Thos. F. Uldrick was in the city on Thursday on business.

Mrs. Lowrie Beacham and children of Laurens, visited Mrs. W. E. Johnson this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jones, of Columbia, are in the city visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Jones.

Lieut. Frank E. Harrison, arrived in the city on Thursday for a few days stay with his home folks.

Mrs. Essie D. Greene, of Due West, and her young son, John E. Greene, were in Abbeville on yesterday.

Miss Lizzie Edmunds was called to Chester Wednesday on account of sickness in the family of her sister, Mrs. Ernest Estes.

Mrs. A. B. Reno, of Atlanta, has returned to her home after an extended visit to her sister, Mrs. Jas. C. Raines.

Rev. H. D. Corbett wishes us to announce that there will be services at Upper Long Cane Church on next Sunday at the usual hour.

Miss Fannie Edmunds left Thursday for Spartanburg, where she will work. Miss Willie Eakin will take her place at the telephone exchange here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Johnson returned to the city Wednesday from their wedding trip and are at home to their friends on corner Pickens and Church Street.

The young boys of town carried a pound of sweets and their sweethearts down to Miss Howard Hill's last Wednesday night and enjoyed a pleasant pound party.

Miss Gladys Thompson of Pell City, Ala., has been in Abbeville for the past two weeks looking after Mrs. J. F. Barnwell and young Foster, who have both been sick with the "flu." Both are up again which is good news to their friends.

Desiring to keep up with the country, George E. Mann who was in the race horse business at about the time when Cotton Patch had not been picked, came in and subscribed for The Press and Banner on Wednesday.

Sheriff R. M. Burts went up to Williamston last week to see a piece of his, Miss Nina Wood, who was desperately sick with pneumonia. Death claimed the young girl soon after his arrival and he stayed over to attend the funeral.

The friends of Mr. Fleet M. Crother were glad to see him on the streets again this week. He has been sick at his home on the Due West road for sometime. He was well enough, however, to take $2,000 in Liberty Bonds when the committee called on him.

A SIGHT FOR TOURISTS.
Lieut. Chas. Daniels, of Anderson, in writing to his friend, Mr. Lee G. Holleman, has the following to say: "The scenery here is wonderful. Huge mountains, covered with great tall cedars and green moss, stretch as far as I can see. It is fair France but I assure you that a sand-hill of South Carolina means more to me. When I do return, and if I think as I do now, in after years the people of Anderson will be able to point me out to the tourists as the old man who has not left the city limits for forty years."

TO OFFICERS TRAINING CAMP.
Andrew Hill, who has been a member of the S. A. T. C., at Clemson, is at home on a five days furlough before going to Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky, to enter an officers training school.

FENNEL-LIGON.

A wedding marked with simplicity but pretty and impressive, was that of Miss Minnie Fennell of Lowndesville, and Langdon Ligon of Greenville, which took place Wednesday, Oct. 23, 1918, at the home of the bride in the presence of only the immediate family and a few close friends.

At the first strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Louise Bell, the bride and bridegroom entered the parlor and after an impressive ceremony performed by the bride's father, Rev. H. C. Fennell, assisted by the Rev. Frank Ligon of Greenville. A salad course was served by Mrs. H. C. Fennell, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Bell.

The bride was strikingly attractive in a smart taupe coat suit with accessories to match and carried a bouquet of bride roses. She is the youngest daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Fennell and is a charming young woman, whose personality has won scores of friends for her who will regret to learn that her marriage will take her away from Lowndesville. The bridegroom is a promising young business man of Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ligon will be at home to their friends on Hampton Avenue in Greenville.

ASSOCIATE REFORMED CHURCH

There will be services of public worship next Sabbath morning at 11 a. m., and in the evening at 7:30. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed in the morning and the subject of the discourse will be "Religious Joy." Let us all go "up into the house of the Lord" and return thanks that our lives have been spared during the recent epidemic. Visitors and strangers are extended a cordial invitation. A prayer house is a power house.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

Mr. A. F. Carwile, who sits in judgment on most things around Level Land, adjudged that The Press and Banner was good enough for him by sending in his subscription on Thursday. Seven new ones came the day before, and his was the fourth on Thursday, which shows that The Press and Banner grows in daily favor with the people who read the news. While we were hanging this on the hook the fifth one came in and before we got it back on the hook the sixth one asked for recognition.

"I USED TO FEEL LIKE I HAD BIG ROCKS DOWN IN MY STOMACH!"

PROMINENT SOUTH CAROLINA FARMER TELLS HOW HE DID AWAY WITH PAINFUL CASE OF INDIGESTION AND STOMACH DISORDER.

Liver and Bowels Also Affected

The Danger Of Disregarding Symptoms of Gastritis and Dyspepsia How a Good Digestion May Be Easily Maintained.

Just because you are not "laid up" or forced to quit your work, the warnings of stomach trouble should not go unheeded or serious results are bound to follow. These warnings take the form of dyspepsia, indigestion, dizziness, constipation, nervousness, backache, sideache, headache, and that tired, run-down feeling. All these symptoms may point directly to a deranged stomach requiring immediate attention.

Hundreds of men and women of this section are taking the best natural safeguard against stomach trouble by taking with each meal a small spoonful of Dreco. They say nothing ever did them so much good or helped keep their stomachs in such fine order as this wonderful root-and-herb medicine.

"I used to feel like I had rocks down in my stomach," declares Julius H. Adams, the well known and highly respected farmer of Gadsden, S. Carolina. "This condition was worst after every meal. I also suffered severely from liver trouble and constipation and my appetite was very poor. I never enjoyed eating and life was a constant misery to me. Then a friend told me how the newspapers were full of the new medicine Dreco, and urged me to take it. I did so and the first bottle helped me a lot. The second bottle made me feel like a new man and I expect to take several more. I am glad to recommend Dreco to all my friends in this section."

Dreco may now be secured at small cost from any good drug store or pharmacy and it is particularly recommended in Abbeville by P. B. Speed.—Adv.
