MR. WILSON IN YORKVILLE.

Mrs. T. T. Campbell.

Mr. Hugh Wilson of Abbeville, who is affiliated with the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church, "All Right Presbyterians," he calls them, was very much interested in the new church building in Yorkvile. He took occasion to go through the building, the main auditorium, the session room, the ladies' parlor, the Sabbath school rooms, etc., and noter carefully all the appointments and conveniences of the remarkably complete structure. He wanted to know whether the church was on the "pauper list," and when advised to the contrary, expressed satisfaction. "Are you endowed?" he asked, and when advised to the contrary, remarked that an endowed church was as weak and ineffective an institution as a newspaper of free circulation. Mr. Wilson was very much pleased to see instead of being hid away in a back quirer.

"AS TO COOPER AND MANNING"

Greenwood Index.

The Index is going to say its say about these two briefly once more. The two men stand on practically the same platform so far as platforms go.

To show how the two men stood in the preferences of the people in this county in the first primary two years ago it is only necessary to state the vote. Gov. Manning received the sum total of seventy-nine votes. Mr. Cooper received fourteen hundred and sixty-nine or approximately fifteen hundred. He almost carried the county against the whole field. Gov. Manning will receive this year more than the seventy-nine votes which were given him two years ago, but most of the votes given him will be new ones. Mr. Gooper as heretofore retains much of that popularity which was his two years ago.

Mr. Cooper has excited no bitter feeling anywhere. People believe he will be fuir and impartial in deeds as well as in words. For that reason in this part of the country they are going to vote for him for governor.

If now those great and good newspapers which are laboring for the reelection of Gov. Manning will just realize that there are some folks in the State who intend to vote for Mr. Cooper and that it is entirely unneccessary to use a curry-comb on their spines in the one instance and then squeal about unfairness and all that sort of thing in another, we think the whole situation would be greatly improved. Lets stop misrepresentation and buncombe. A vote is a vote and the man who can get the most of them is the man we must look to to turn the trick.

Mr. Wilson has very decided views as to church work and activities generally; but he does not take much stock in spending money for foreign missions, especially for the church out on "A front street the Mexican mission.-Yorkville En-

Mr. Gordon White, City.

Dear Mr. White .- I am going to report you to Teddy Roosevelt for selling me to a boy like Dr. Keller. asked you to sell me to an old man, who would feed me on plenty of gasoline and oil, and let me stand up in the shade and rest. But you took advantage of me. Without my consent I found myself being driven by a young man out for sport. Well, I have broken all the speed laws, all the parking laws, all records on Wardlaw street, and the heart of every other car in town, because I go everywhere. I ramble the streets in the day time, and waltz them at night. I see everything and do everything which a car can do, and do it all the time because my young master is a game sport and believes in going the gaits.

But I have been telling him he would come to grief, and if he did not quit spurring me I would run away. Well, Friday morning he hitched me up when I was not feeling well, and drove me down town. I trotted around the public square for a while, when to my surprise my master said I must go to the jail, and away he started with me, but I demurred. As we turned the post the clergyman to kiss the bride after office corner I asked him why I was going to jail, and he refused to tell me, but spurred me on. Just then we met some people in the wagon and my master turned to ask them how he looked and I said to myself, I will get away now, and I made a dash to get under Burnett Eakin's house, but my master jerked me and I stumped a toe on the steps and turned over. I spilt him out on the ground, and then I saw I had him. I turned over on him and held him would charge only half the usual tight until some old men came and got him out, after he promised me to allow me to go to the hospital to rest up from the nervous exhaustion he has occasioned me.

While I am here, please sell or trade me to some easy-going courting man like Mr. Williamson or Mr.

Cheaper.

At a certain church in a Jersey town it is the invariable custom of the ciergyman to kiss the bride after the ceremony. A young woman who was about to be married in this church did not relish the prospect and instructed her prospective hus-band to tell the clergyman that she did not wish him to kiss her. The bridegroom obeyed the instructions given.

"Well, Harry," said the young wo-man when he appeared, "did you tell the minister that I did not wish him to kiss me?"
