

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. R. S. Link has just purchased new Ford touring car.

Misses Louise and Edith Sullivan went to their home in Honea Path and spent last Sunday.

Miss Carrie Mars was in the city Monday shopping and seeing her many friends.

Mrs. Charles McKenzie spent last week with Miss Belle McKenzie in the Lebanon section.

Miss Julia Keller of the Rock Spring section, was among the visitors to the city Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson of Antreville, were in the city Monday looking after business and trading in our stores.

Mrs. Blackstone Smith has been in the city for the past week visiting Mrs. Claud Jones. Mrs. Smith is always a welcome visitor.

James A. Gilliam and W. R. Ellis were business visitors to the city Monday. Both are prosperous farmers of the county.

Miss Annie Rodger has returned to Union after a months visit to her friend, Miss Fannie Stark. Miss Rodger will visit some time in Union before returning to Chicago.

Mr. W. A. Holman has been quite sick for the past several days. He was taken with pneumonia last week and was seriously sick on Friday. He is recovering and is sitting up on Tuesday.

Henry Moseley, Cashier of the Bank of Lowndesville, was in Abbeville Monday on business. Mr. Moseley is making a success out of his bank. We are always glad to see him in Abbeville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones, of Atlanta, came over last Saturday for a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Greene. Mr. Jones returned to Atlanta Monday, while Mrs. Jones will remain for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stubbs and children spent several days this week in the city with Dr. and Mrs. J. Irwin Gilmer. They were returning to their home in Manchester, Ga., after a visit to relatives in Petersburg, Va.

Mrs. Hattie Price, of the Edgewood section, was in the city Monday entertaining her friends with her lively talk and spending some perfectly good money with our merchants.

In spite of the rough weather we have had lately, the spring flowers are beginning to bloom. The yellow bells and the flowering pears are in full bloom and violets are making the yards in our town beautiful.

A. M. Erwin, of Antreville, a prominent merchant of the county, was in Abbeville Monday. An aunt of his who recently died in Tennessee left him a considerable sum of money, which is good news for him and his friends.

Mrs. Mamie Lanier, of the Monterey section, was taken to the hospital in Chester last week for an operation. She has been in bad health for some time and it is hoped that she will return well and strong.

Mr. Gordon White was quite sick last week with grip and was confined to his bed for three or four days. He is up and about now but is convinced that a man must be a soldier to stand up to a good case of grip.

Miss Evelyn Kay and Miss Blanche McClellan, of Anderson, were in the city last week visiting Mrs. Annie Greene Mabry and other friends. Both are attractive young ladies and they have much attention shown them when they come to Abbeville.

Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Blake, who are in Greenwood visiting, came over to Abbeville and spent the day with the Misses Morse last Friday. Friday night they were entertained by Miss Mamie Lou Smith and Saturday by Miss Ione Smith. Mr. Blake is making his home at Memphis, Tenn., and his friends here are glad to know that he is prospering.

THE BOOK CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Book Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Lewis Perrin Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock. The members are requested to send their books and to send for the ones received in exchange. It is some trouble for the hostess to take care of the books not called for.

A RUN ON VESTS.

It is always the case that most stores have a lot of waste material on hand and such was the case with the White Clothing Store. They had a lot of old vests. Some had been separated from the suits to which they belonged, some were put out of sight when vests went out of style, many years ago, and altogether White had on hand a lot of vests which, until a few days ago, seemed to be hard stock. In an inspired moment Jordan Ramey made his young brother-in-law, Mr. Bill Calvert, a present of one and Bill wore it to school the next day. Since then there has been a steady run on vests at White's and they are going like hot cakes at a quarter each. Every thing from the second grade up is sporting a vest. Our son Bill, bought a No. 37 but later "swapped" with Fred Minshall for a No. 34, which is a better fit.

OUT OF TOWN.

Mr. J. E. Cheatham, Farm Demonstrator for the County, is out of town for all this week. He is at Clemson College in attendance on the meeting of the State Agents.

LACE SALE.

Cochran's had their annual lace sale last week and it was a success as it always is. They sold many yards of beautiful lace and sent away many pleased customers with their bargains.

A LITERARY TREAT.

The literary societies of the High School will hold a public debate in the Court House Friday night, to which all the friends of the participants are invited. The program will consist of recitations, declamations and the debate.

A SALESDAY DINNER.

The ladies of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church, will serve dinner on Salesday in February, and they invite the people who come to town that day, to take dinner with them. The menu will be as excellent as it always is.

MR. HORTON HERE.

Hon. John A. Horton, of Belton, one of the prominent men who will be in the race for Congress from this district, visited Abbeville Monday looking after the fences. He is looking well and appears to be in good spirits. He says running agrees with him.

A NEW ROOK CLUB.

The young ladies of the city have formed a rook club which will meet every two weeks and which will be a source of great pleasure to the members. The first meeting was held at the home of Miss Louise Brown last Tuesday, and many pleasant, interesting games were played. A delightful salad course was served. Miss Mamie Bowie will entertain the club next Tuesday. The members are Miss Louise Brown, Miss Benie Watson, Miss Bessie Lee Cheatham, Miss Eugenia Robertson, Miss Ione Smith, Miss Fannie Stark, Miss Mary Hill, Misses Oney and Cora Morse, Miss Mamie Morse, Miss Mary Perrin and Miss Mamie Bowie.

PREACHING ABOUT WOMEN.

Rev. Mr. Daniel, the new Methodist minister, has begun a series of sermons in the Methodist church on Sunday nights. His subject will be "Women", and he will speak of her place in the home, in religion, in the nation and of her usefulness in every vocation in life. His first sermon was preached Sunday night and it pleased the large congregation out to hear him.

Mr. Daniel has made many friends in Abbeville since coming here and our people are pleased with him, both as a preacher and as a man.

A COMING MARRIAGE.

The friends in Abbeville of Miss Maude H. Bookman and Mr. W. A. Harris, are delighted to know of their marriage, which will take place at the home of the bride's mother, in Columbia on the 16th of February. Miss Bookman had made her home in Abbeville for several years until last fall and her many friends will be delighted to have her come back. She is a bright and intelligent young woman and she will be an addition to our town as a permanent resident.

Mr. Harris has the good wishes of a host of friends, who congratulate him on his good fortune and who wish him continued prosperity and a happy life.

MARRIED IN SAVANNAH.

Miss Caro Miller and Mr. Harry Sutton, of Greenville, were happily married in Savannah during the holidays and after a short honeymoon in Jacksonville and St. Augustine, returned to Greenville, where they will make their home.

Miss Caro Miller is well known in Abbeville, having visited here many times in her youth and two years ago came back and charmed all her old friends with her lovely voice and her graceful and attractive manner. Mr. Sutton is a native of Pennsylvania and is a musician of note. At present he is leader of the orchestra in the Casino theatre in Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton are at home to their friends in Greenville at the home of Mrs. John Russell.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

The cost of experience is never fully realized until one goes to law. It's their crooked ways that enable some men to make both ends meet. Method is the offspring of punctuality.

FOR MAYOR.

We are authorized to announce J. A. LONG as a candidate for Mayor of the city of Abbeville, subject to the Democratic Primary.

FOR RENT—A good five (5) room cottage in good community, well finished; fine garden and large yard; or will sell on easy terms. Apply at residence of Joe F. Edmunds.

LOST—Monday afternoon, somewhere between the Presbyterian Church and the Graded school or up Greenville Street, a gold hatpin with the initial "F". Anyone finding same and returning to the Abbeville Telephone Office will be liberally rewarded.

GOOD AND GREAT.

We recently came in possession of a copy of an address delivered before the law class of the University of South Carolina by the Hon. Eugene B. Gary, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. We sincerely regret that its length precludes its publication in full in The South Carolina Odd Fellow, for it is a gem of rarest ray. But we reproduce enough of it to show that a man can be good as well as great, as Judge Gary proves himself to be both when he says:

Neither God nor nature ever intended that the heart and mind should be deprived of contentment, ease and peace, or, if so deprived, that men and women might not restore themselves to a natural state by ceasing to disobey these laws. If we would obey the Ten Commandments and love God with all our heart, soul and mind, and our neighbor as ourself, there would be no necessity for any other moral law as a basis for the development of character, for God has told us that even upon the last two hang all the laws.

Love of God and of our fellow man enables us to resist those supposed pleasures that tempt us to do wrong. Such love gives us power to realize that it is not necessary for us to rely solely upon physical pleasures for our happiness, and that, after all, only spiritual or mental enjoyment is lasting. It is a mistake to suppose that a person cannot be moral and at the same time enjoy life's pleasures, even to a greater extent than those who rely upon pleasures that are solely dependent upon physical enjoyment.

"Desire ever hath a flying foot." A person is not in a proper state to enjoy life on earth until he becomes a Christian and obeys the moral code. Those who disregard the moral laws generally suffer in health and impair their capacity for the enjoyment of even physical pastimes. The love of God and fellow man tends to prevent excesses of all kinds. I venture the assertion that no one is happy who does not devote a part of his or her life to the cause of their fellow man. We may sometimes admire the genius of a man like Napoleon or a woman like Cleopatra, but we do not love those who do not minister to the uplifting of mankind.

If the time permitted I could produce numerous illustrations to show that this is true.

No doubt there are those in this class who will soon be called upon to discharge responsible trusts and to fill some of the highest offices in the gift of the people. In order to be esteemed a man of honor it will be necessary for you to decide whether you will follow the code prescribed by the world for the conduct of a gentleman or the code which the Bible gives us for the guidance of a Christian gentleman. The principal canon of the worldly code is that under no circumstances should a gentleman violate the laws of hospitality or friendship. The finest of this type of gentleman is pictured by Fielding in Tom Jones, the greatest novel ever written. Its fascination, in a large measure, is due to the fact that it portrays more clearly than any other book the marked difference between the gentleman of the world and the Christian gentleman. The Christian gentleman is guided by the code found in the Bible, which contains a far larger number of the elements of morality. As between the two types there can be no doubt that the code of the Christian gentleman tends to make him a more desirable citizen.

I hope that all of you will select that which I regard as the higher code; but if any of you should not, then that you will at least observe those tenets that are against the violation of all trusts and that tend to make you a noble citizen.—S. C. Odd Fellow.

But a man soon forgets his faults when they are known only to himself.

Any man has a right to consider himself a gifted orator who can get people to stay in a room and listen to him talk for two hours if the door isn't locked.

A man dislikes changing his favorite brand of cigars as much as a woman does her religion.

Suspensions are often worse than facts.

Disagreeable Calomel is Yielding to Pleasant Liv-Ver-Lax.

Physicians generally agree that the nauseating, unpleasant effects of calomel are due to the undesirably violent action it has on the system. For a long while various substitutes have been tried, but it was only recently that the really wonderful remedy, LIV-VER-LAX was prepared successfully by L. K. Grigsby.

LIV-VER-LAX has all the good, and none of the bad effects of calomel. It is a necessity in every home, always being ready to cleanse the sluggish liver and bile clogged system, with no unpleasant after effects.

LIV-VER-LAX is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money will be immediately refunded. Insist on the original bearing the likeness of L. K. Grigsby. For sale in 50c and $1 bottles at any druggists.
