"Is it good or bad?"
"Well," said Jim, "I don't want to do the man no injustice, but I will say that if his neighbors were to see him looking as if he was dead 'they would want some corroboratin' evidence before they would be willing to bury him."

Jewels in a Flower-Bed.
The recovery of a quantity of stolen jewelry from a flower-bed was described at Kingston-on-Thames police court the other day, when a general servant was charged with theft from her mistress, a resident of Ivydene, Southborough-road, Surbiton, London. The lady had missed a pearl pin and a pearl and diamond ring. Thinking she might have lost the jewels in the street, she issued printed notices offering a reward for their recovery. When she lost a number of other things she placed the matter in the hands of the police. The detective said that from what the prisoner told him he searched the garden, and in one of the flower-beds found some of the jewelry. The rest he found in the prisoner's bedroom.

The KITCHEN CABINET

TRIFLES LIGHT AS AIR.
During the warm weather desserts are more fitting that appeal to the eye and are so light that they do not tax the digestion. Most people, especially those of the masculine gender, feel that they have had no dinner if they are deprived of a dessert. It behooves the cook to see that a dessert appropriate to the meal is served.

Company Apples.—Pare and core eight apples. Arrange in a baking dish, fill the cavities with apple jelly and chopped raisins. Cook until tender, basting with sugar water and lemon juice. Ten minutes before removing from the oven decorate with quarters of almonds blanched.

Snow Puffs.—Cream a half cup of butter, add a cup of sugar, two and a half cups of flour, a half teaspoonful of salt, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a half cup of sweet milk. Beat well and fold in four stiffly beaten whites. Steam forty-five minutes in buttered cups. Serve with strawberry sauce.

Italian Cream.—Soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatin in a fourth of a cup of cold water, scald two cups of milk, cool and add the yolks of three eggs well beaten, a pinch of salt and a fourth of a cup of sugar; cook until thick, add the gelatin, chill, and as the mixture thickens the whites of three eggs well beaten. Mold and serve. Any flavoring may be used, coffee, canton ginger, chocolate or fruit juices.

Bavarian Cream.—Soak two tablespoonfuls of granulated gelatin in a third of a cup of cold water, dissolve in a fourth of a cup of hot cream; add a half cup of sugar and the whip from a pint of cream when the mixture begins to thicken. Do not stir, but cut and fold in the cream. Flavor with vanilla and mold.

Chocolate Junket.—Melt an ounce of chocolate (a square), add three tablespoonfuls of boiling water. Crush a junket tablet and dissolve in a tablespoonful of cold water. Warm a quart of milk until just like warm, add a fourth of a cup of sugar and a teaspoonful of vanilla and the melted chocolate and junket, and pour into serving cups.

MEMORY JOGS.
Plain walls are best for a small room and a good background for pictures.
Dates stuffed with left-over icing flavored with lemon juice, are a most acceptable sweetmeat. Good for the lunch box.
If you have a faded paper, with no red or runny colors, a coat of calcimine over it will make a fresh wall decoration.
Plain white cheesecloth with a strip of some color to harmonize with the room makes most dainty curtains for a bedroom.
Left-overs cannot be carelessly seasoned and be at all palatable. They need more careful seasoning than do the fresh dishes.
If you have an unsightly fence or building, cover it with the wild cucumber vine. It will grow in sun or shade, and is a graceful vine, adding beauty to any place.
Don't throw away a little left-over boiled frosting, as it can be kept soft if set in hot water. A few nuts and raisins chopped added to it and drop on wafers, bake to a light brown, and you have a nice little cake to serve with a cup of tea.
Did you ever notice that we usually do the things we want very much to do? We are bound to find time for them. Are you house-cleaning and the violets in bloom? Just keep in mind that dirt we always have with us, but violets come but once a year.
Keep an eye out for the delicious mushroom, learn a few and have a dainty dish served at least once a week. Early in May the bonny little caps appear with their frills of pink and lavender, and they last until the freezing frosts of the autumn.

She was awarded $1,000 damages from Wintjen.

Cipriano Castro is Seriously Ill.
Washington.—Cipriano Castro, ex-President of Venezuela, the man who defied all of the world powers and turned their ministers out of his capital, probably has come to the end of his activities. According to reports he is lying very ill at Tenerife, where he had taken up his residence to be near his own country in the hope of some day leading a successful revolution. His illness is of such a character as to make it highly improbable that he will ever again be able to play a part in world politics.

CASTLE OF ST. ANGELO NOTED
Known as Tomb of Hadrian—Scene of Torture of Beatrice Cenci.

Rome.—Nearly everyone is familiar with the famous head called "Beatrice Cenci," said to be by Guido Reni, and with the story of that ill-fated family as it is presented in Shelley's play. The beauty and virtue of Beatrice have become a popular tradition; but we are now told by certain iconoclasts that the famous painting is not of her, that it is not by Guido Reni, and that the lady was neither beautiful nor virtuous. The poor tradition has not a leg left to stand on, but the fact does not spoil the pleasure of readers in Shelley's drama, nor of sightseers in viewing the room in which the unfortunate Beatrice is said to have been tortured. That room is in the Castle of St. Angelo, otherwise known as the tomb of Hadrian, in Rome. This famous mausoleum, one of the oldest landmarks of the Eternal City, has been greatly changed since its erection more than seventeen centuries ago. The original structure is almost hidden by fortifications that have been built around it; the cone of earth, which once crowned the top, planted with evergreens, has given place to a gilt angel sheathing a sword; and the interior has been stripped not only of works of art that adorned it, but of much of the very material used in its construction, that material having been utilized for other buildings.

Castle of St. Angelo.

In 1500 the tomb was connected with the Vatican by a subterranean passage. A photograph of the castle of St. Angelo, as it is now called, showing also the Tiber, the bridge that gives approach to the tomb, and the dome of St. Peter's in the background, illustrates this article. St. Peter's the largest Christian place of worship in the world, and the Mecca of pious pilgrims from all over the globe, has also undergone various transformations since the early days when it succeeded an old basilica located on the same spot. It was built at first on the pier of a Greek cross, which was changed later to a Latin cross and shifted between these two forms twice more before being left in its present form. It is not seen to full advantage at close range, on account of its great dimensions; but the picture accompanying this article gives an excellent effect of the stately and impressive dome.

PERKINS WANTS PUBLIC TO KNOW WHY WICKERSHAM SUIT WAS HELD UP.

MAKES ANSWER TO HILLES
The Trust Magnate Believes That Taft and His Managers Should Come Clean With the Whole Affair—The Statement is Given Below.

New York.—Publication of all correspondence relating to the prosecution of the International Harvester Company was suggested by George W. Perkins, the New York financier who, upon his return to New York, issued reply to the statement given out at the White House by Charles D. Hilles, secretary to the President. The statement reads:

"I have read Mr. Hilles' version of the Harvester matter and fail to find anything in it that in the remotest degree answers my letter of April 29 last, to Chairman McKinley. If Mr. Taft and his managers had at any time meant to be fair and square and frank with the public in this matter, they would have complied with the Senate's recent request and published in full all that has taken place in regard to the Harvester Company during the Taft administration, especially during the last twelve or eighteen months.

"The public is being deluded daily with the Taft version of how Mr. Roosevelt held up Mr. Bonaparte's suit against the Harvester Company and why; but great care is being taken to keep from the public all knowledge as to whether or not Mr. Taft held up Mr. Wickersham's suit against the Harvester Company and why. Full publicity regarding the whole affair would enable the public to form its own judgment and reach its own conclusion. It would also show what Mr. Hilles regards as proper favors for a private secretary to a President seeking renomination, to ask from the officers of a corporation threatened with prosecution by the self-same President.

Town of Melville is Inundated.
Baton Rouge, La.—The town of Melville, threatened since the present flood began, was inundated when the levee on the west bank of the Atchafalaya river 16 miles north, broke. Captain Logan, in charge of the United States rescue corps dispatched the steamship Minnesota with a barge to Melville to bring away those inhabitants who desired to leave together with their live stock and household goods. Lieutenant Edwards was ordered to Opelousas to assist Captain Bennett.

RIVER IS FALLING AT ALL POINTS

THE SITUATION SOUTH OF ODENBURG CRITICAL ACCORDING TO REPORTS.

THE RELIEF FUND GROWS
Ten Towns Are Under Several Feet of Water From Last Break—Morgan City is Flooded—Rescue Work is Still in Progress.

New Orleans.—The Mississippi river continued to fall at all points from St. Louis south and reports received at the office of the United States engineers here concerning the levees were favorable.

The situation along the Atchafalaya river south of Odenburg, the scene of crevasse, are critical according to reports and relief boats were dispatched to the newly inundated section to rescue the endangered people and livestock.

Besides Odenburg and Woodside, which are already under water, the following towns will be inundated by the crevasse:
Neita, Bayou Current, Elba, Rosa, Palmetto, Richard and Bodoc, Melville, the largest town in that section, already is covered by water from 1 to 3 feet deep and will be flooded by the waters from the Odenburg break to a depth of from 4 to 8 feet.

Most of the women and children had been taken out of that country. A decided surprise was occasioned when the back water from the Atchafalaya entered the outlying section of Morgan City and reached a depth of three to five inches in some of the business streets.

More than a hundred refugees from the country south of Odenburg have reached Opelousas. Many of them expressed fears that relief boats would not reach some of the marooned persons in time. A large number of gasoline boats were sent to this section from Opelousas and additional rescue forces will be dispatched.

Capt. C. O. Sherrill, chief of the army engineers, who has 1,300 men at work on the Hymelia crevasse, 35 miles above New Orleans, reported that the work was progressing satisfactorily.

Mexico City.—The cavalry and vanguard of General Huerta's division was on the heights of Anasco, 5 miles north of Escalon fighting the advance guard of Orozco's army, according to information obtained from President Madero. The rebels, he said, were being dislodged.

Stores in Melville Flooded.
New Orleans.—Reports from Melville state that every store in the town has water over the floors and the indications were that before the water from the Alto crevasse, on the Atchafalaya, begins to recede on a few residences will be dry. Remaining families are moving into the second stories of their dwellings. Many Melville storekeepers built elevated walks in front of the places, but the rising flood floated these away and the only means of travel is by boat.

ROOSEVELT SEEMS TO HAVE MAJORITY

SOME OHIO DISTRICTS STILL IN DOUBT AND MAY REQUIRE OFFICIAL COUNT.

HARMON WINS OVER WILSON
Senator Dixon, Colonel's Manager, Claims 44 Out of 48 Delegates to Chicago Convention—Result in Ohio Practically Ends Fight.

Columbus, O.—With little more than one-third of the total vote in the state counted, Colonel Roosevelt's delegates on the Republican ticket and Governor Harmon on the Democratic preference ballot led Ohio's first presidential preference primary. The fight on both tickets was so close, however, that complete returns may change final results.

Complete returns from slightly less than two thousand precincts of 5,192 in the state showed that Colonel Roosevelt's delegates had a lead of more than 15,000 votes. Governor Harmon's lead over Woodrow Wilson was considerably less than this. The closeness of his race with Wilson was indicated by late reports from Cincinnati, Governor Harmon's home city. Here the Ohio Governor, who had been well in the lead in the early returns, was shown to have 1,954 votes and Wilson 1,904 in 120 precincts out of a total of 361.

A peculiar situation developed in the compilation of the results. This showed that while Colonel Roosevelt had a lead of 15,000 in the total number of votes cast for delegates pledged to him, the vote by districts would be such that he probably would not have more than twenty-two of the forty-two districts delegates to the national convention at Chicago. But while the Democratic presidential vote was so close, the result could not be foretold, the indications were that Governor Harmon would have at least 22 or 24 of the delegates to the Baltimore convention. The privilege of naming the six delegates-at-large of the state, however, is carried by the winner of the presidential preference vote.

Of the congressional districts, Colonel Roosevelt, apparently, has won delegates in the fourth, sixth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, fourteenth, fifteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth and twenty-first districts. President Taft practically has been granted the first, second, third, probably the fifth, seventh, eighth and thirteenth districts.

Richeson Pays For Crime With Life.
Boston.—The misshapen body of Clarence V. T. Richeson, who was executed for the murder of a cast off sweatshirt, claimed by a brother, Douglas, and taken to Amherst courthouse in Virginia for burial. Before the young murderer's body was turned over to the brother, it was placed under the county physician's knife for the legal autopsy. That the brain of the electric chair's victim will be given to a medical college is denied by officials. The execution of Richeson is declared to have been the most successful in the death house.
