Amherst Professor Will Make Attempt April 23, He Announces

Omaha, Neb., April 14 .- The attempt by Professor David Todd of Amherst College, to signal Mars from a balloon will be made on April 23, according to an announcement by A. Leo Stevens, balloon expert at Fort Omaha, whose gas bag will be used in the effort. The professor suggested next week because Mars will then be nearest the earth.

In a telegram to Lieut. Col. Jacob Wuest, commander of Fort Omaha, Prof. Todd referred to the apparatus he will use to ascertain whether sound waves or ether disturbances are coming from the faraway planet and whether they are electrical or otherwise.

The test, Professor Todd said, will be made with a recorder he has worked for several years. The device carries records sensitive to all atmospheric waves and which will make impressions in such form that they may be studied when the balloon has returned to the earth again.

To ascertain the chemical composition of the air at each altitude small vacuum containers will be carried. These will be opened at various altitudes and the air col-It will be subjected to an lected. analysis after the balloon has rescended.
