MCCORMICK
McCormick, S. C., Mar. 15, 1915.
The Furman Glee Club and Orchestra will give an entertainment here on Saturday night, March 27, under the auspices of the McCormick Tennis Club.
Messrs J. B. Harmon and F. C. Robinson attended court at Edgefield the early part of last week.
Miss Benzie Talbert returned to her home here last Wednesday after visiting friends and relatives in Graniteville.
Mr. Raymond Stilwell is at home from Wofford College for a few weeks vacation.
Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Sturkey, of Plum Branch spent a few hours here last Thursday.
Miss Ruby Roberts spent a few days in Evain last week.
Mrs. L. L. Rankin and little daughter, Lois, are visiting relatives in Greenwood.

RUN OVER IN GREENWOOD
Hartzog and Goodwin in Second Race for Mayor.
Greenwood, March 9.—Special: As a result of to-day's city primary, A. S. Hartzog and E. R. Goodwin will have made a second race for the nomination for mayor of Greenwood. The vote to-day was as follows: Hartzog, 280; Goodwin, 211; P. W. DeVore, 190; F. S. Evans, 118.
J. W. Coleman was elected alderman in Ward 2, J. E. Crymes in Ward 3, and J. B. Harris in Ward 5; L. M. Long in Ward 4. P. B. Ellis and C. Bourne run over in Ward 1. T. J. Anderson and J. P. Hill run over in Ward 6.

At the Opera House, March 18th.
The heartiest laugh that has burst upon the amusement world for a long long time, is George M. Cohan's mystery farce, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," which is to be seen at the Grand Opera House, on Thursday night, March 18. It is as redolent of the gifted George M. Cohan as an American flag is full of freedom. In it the mind is vollied from situation to situation with such force and speed that one has to stop thinking once in a while to catch up with one's self.
Mr. Cohan's recipe for a happy eveninb is a recipe for the brochures of the universe. In his prescription the author has mixed with exact proportions mystery, thrills and laughter, with a sweetening dash of love as a tribute to Cupid, the result being a tonic which may be taken with remarkably beneficial results.

BURFORD VS. SEABOARD.
The Supreme Court of South Carolina filed an opinion in the case above named on last Tuesday, in which the judgment of the court below was affirmed.
Clark Burford, the plaintiff, commenced his action against the Seaboard Air Line Railway for injuries claimed to have been received at the Abbeville Ice Plant several months ago. He claimed that he was unloading coal and that while he was engaged in unloading a car the switch engine of the Railway came down for the purpose of doing certain switching and that he was injured while the cars were being switched, due to the negligence of the defendant. The defendant claimed that the plaintiff, by remaining on the cars while they were being switched, became a trespasser and that it was not liable to him even if negligent.
The case was tried before Judge Bowman, and a jury at the October term of the court and the plaintiff was not suited. He appealed to the Supreme Court and the judgment of the lower court was affirmed, as stated.
Hon. Wm. N. Graydon was attorney for the plaintiff and Wm. P. Greene was attorney for the defendant.

Coming!
Talk about your plays with a punch, Seven Keys to Baldpate," the George M. Cohan's mystery farce, which comes to the Grand Opera House on Thursday night, March 18, goes the punch several times better and furnishes a kick with an accompanying ripple of thrills and long rolls of laughter thrown in for good measure. Also "Seven Keys to Baldpate" lives up to its sub-caption, "a mystery farce" for its audience is continually on the guessing line from the remarkably original prologue until the very end of the piece, when it is furnished with one of the biggest and heartiest laughs that has been turned loose in a playhouse in many a year.

His First Case.
Judge Hammond had his first case last week, a case against the Southern Railway, for damages to a shipment of household goods. The jury found for the defendant, but the Judge granted a new trial. J. H. Moore represented the plaintiff, and J. Moore Mars, the defendant.

Common Mistake.
Miss Genevieve Clark, the Speaker's daughter, is noted in Washington for her clever ideas and her clever speeches, says the Star.
One of her recent clever speeches enlivened a Bowling Green tea. An unhappy marriage was being discussed. Miss Clark said:
"It is another of those cases where a man, in love with a dimple, makes the mistake of marrying the whole girl."

PROMINENT PYTHIAN HERE.
Capt. C. D. Brown Coming Back to Attend Memorial Service. (Charleston News and Courier)
Capt. C. D. Brown, grand keeper of the records and seals of the Knights of Pythias of South Carolina was in the city yesterday and accepted in person the invitation which had been extended him to be present on the occasion of the memorial services, to be conducted by the Knights of Pythias, at the Academy of Music on April 11.
Capt. Brown is among the most popular members of the Order in this State. This is evidenced by the unanimity with which he is each year elected to the office he holds.
For ten years he has been the official keeper of the records and seals, and in that capacity looks after the wants of the individual members of the Order in many and sundry ways, besides the onerous and often perplexing duties of scribe of the Grand Lodge. He is especially well known and popular with the Knights of Pythias of Charleston, counting his friends here by the hundreds.
Capt. Brown reports the Order as flourishing throughout the State. The finances are in better shape than they were this time last year and there has been no diminution in the membership of the Order.

Proof Positive.
It was the rush hour in the cafeteria, one of these quick lunch places where you help yourself and grab a chair and use the arm of the chair as a table. A rushed feeder grabbed a slice of pie and copped out a chair. Then he remembered that he needed coffee and he dashed over to the service counter. When he returned with his coffee his chair was occupied by another hurry-diner.
"Excuse me," said the first man. "but that is my chair."
"How do you know it is your chair?" demanded the occupant in a surly tone.
"Because I can prove it," stated the first man.
"How can you prove it?" asked the occupant.
"By the seat of your pants," was the reply. "You are sitting on my pie."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Obedient Tommy.
"Now, Thomas," said the teacher severely. "how many times must I tell you not to snap your fingers? Put your hand down and presently I will hear from you."
Five minutes later she said: "Now, then, Thomas, what was it you wanted to say?"
"There was a man in the entry a while ago," said Thomas serenely. "and he went out with your new silk umbrella."—New York American.
Mr. Germany.
"Is your maid trustworthy?"
"Trustworthy? Why I even give her the key to the bread box."

HOW FRENCH PEOPLE CURE STOMACH TROUBLE

A household remedy of the French peasantry, consisting of pure vegetable oil, and said possess wonderful merit in the treatment of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles, has been introduced in this country by George H. Mayr, who for twenty years has been one of the leading down-town druggists of Chicago and who himself was cured by its use. So quick and effective is its action that a single dose is usually enough to bring pronounced relief in the most stubborn cases, and many people who have tried it declare they never heard of anything to produce such remarkable results in so short a time. It is known as Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and can now be had at all leading drug stores. It is sold with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.

"By Word of Mouth."
One of the Texas bottlers has for his slogan. "Drink from the bottle!" It is by no means disagreeable, even if it does lack formality, but those who do their swigging that way should observe the rule of 15 swallows to the minute and a gurgle to every gulp.—Houston Post.

"Coal and diamonds are really made of the same substance."
"Well," replied the young woman who typewrites, "I'll take the diamond, I don't care for the carbon copy."—Washington Star.

SAVING YOUR COLLARS

This is the machine we have just installed to launder your collars. It is the most modern machine made. We dampen the edge so that it folds easily and then mould it in a steam chest so that it has a round, smooth edge and ample space between the outer and inner edges to permit the tie to slip easily. This saves wear and tear on your collars and gives you that set and finish which is desired and admired. Phone us to call for your next bundle.
