BARKSDALE-BUNDY.

Miss Elizabeth Barksdale and Mr. John Denham Bundy, of Monroe, N. C., were happily married Thursday, September 2nd, at high noon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Barksdale, on North Main street. Rev. Louis J. Bristow, pastor of the bride, performed the ceremony, only the immediate family and a few friends being present.

The Barksdale home was beautifully decorated with pot plants and cut flowers and in the hall Miss Winona Barksdale, sister of the bride served delicious punch. The ceremony was performed in the front parlor, where an altar was arranged with pedestals, on these were placed two brass jardiniere filled with Maiden-hair ferns.

The bride, who was unattended, was beautifully gowned in a going-away dress of blue broadcloth, with hat, gloves and shoes to match. Her bouquet was composed of brides roses, lilies-of-the-valley and ferns. Mrs. Bundy is the second daughter of Mr. W. D. Barksdale and is a young woman of many charms, and her friends regret that her marriage will take her away from Abbeville.

After a trip to California, Mr. and Mrs. Bundy will make their home in Monroe, N. C., as Mr. Bundy is connected with the S. A. L. Railroad at that place.

A six course luncheon was served to the family and the following out-of-town guests: Hon. and Mrs. J. K. Durst, Mr. and Mrs. William Durst and Master J. K. Durst, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Durst, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Graham Payne and Master John K. Payne and Thomas Durst, of Greenwood, Mr. Frank Griffith, of Monroe.

The friends of the young couple wish them much happiness and prosperity.

FATALITIES MARK HESPERIAN ATTACK.

The loss of 26 lives is the probable result of the attack on the Allan liner Hesperian which officers, crew and passengers say was the victim of a torpedo. The body of one woman, who died of shock is at Queenstown. The others are missing.

The Hesperian lies at the bottom of the ocean only a few miles from the spot where she was stricken.

Official information regarding the cause of the explosion, which tore a great gap in the side of the steamer, is lacking. The judgment of Washington is in abeyance pending complete information; the British admiralty has not made public the report of the Hesperian's captain, and Berlin is silent, not having any reports from submarines operating in that vicinity.

Ae Berlin dispatch says no indications of apprehension over any possible effect the incident may have on German-American relations are apparent.

Along the battle fronts the situation is as it has been for weeks past. The Germans evidently have been unable to follow up to any great extent their success in driving the Russians across to the right bank of the Dvina river near Friedrichstadt. Farther south, however, the armies of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, Prince Leopold of Bavaria and Field Marshal von Mackensen continue to advance.

The Russians in eastern Galicia are disputing the attempt of the Austrians to push them across the border into Russian territory. East of Lutsk the Austrians finally have made their way across the marshy district.

Rome tells of encounters between Italian and Austrian infantry in which it is asserted the Austrians were compelled to retire.

Two additional British steamers have met with disaster, either by torpedo or mines.

APPLAUD PRAISE AND BLAME ALSO

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Prolonged applause greeted William J. Bryan during his address before the national convention of the Friends of Peace today when he said:

"I want you to be thankful that this country's president loves peace and is trying, with every means at his disposal, to preserve our country's peace."

Shortly before the delegates had cheered Congressman Henry Vollmer of Iowa when he attacked the administration for permitting shipments of war munitions from America to Europe.

Before adjourning the convention instructed its officers to make known to President Wilson and congress the purposes of the Friends of Peace as embodied in resolutions adopted at the morning session.

The resolutions, styled "a new declaration of independence," made no formal demand for an embargo on war munitions, but declared for the freedom of the seas to all commerce, including that with all belligerents, and it opposed the manufacture of death dealing implements for profit.

The officers also were instructed to draw up bills embodying these principles for presentation to the next congress.

The best applause gathered incident of the convention was when Jeremiah A. O'Leary of New York, one of the speakers, called the Rev. G. C. Berkemier, a German-American delegate, and the Rev. J. H. S. Somerville, an Anglo-American delegate, to the speakers' stand and requested them to clasp hands as a visible refutation of charges that the convention was a pro-German gathering.

Mr. Berkemier, a Lutheran minister, clasped Mr. Somerville, an Episcopal rector, in his arms and kissed him on both cheeks. The audience burst into frantic applause.

Mr. Bryan confined his address to a discussion of the ethics of warfare, the necessity, as he described it, of the United States keeping out of the present trouble, and of the duties of citizens in doing all in their power not to endanger the country's peace. Jeremiah O'Leary of New York denounced the administration for not placing an embargo on exportations of war munitions to Europe.

"When President Wilson put his foot down on the plan of an embargo he performed an act that involves oppression and tyranny," he said. "If it had been a question of placing an embargo on the shipments of munitions from America to Germany and if England had made a protest you can be sure that the pro-English press in this country long ago would have convinced the president of the propriety of an embargo."

TWO WEDDINGS OF INTEREST.

Two weddings of interest throughout the State were solemnized in Lebanon Presbyterian church, Abbeville, S. C., on Wednesday, September the 1st, at 12 o'clock, noon.

The contracting parties were Miss Leilah B. Evans and Mr. Manly C. Sanders, of Greenville, whose ceremony took place first, followed immediately by that of the younger sister, Miss Mary Margaret Evans and Mr. J. M. Harden, of Rome, Ga.

The church, with altar enclosed by a tiny fence of white, having two gates in front through which the bridal parties entered, was tastefully decorated with ferns, evergreens and clematis. The color scheme was prettily carried out in the lighting of the church which was effective by the use of pink and white candles.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Miss Ada McMillan, who presided at the organ throughout the two ceremonies, the first bridal party entered as follows: two tiny flower girls, Sarah Evans and Jenrose Pressly, of Abbeville, daintily dressed in white lingerie frocks, wearing pink sashes and large butterfly bows on their hair. They carried baskets of cut flowers and held the gates open for the rest of the bridal party. The ushers, Messrs Pettigrew Evans, brother of the bride and Grier Sherard, both of Abbeville, came next, taking their place on either side of the altar. They were followed by the two bridesmaids, Misses Mary Smith, of Abbeville, and Sarah Coble, of Pelzer, who wore dainty white lingerie dresses, pink sashes and large leghorn hats trimmed with pink roses carrying bouquets of pink roses. Next came the two maids of honor, Miss Annie Reid Evans, youngest sister of the bride, wearing pink taffeta and carrying white roses, with Miss Sarah Evans, cousin of the bride, wearing pea green silk crepe with lace trimmings and carrying pink roses. The bride, dressed in white crepe de chine with trimmings of chiffon and real lace and with veil held in place with valley lilies, carrying a shower bouquet of brides' roses and valley lilies, entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Chas. S. Evans and proceeded to the altar where the groom, who entered at the side door with his best man, Mr. H. Calloway Mims, of Greenville, awaited her. The impressive ring ceremony was used, being performed by the Rev. J. B. Hillhouse, pastor of the bride, during which the Flower Song was played softly. The bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Miss Ruth Cannon, of Hartsville, sang very sweetly and feelingly D'Herlot's 'Because, between the two ceremonies, being accompanied by Miss McMillan.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March the second bridal party entered in the following order: Messrs Frank E. Harrison, Jr., and Albert A. Morse, James H. Sherard and W. Joel Smith, all of Abbeville, taking their places on either side of the altar. Next came the bridesmaids, Misses Esther Graydon and Mary Lawson Link, Mary Smith and Mary Quarles Link, of Abbeville, wearing dainty white lingerie dresses, pink sashes, leghorn hats, with trimmings of pink roses and tulle streamers which were caught at the wrist with velvet, and carried bouquets of pink roses. The maid of honor, Miss Nellie Harden, sister of the groom, came in alone, going to the left side of the altar. She wore a dainty dress of pink taffeta with lace trimmings and carried white roses. Following the maid of honor, came the dame of honor, Mrs. J. L. Ferrell, sister of the bride, going to the right of the altar. She wore a handsome dress of lavender crepe de chine, made with bolero and trimmed with plaiting of same and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Last, before the bride, came the little flower girls, Sarah Evans and Jenrose Pressly, carrying baskets of roses and scattering them in the pathway of the bride. The bride, handsomely gowned in a creation of white crepe de chine, trimmed with real lace and smockings of chiffon, the skirt being smocked to fit the waist, with train of exquisite real lace veil caught in place with valley lilies, and carrying a shower bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies, entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. C. S. Evans, where she was awaited at the altar by the groom with his best man, Mr. Robert H. Coleman, of Abbeville, who entered at the side door. Rev. J. B. Hillhouse was assisted in the ceremony by Rev. Albert Spencer, of Lake City, Fla. The bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Immediately after the ceremonies, both couples left for Atlanta. Mrs. Sander's going away gown was navy blue silk poplin, black velvet hat, with gloves to match. Mrs. Harden's was tan serge, black velvet hat, with gloves to match.

From Atlanta Mr. and Mrs. Sanders will go to their home in Greenville, and Mr. and Mrs. Harden to their home in Rome, Ga.

The out-of-town guests were: Rev. Arthur Spencer, Lake City, Fla, Misses Clay, Savannah, Ga., Miss Ruth and Mrs. J. H. McBreasty, Pelzer, Miss Cannon, Hartsville, Miss Sarah Coble, Jincey Stanton, Spartanburg, Mesdames H. D. and J. L. Ferrell, Greeleyville, Mr. and Mrs. H. Calloway Mims, Greenville, and Miss Mabel Boggs, Pickens.

WOULD BRIDGE SAVANNAH RIVER AT ELBERTON

Dewey Rose, Ga., Sept 1, 1915. Hon. D. Wyatt Aiken, Abbeville, S. C.

My dear Sir:— I am writing in regard to a national highway leading from Atlanta, via Athens, Comer, Carlton, and Elberton, Ga., across the Savannah river near the Seaboard bridge on to Abbeville, S. C., toward Washington, D. C.

We have just completed a handsome steel bridge across Broad river between Carlton, and Elberton, Ga., and our county chain gang is building a nice road from Athens to Elberton, Ga. There is a fine national highway from Athens to Atlanta, Ga., already. When the road reaches Elberton, it stops. Now, if we can succeed in getting South Carolina and Georgia interested in a big steel bridge across the Savannah near the S. A. L. Ry. crossing this would open up the way for one of the greatest thoroughfares from Atlanta towards Washington, D. C., in the South. Both sides could build this bridge very easily, and it would certainly put us in close touch with each other. These thoroughfares are going to be built in the South and we should pull for this route. I have written Hon. Sam Tribble of Athens, and want to get you Congressmen interested in this matter. I believe if we could succeed in getting a bridge across the Savannah river the road would be placed all o. k. The road is virtually built from Atlanta to Elberton and the bridge across Broad river is now complete. Let me hear how you feel over the matter.

Sincerely, J. R. Booth.

ROOSEVELT MAY OR MAY NOT ACCEPT IT

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 1.— The following statement was issued by Theodore Roosevelt tonight concerning Ambassador Bernstorff's note on submarine warfare:

"On its face it appears to be most gratifying and if the acts of the Germans bear it out, and if suitable amends are made for the lives lost on the Lusitania and Arabic and for the Gulfight and Palaba and similar cases, and if there is no provision expressed or implied as to action on our part, such as were requested by Germany before as regards England and France, the results will in every way be satisfactory.

"I wish to call attention, however, to one thing. This is in no sense a confession from Germany as it has been styled in some papers. It is an announcement that she intends to stop the policy of assassination. To stop the policy establishes no claim for gratitude, and I take it for granted, of course, there will be the most ample amends, so far as such amends are possible, made not only for the property but for the 120 lives of American men, women and children who have been assassinated during the four months."

The race is not always to the swift. The faster colors are those that won't run.
