FORMER ABBEVILLE BOY GETS ANOTHER CHANCE

J. E. McDavid, Jr., to Be Re-examined at Behest of Senator Benet. The State, Sept. 11, 1918.

J. E. McDavid, Jr., and Neville K. McDowell, nominated by Senator Tillman for Annapolis vacancies, but who failed to qualify, may yet enter the naval academy. Senator Christie Benet announced yesterday that he had arranged for the two young Columbians to have another chance. "Before Senator Tillman's death he had named two young men, chosen by competitive examination, for vacancies at Annapolis. They were J. E. McDavid, Jr., formerly of Abbeville, but now living in Columbia, and Neville K. McDowell, also of Columbia," said Senator Benet yesterday.

"Both failed to enter the academy McDavid due to color blindness, and McDowell to failure to pass the entrance examination for Annapolis after he had won the competitive examination.

"McDavid has been given a course in color study, and I have arranged to have him reexamined. If he passes the examination I will immediately nominate him for one of the vacancies and have arranged in that case to have him enter the academy at once.

"I have decided to renominate McDowell and give him another chance to pass the entrance examination. He had only a few weeks between the competitive examination which he won and the time of the entrance examination and did not have a fair chance to prepare for the latter. This will give Senator Tillman's nominations another chance to enter the academy. There are no other vacancies at present."

CITY PARK AGAIN.

Fifteen or more members of the younger set enjoyed a moonlight picnic at city park last Tuesday night, for which Miss Katie Cox was largely sponsor and originator. Basket lunches were greatly enjoyed and the young couples wandered around the shady walks talking of the wonders of nature and no doubt, before the monkey cage, of Darwinian evolution. The summer, however, is drawing to a close and the serious shadow of school and teacher harries every social event now. So the young people bade goodbye early and therewith probably fell the curtain on the 1918 moonlight picnic season.

COLLEGE CHATTER.

CLEMSON CADETS.

Frank Thornton, Larry Ferguson, and Neil Swetenburg came down from Clemson Saturday and spent Sunday with their friends and relatives. They are practicing hard for the football team and intend to make Abbeville famous on the gridiron as well as in other fields. On their return, they took Andrew Hill with them.

OFF FOR COLUMBIA COLLEGE.

Miss Marion Daniel left yesterday for Columbia College, Columbia, where she is matriculated as a Junior. Miss Prude Mann and Miss Annie Bell Little also left for Columbia College the same day. They have formed an Abbeville partnership in friendship.

It is with pride that Abbeville sends so many of her young people away to the institutions of learning. The careers of these young ladies are watched with particular interest because their capacities have already been proven.

BRENAU GIRLS LEAVE TODAY

That Coker write-up nearly ran us out of adjectives. But we still have a few superlatives left and they are quite apropos to the departure of the Abbeville representatives to Brenau.

Miss Edna Bradley left this morning for the classic city of Gainesville and expects a diverting season, with literary studies on the one hand and Bernie Boyce and Mary La Far on the other. Miss Ruth Howie is scheduled to leave later in the day, no doubt to face another triumphant year in the science of music. She attended the summer school this year and has thus gotten a half year ahead of her class.

We would like to ring in that happy phrase about "pursuing their studies" in some way or other. But with these young ladies not only keeping up but also running ahead of their work the way they do, the rhetoric will have to fade away in this mere statement of fact.

COKER DELEGATION GIVEN A SAD FAREWELL

The Coker girls have left, ladies. It is useless to announce this fact to the young men of the community, for they are only too well aware of it. The old town doesn't look the same and there isn't much fun in going to the post office or Bowden-Simpson's.

Miss Carolyn Reese piloted a party of young people down to the Seaboard and away to Hartsville Sunday night. She knows every nook and corner worth knowing in that little college town and if you want to talk of good times, enough said! Miss Mary Milford is also confident of her ability to find amusement at the seat of learning, having been there before, and departed with smiles for all and a twinkle of mischief in her eyes. Perhaps she was thinking of the initiation in store for Miss Winona Barksdale, who also went with them and who will assume the role of an unsophisticated Freshman at Dr. Coker's millinery center. But Winona has been reading up on the whys and wherefores, also has not been using her ears for nothing. Her elder collegiates may not find her as naive as they imagine.

Miss Mary Haigler left with her father for Chester in the afternoon. After visiting her mother at the hospital, she will join her friends in Hartsville. Of course, being a Senior, she will enjoy a dignity which the others can only imitate.

LOWRIE WILSON BACK.

Seaman Lowrie Wilson, who has been in the navy so long now that he has almost forgotten the fine technique of the retail mercantile trade, spent the week-end with his parents at Warrenton. He drove a big car filled with girls through the city Saturday, however, and this was good evidence that he was having a fine time.

D. OF C.

The Daughters of the Confederacy will meet with Miss May Robertson this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Children Love Cascarets---10c

Candy cathartic is harmless to tender stomach, liver and bowels

Your child is bilious, constipated and sick. Its little tongue is coated, breath is bad and stomach sour. Get a 10-cent box of Cascarets and straighten the youngster right up. Children love this harmless candy cathartic and it cleanses the little liver and thirty feet of bowels without griping. Cascarets contain no calomel and can be depended upon to move the sour bile and poison right out of the bowels. Best family cathartic because it never cramps or sickens like other things.—Adv.
