A PROCLAMATION.

April 7th, 8th and 9th Designated by Governor as Jewish War Relief Days in State.

For long centuries the great majority of Jewish peoples have been oppressed politically, and in other ways have been harassed. They have had no nation and no home, except under dominion of other peoples. But the Jews have not allowed their race to be lost, despite autocracy and the unfriendly attitude of many of their European rulers. Palestine, their ancient home, has long been under the heel of the cruel Turk; old Russia, where approximately half of the fourteen million Jews of the world reside, was none too kind to them. Autocratic Austria-Hungary, where another million lived, gave them small opportunity for self assertion. Relatively few Jews have enjoyed the freedom of England or France, and only some three to four million enjoy the freedom of the United States.

The Jews have subsisted in hope of a better day. The dawn of that day is at hand, for rights of the smaller peoples have been written in to international ethics. But the Jews of Europe cannot see or attain the goal if they are to be left starving and in rags. Their plight in Poland is pitiable, as it is in other parts of old Russia; neither do those residing in old Austria-Hungary enjoy full opportunity.

Having given generously to various war funds, and having fought—well in battle lines, the Jews of America now ask their Gentile fellow citizens to come to their assistance. They cannot alone rescue their brothers in Europe. Their appeal to the populace as a whole is a worthy appeal. The world owes much to the Jews of old and to the Jews of today.

Therefore, I, Robert A. Cooper, Governor of South Carolina, do designate April seventh, eighth and ninth as Jewish War Relief Days in this state, and do call upon the people to lend an attentive ear to the cries of distress from the Jews in Europe.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this seventeenth day of March, in the year of Our Lord, One Thousand and Nine Hundred Nineteen.

R. A. Cooper, Governor.

Attest:

W. Banks Dove,
Secretary of State.

A HAPPY MARRIAGE.

Mrs. Virginia Nelson and Mr. W. Henry Wharton, of Waterloo, were happily married Wednesday, March 26th, 1919, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Nickles, on North Main Street. The wedding was a quiet affair, only the most intimate friends of the family being present. The house was made pretty with many vases of carnations and at the appointed time the interesting ceremony was performed by Rev. L. J. Bristow.

After the ceremony a delightful salad course was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Wharton left for Waterloo, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Wharton has made her home in Abbeville for several years and has formed a circle of devoted friends who wish her every happiness and congratulate Mr. Wharton sincerely on his good luck.

Mr. Charles Wharton of Greenwood, and Mr. John Wharton of Waterloo, and Miss Genevieve Fuller were here for the wedding.

COL. P. K. COBB ON THE MAP.

Col. P. K. Cobb, who agrees with us that plumbers know more than cotton buyers and furniture dealers, and are better-looking, has subscribed for The Press and Banner. He tells us that he is a finer newspaper correspondent than Dote Smith and he promises us that if Dote writes another letter to this paper he will reply to it and show Dote a few things about how to handle the King's English.

He also wants it to be known that he is still in the plumbing business, and is charging full prices for full time, time and a half for overtime and a little the rise of it. If you need him phone to the office of G. A. Harrison, and call for his private secretary, Tommie Harrison.
