MEMORIAL CHAPEL FAVORED BY LEGION

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 4.—Special: Following a somewhat extended debate, the initial annual convention of the American Legion of South Carolina, which met here today in the hall of the House of Representatives, by an almost unanimous vote rejected a resolution, introduced by J. Hertz Brown, a delegate from Spartanburg, providing for a memorial hospital commemorative of those South Carolinians in the service of the nation who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war, instead of the memorial chapel provided for by an act of the General Assembly.

Subsequently another resolution endorsing a non-utilitarian building or monument as a fitting memorial was adopted by the convention.

The hospital resolution asked the General Assembly to make the necessary amendment in the existing law, so that the utilitarian building instead of the memorial chapel be built. The resolution said that the building, if the General Assembly was favorably disposed toward the idea "shall be a great memorial hospital where suffering may be relieved, disease eradicated and the citizens of this State made more fit for her service."

Act of General Assembly.—The last session of the General Assembly passed the act providing for the erection of the memorial chapel on the ground owned by the University of South Carolina. The measure carried an appropriation of $100,000 with the stipulation that it was to be augmented by public subscription from among the citizens of the State. It is a created commission, of which Governor Cooper is chairman, and ex-Governor Manning is vice-chairman, to carry on the campaign and provide for the memorial. The commission decided that the people of the State would be asked to contribute $400,000.

Almost from the first meeting of the Commission, opposition to the idea of a non-utilitarian building was expressed. A campaign bolstered by a deal of publicity, has been waged bringing to the fore the hospital idea, the underlying plea being that the ex-soldiers wanted some thing which would be of service instead of ornamental, by which their fallen comrades would be remembered. A petition was presented to the memorial commission asking for consideration of the hospital idea, but the Commission took the position that the Legislature had spoken and it was mandatory upon it under the act to go on with the original project for a memorial chapel. So the solicitation for funds was commenced on September 29th.

Indifference Explained.—The campaign for subscriptions has met with indifferent success since the "drive" began, thought principally to be due to the propaganda in favor of the hospital project. However, the friends of the present memorial chapel idea are now confident that the solicitations for funds will be taken on an impetus as the voice of the South Carolina world veterans, the American Legion, they contend, has spoken for it and has demonstrated what the wishes of the ex-soldiers are.

EXTREMISTS NOT YET WILLING FOR VOTE ON TREATY

Washington, Nov. 6.—The true state of affairs with respect to a vote on the peace treaty, now can be revealed. Both Republicans and Democrats claim they are ready to respond to the demand of the country for a final vote this month, but every effort to bring about an agreement to set a date for a vote has failed because, as a matter of fact, the spirit of compromise not yet has been recognized as absolutely necessary by extremists, who think they yet can defeat the whole treaty.

Briefly the Republican management offered to set a date on which the treaty could be "finally disposed of." By that they meant final action on the ratifying solution which contains the reservations proposed by the senate foreign relations committee. The Democrats objected to the use of the word "final," because they believed it would prevent them from offering another ratifying resolution if they constituted themselves into the necessary one-third to defeat the senate foreign relation committee's resolution.

So the procedure is going to be something like this: The Republicans will press for a vote on reservations, which will command a majority and thus become part of the ratifying resolution. The vote on that resolution, which requires two-thirds, will be defeated because the Democrats consider many of the reservations to be equivalent to amendments and as requiring resubmission of the treaty to foreign governments and necessitating prolonged negotiations.
