty-four, and spryer than most," he could hear the Next he remembered Ferguson, the little man who had ruttled into the road like a rabbit, the one-time managing editor of a great newspaper, who was content to live in the chapar-cured fruit trees. Ferguson had solved a problem. A weakling and an alcoholic, he had run away from the doctors and the chicken-coop of a city.

and soaked up health like a thirsty sponge. He sat down suddenly on the bed, startled by the greatness of the idea that had come to him. He did not sit long. His mind, working in its customary way, like a steel trap, canvassed the idea in all its bearings. It was big-bigger than anything he had faced before. And he faced it squarely, picked it up in his two hands and turned it over and around and looked at it. The simplicity of it delighted him. He chuckled over it, reached his decision, and began to dress. Midway in the dressing he stopped in order to Dede was the first he called up.

ing." he said. "I'm coming out to see

"Don't come to the office this morn-

He called up others. He ordered his motor-car. To Jones he gave instructions for the forwarding of Bob and Wolf to Glen Ellen. Hegan he surprised by asking him to look up the deed of the Glen Ellen ranch and make out a new one in Dede Mason's

"Dede Mason," Daylight replied im-perturbably-"the 'phone must be indistinct this morning. D-e-d-e M-a-s-on.

Half an hour later he was flying out to Berkeley. And for the first time the big red car halted directly before the house. Dede offered to receive him in the parlor, but he shook his

"In there," he said. "No other place

As the door closed, his arms went out and around her. Then he stood with his hands on her shoulders and head and nodded toward her rooms

"Who?" Hegan demanded.

use the telephone.

you for a moment."

name.

Got it?"

would suit.

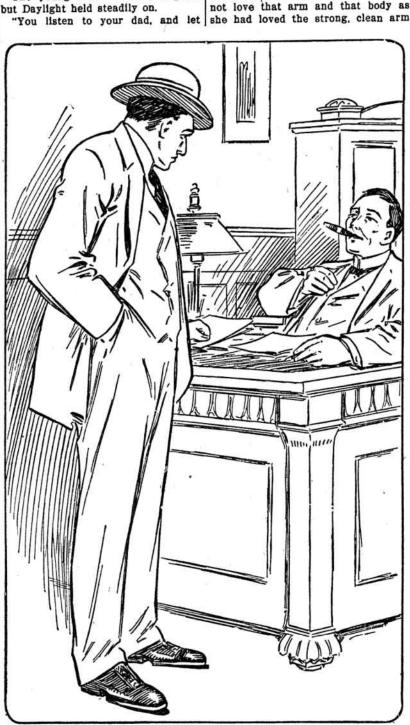

old man say.

City giants wince! And a kid from college, with a laugh on his face, had put it down-twice! Dede was right. He was not the same man. The situation would bear more serious looking into than he had ever given it. But this was not the time. In the morning, after a good sleep, he would give it consideration.

CHAPTER XIX.

Daylight awoke with the familiar parched mouth and lips and throat, took a long drink of water from the pitcher beside his bed, and gathered up the train of thought where he had left it the night before. He reviewed the easement of the financial strain. tonishment it was his own hand that Things were mending at last. While the going was still rough, the greatest dangers were already past. His mind moved on to the incident at the corner of the bar of the Parthenon, when the young athlete had turned his hand down. He was no Daylight's muscles slipped instantly longer stunned by the event, but he was shocked and grieved, as only a hand was forced over and down. Day- strong man can be, at this passing of his strength. He had always looked The skill was equal, or, if anything, upon this strength of his as permanent, and here, for years, it had been steadily oozing from him. As he had diagnosed it, he had come in from undazed and pondering, held up his own | der the stars to roost in the coops of cities. He had almost forgotten how strange thing. He did not know this to walk. He had lifted up his feet and been ridden around in automohad carried around with him all the biles, cabs and carriages, and electric cars. He had not exercised, and he had dry-rotted his muscles with alcohol. And was it worth it? What did tinued to look at it with such dubious all his money mean after all? Dede was right. It could buy him no more than one bed at a time, and at the same time it had made him the abjectest of slaves. It tied him fast. Which was better? he asked himself. All this was Dede's own thought. It was what rhe had meant when she prayed he would go broke. He held up his offending right arm. It wasn't the same old arm. Of course she could not love that arm and that body as

"We're Pulling Out of the Financial Pawnshop in Fine Shape."

him say a few. I'm a young man my- | and body of years before. He didn't self, only I ain't. Let me tell you, like that arm and body himself. A several years ago for me to turn your young whippersnapper had been able hand down would have been like committing assault and battery on a kindergarten.

Slosson looked his incredulity, while the others grinned and clustered around Daylight encouragingly.

"Son, I ain't given to preaching. This is the first time I ever come to the penitent form, and you put me there yourself-hard. I've seen a few in my time, and I ain't fastidious so you right now that I'm worth the devil alone knows how many millions, and the bar, to turn down your hand Which means I'd give the whole shooting match just to be back where I was before I quit sleeping under the stars and come into the hen-coops of cities | used for school purposes alone utilizes to drink cocktails and lift up my feet and ride. Son, that's what's the matter with me, and that's the way I feel about it. The game ain't worth the candle. You just take care of yourself, and roll my advice over once in a of more than $30,000,000 every year.

while. Good night." He turned and lurched out of the place, the moral effect of his utter- the summer months into children's ner. By this time all his being was ance largely spoiled by the fact that playgrounds and places of amusement pleasantly warmed by the alcohol, and he was so patently full while he ut- and to make them the center of recre> hotel, accomplished his dinner, and serve many purposes, oftentimes even prepared for bed.

> down easy as you please. My hand!" He held up the offending member and regarded it with stupid wonder. | tioned for which school plants should gone back on himself. He had gone back on Dede. She was right, a thousand times right, and she had sense enough to know it, sense enough to

to take liberties with it. It had gone back on him. He sat up suddenly.

No, he had gone back on it! He had (TO BE CONTINUED.) New Use for the Schools looking down into her face.

Plan Is Put Forward to Utilize Some of the Sixty Per Cent. Waste Time.

The American school plant is valued at more than $1,000,000,000, and as but thirty-nine per cent. of the time which could be given to the needs of National Magazine, represents a total loss of school plants to the country

An active movement is now taking place to turn school property during ation, of political and social life, the Still in a daze, Daylight made to his same as in country places, where they for church services. "The damned young whippersnap-per!" he muttered. "Put my hand door sports, folk dances, civic and educational meetings and gymnastic exercises are among the things men-The hand that had never been beaten! be utilized. It is proposed by some to have the schoolhouses opened every day of the week, Sundays included, so that the community may get the greatest possible benefit from them.

If this movement grows pupils will no longer find after vacation a musty smelling deserted building, but rather one which has been in use every day the community. This, according to the in the year by those who love to give the public every possible advantage of the buildings provided for public purposes.

Other Things.

Braggs-There are still other things than money even in this dollar chasing age. Waggs-Good! That's fust what I'm looking for. Let's grab them and form a trust. Braggs-But I was referring to such things as a clear conscience and self-respect. Waggs-Doesn't matter at all. It will read all the better in the prospectus when we come to sell the stock.

INCREASE SHOWN ASSESSMENTS

REPORT IS MADE BY THE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

PROTESTS WERE CONSIDERED

Total Value of Cotton Mills, Oil Mills and the Fertilizer Factories of the State of South Carolina For Taxation is $31,970,255.

Columbia. - Comptroller General Jones announced the reduction on assessments of cotton mills, oil mills and fetrilizer factories as found by the state board of equalization at a sidered.

The following reductions were an nounced for the cotton mills: Calhoun mills, Calhoun Falls, reduced from $500,000 to $450,000; Langley Manufacturing Company, Langley, from $875,000 to $800,000; field, from $140,000 to $120,000; Monoghan mills, Greenville, from $1,050,facturing Company, Newberry, from $15,000 to $10,000; American Press Cloth Company, Columbia, from $29, 000 to $25,000; Granby cotton mill, Columbia, from $900,000 to $850,000; Chesnee mills, Chesnee, from $300,000 to $280,000; Drayton mills, Spartanburg, from $587,500 to $560,000; Fort Mill Manufacturing Company, Fort Company of Columbia with a capital

Mill, from $200,000 to $156,000 Farmers' Oil and Manufacturing Company, Blacksburg, from $15,000 to $10,000; Tyger Shoals Milling Com- The company will conduct a general pany, Wellford, from $30,000 to $20,-000; Due West oil mill, Due West, has been issued to the Jenkins Exfrom $33,000 to $24,000; Allendale Cot- press Company of Columbia with a ton Oil Company, Allendale, from capital of $5,000. The petitioners are $60,000 to $30,000; Fairfax oil mill, E. A. Jenkins, C. G. Guignard and Fairfax, from $20,000 to $15,000; Wil- G. A. Guignard. The company will kinsville Cotton Oil Company, Wil- do a general trucking and transfer kinsville, from $10,000 to $8,000; Wal- business. A charter has been issued terboro Cotton Oil Company, Walter- to the Kilgore-Elwell Company of boro, from $27,000 to $26,000.

Charleston, from $350,000 to $150, ply business. The officers are: E. F. 000; Tidewater Fertilizer and Storage Company, Port Royal, from $20,- L. A. Kilgore, treasurer. A commis-400 to $15,000; Read Phosphate Com- sion has been issued to the Saluda pany, Charleston, from $330,000 to Cemetery association of Saluda, with

South Carolina To Make Fine Showing Pitts. South Carolina will make a fine showing at Seattle within a few weeks for when the National Electric Light Association meets there far its thirty-fifth annual convention from Among the new candidates are W. R. June 10 to 14, the state will be repre- Davis, H. L. Johnson and J. B. Hollasented by an imposing list of men day for county supervisor, while the who make life brighter for everybody. incumbent, R. E. McFaddin, announces Included in the South Carolina mem- that he will not be a candidate for bership are the Anderson Water, another term. Archie I. Barron for Light and Power Company, the Char- clerk of court, E. B. Gamble for sherleston Consolidated Railway, Gas and iff, P. H. Stoll for solicitor, E. J. water and his hand-reared and mani- Electric Company, the Columbia Browne for superintendent of educa-Railway, Gas and Electric Company, tion and H. C. Padgett for coroner are the Darlington Light and Water Com- all announced for re-election, while pany, the Florence Electric and Util- John L. Johnson is a candidate for the ity Company, the Georgetown Elec- office of coroner. Only two canditric Company, the Spartanburg Rail- dates have announced so far for the way, Gas and Electric Company and house of representatives, Joseph H. the Sumter Lighting Company.

Gives Decision In Important Case.

In the United States district court Judge Smith handed down his deci- Charleston county executive comsion in the Columbia case of Edward mitte will call the organization togeth-H. Titus against the Granite Brick er probably within the next few days, Bank and Trust Company, which has since the day of the memorable dual attracted some general interest, the convention has not been definitely demotion having been made for a temporary injunction restraining the issue and execution of a mortgage. of the representatives of all the Demo-Judge Smith signed an order, enjoining mortgage of its property.

Severe Storms Visit Chester County. Chester county was visited by a terrific rain storm and in the Hazelwood section it appears to have spent its fury. At the latter place hail came down in such fusillades that over much of the territory visited by the proceedings of the body, which has storm there will have to be a complete replanting of the crop.

Civil Service Examination June 1. Civil service examination will be held at Camden June 1 to select three their intention in standing the exami-$50 a month, but will be increased at the end of the year.

Railroad Schedule To Be Aired.

The question of the schedule on the Northwestern railroad will be aired Sumter in the near future, the commissioners having written they will be here for that purpose. The schedule has been giving a great deal of tion was received by the commission, now is, the petition coming from the Summerton end of the line.

A New Chapter in Arson Case. A sensational chapter was added to the charge of arson against Allendar Gosnell, charged with the burning of W. J. Gibson's home, when four children lost their lives January 28, when arson. Brown is said to have confessed to a local magistrate and B. A. Wharton, deputy insurance commiscase for some time, saying that he house.

HARDWARE MEN'S MEETING

Proper Entertainment to be Given the Visitors-Called Special Meetto Consider Arrangements.

Charleston .-- Visiting hardware dealers of the two Carolinas, here in Convention next month, may be given an excursion trip around the harbor in the steamer Sappho. This was one of the plans discussed for the entertainment of the hardware men by several local hardware dealers, who met at the Chamber of Commerce to plan for this Convention, to which about 350 visitors are expected. To complete arrangements for this convention a general meeting of the hardware men of the city is called at Shrine Hall, corner of King and Wentworth streets. At this meeting, in pursuance of action taken, Mr. E. H. McIver made a report as to details of these entertainment plans, based upon investigations made. Mr. McIver was appointed chairman of the committee which conferred, and will be in possession of meeting when the protests were con- facts which he will lay before the hardware men as a basis of action in planning to give the visiting hardware men a good time.

The annual convention of the hardware men of the Carolinas will be held here June 11, 12, 13 and 14. The Isle Brogon of Palms will be the place of meeting mills, Anderson, from $498,900 to and general headquarters of the Con-$425,000; Beaver Dam mills, Edge- vention, and here, in the midst of the surf bathing, the sea breezes and the general gayety of the island season, 000 to $960,000; Piedmont Manufac- they will discuss hardware and other turing Company, Piedmont, from $1, appropriate subjects. They will also 320,000 to $1,120,000; Ashley Manu- give careful attention to the various exhibits-that is, the exhibits of hardware which will be set up for their inspection by various hardware manufacturers of the country.

South Carolina New Enterprises. The secretary of state has issued a charter to the Elmwood Development of $6,000. The officers are: Frank H. Gibbes, president; Albert E. Douglas, vice president, and W. A. Clarkson. real estate business. A commission Charleston, with a capital stock of Combahee Fertilizer Company, of $2,000, to do a general builders' sup-Elwell, president and secretary, and a capital stock of $1,000. The petitioners are B. W. Crouch and J. W.

> Several New Candidates Announced. Several new candidates have been announced in Clarendon county. Burgess and R. D. White.

Politics in Charleston County. Chairman Henry W. Conner of the Company and the Columbia Savings but the time for the first meeting termined, and it may be even longer than a week before the first meeting cratic clubs of the county. When the meeting is held it will include, of course, not only the members of the organization reported upon by the coi inittee on credentials of the Barnwell convention on May 6, but also of the clubs which sat on the opposite side and refused to give their creden that they are meeting with a hearty tials or otherwise participate in the now had its status established as the legal and proper convention.

Want Commission Form. The Charleston Community club proposes to get active at once on the mail carriers. J. Blakeney Zemp, the matter of a commission form of govassistant postmaster, is secretary of ernment for Charleston. It is prothe civil service commission of this posed to test the views of all candidistrict, may hold the examination, dates who may offer for the legisla-Not only will there be many contest- ture and work to defeat all who may ants for the examination from Cam- be opposed to the new form of adminden, but several persons from other istration. The candidates who meet sections of the state have signified the requirements will, of course, be that day canvass the city and county. supported by the members of the club. nation. The carriers salary will be The idea of the club is to secure the passage of a bill at the next session of the legislature.

A Negro Detectives Shot and Killed. A negro detective, Sam Washington was killed at New Sumter. New before the railroad commissioners in Sumter is the village around the C. M Betts company lumber plant, about four miles east of Sumter. Another negro, L. J. Jefferson, was shot and dangerously wounded. Lewis Little, offense, and there was, therefore, no dissatisfaction since it was changed the negro who did the shooting, escaplast February, and the commission ed. Washington had been working up person in this county to be sentenced has ordered it changed back. A peti- blind tiger cases and had a warrant for the arrest of Little. He went to fine. He served notice of appeal to to allow the schedule to stand as it Little's house and arrested him. the supreme court, and pending the When they reached the door Little hearing bail was granted in the sum shot the detective.

> Young Man Killed By Live Wire. Chester Foster, a young man of 18

WARRANT TO GREEN

THE STATE PAYS TWENTY DOL LARS A DAY FOR BERKLEY COUNTY WORK.

DETECTIVE OF GOVERNOR

The Expense Account as Itemized by Col. L. M. Green Was Accepted by Comptroller General Jones-The Statement Has Been Issued.

Columbia. — Comptroller General Jones issued a warrant for $360 to L. M. Green, lieutenant colonel on the staff of the governor for 31 days' service as a special detective of the office of the chief executive. The account was itemized by Col. Green and was accepted by the comptroller general. On April 15 Col. Green filed an account with the comptroller general for $203 for one months' service. Of this amount $105 was for expenses and $100 salary. The account was turned down by the comptroller general on the grounds that it was not itemized according to law. Col. Green on May 13 filed a second account for $360 which was accepted because the dates of the service were given.

In his first account. Col. Green charged the state of South Carolina $30 for investigating the Olar lynching. In his second account he charged $60. According to the expense account of Col. Green he spent five days in Berkely county from May 6 to 10 for which he received $100 or $20 per day. In his first account submitted Col. Green charged the state $18.50 for investigating the Tolley-Mudrow-Cheshire affair in Anderson and in the second account this investigation was put down at $20. The report shows that Col. Green received on an average of $10 a day for his work as a detective. The services were rendered between March 18 and May 10.

Executive Clemency Granted Two. Columbia.-The governor has granted a pardon to Henry Gilliam, who was convicted in Newberry in 1903 of murder with recommendation to mercy and sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary. Major Green, alias William Green, who was convicted at Orangeburg in 1899 of murder and sentenced to be hanged, but whose sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by. Gov. McSweeney, was granted a parole. Since assuming office the governor has extended clemency in 368 cases.

Are Working For Record Crop. Florence.—The farmers of this county have joined heartily with R. E. Currin, the county agent of the farm demonstration work in the corn and cotton contests for this year, and they are working hard for a record crop with everything in their favor so far, exe pt the late start Crops ordinarily look well, clean and well advanced, considering the late start. Mr. Currin is also planning for a corn show that will be preparatory to the big corn show this fall, and will have a good committee of business men to help him out in the enterprise.

Both Legs Cut Off By Street Car. Greenville.-J. J. Moore, a 60-yearold man, had both legs cut off by the motor car, which operates between Greenville and Anderson. He is not expected to recover. Moore alighted from a street car at the point, where the Pendleton street line crosses the tracks of the Columbia & Greenville railway. He started down the railway toward the Augusta street station and was run down by the motor car on its nightly trip to Anderson.

Gaffney Wants Veterans Reunion. Gaffney.-A movement was started to secure the state reunion of the Confederate veterans for Gaffney this year, and steps were taken looking toward extending an invitation to meet in Gaffney in August. Those who are agitating the matter, state spirit of co-operation on every hand, and indications now are that Gaffney will be able to invite the veterans to come here.

A. Whirlwind Campaign.

Newberry. - The corporators and commitee having the matter in charge have decided to make a whirlwind campaign for raising the necessary funds to build and equip the Newberry County hospital. It was decided to procure the amount in one day, and for that purpose a hospital day will be named and committees will It is hoped to have the stock all subscribed within the next ten days, and to have the hospital in operation by the middle of November.

To the Road For One Year.

Barnwell.-Mace Jeffcoat, a white man, was sentenced to one year at hard labor in the penitentiary or on the chaingang, having been found guilty of storing whiskey for an illegal purpose. This was his second alternative of a fine. He is the first without the alternative of paying a of $1,000, which was furnished.

A Remarkable Convention

Columbia. - The State Democratic years, was killed on Main street near | Convention that has just adjourned the centre of the town by a live wire was one of the most remarkable gathwhile he was assisting in swinging a erings that has been held in this state cable of the Southern Bell Telephone in many a year. It was conspicuous Henry Brown was arrested charged company for which he was working, because of the unusual evidence of with being accessory to the charge of The electric light wires and the tele interest in the political situation and phonecables run on the same pole the high character of the delegates. The young man was up on the cable Men who have not for years taken any about midway between two posts part in political affairs made the sacsioner, who has been working on the and 30 feet from the ground when rifice of attending the convention and reaching round to get some instru the personnel of the convention was was present when Gosnell fired the ment out of his belt he touched a decidedly above the average in this