

ENTIRE CABINET OF CARRANZA TAKEN

20,000 Prisoners Fall into Trap of Mexican Revolutionists—Chief Flees To Mountains Gen. Zaio Retires From Presidential Race

El Paso, May 16.—All of the members of Carranza's cabinet have been captured and sent to Mexico City, according to a message said to have been received today by revolutionary agents here from General Obregon, who at present is in Mexico City.

Carranza himself is said to have escaped to the mountains on horseback. No other details of the capture were given.

The attack on the Carranza ministers, who were endeavoring to protect their chief, ended in "a complete triumph for the liberal constitutionalists," according to advices received in Aguascalientes from Gen. Francisco Serano, chief of staff of the revolutionary army.

At Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass, Texas, Gen. Jose Huertado, revolutionary commander, is in "perfect control," according to revolutionary claims made here. An enthusiastic meeting was held here by prominent citizens to provide funds with which to finance the revolution, it was announced.

Traffic has been restored to Monclova, Coahuila from Piedras Negras and will shortly be restored to Saltillo and Monterey, revolutionists here said.

Mexico City, May 16 (Via Laredo,

Texas).—Carranza is fleeing into the mountains of Vera Cruz by way of Petrate and the revolutionists have captured 2,000 prisoners with 24 trains and a great quantity of gold and silver bars, and war munitions, according to a report from Gen. Guadalupe Sanchez given out at Obregon headquarters. Fighting began at 10 a. m., Friday in the vicinity of Rinconaba. After three hours heavy engagements Carranza and the leading members of his party abandoned their trains and fled in automobiles escorted by 500 cavalry. He carried off from the trains all mined coins. The rebel cavalry is pursuing Carranza. Unconfirmed reports Friday night said Carranza had been captured. General Sanchez promised confirmation or denial of the report later.

VICE PRESIDENT EXPLAINS SPEECH ON PROHIBITION

Washington, May 18.—Vice President Thomas R. Marshall has presided over the senate of the United States for seven years and can be therefore expected to know whereof he speaks when he says that if prohibition had been submitted to a secret vote, it would not have gotten twenty votes in the senate.

The writer asked the vice president to amplify his statement, which was originally before the Virginian bar association.

"I want to be understood at the outset" said the vice president, "that I believe in the enforcement of the constitutional amendment on prohibiton. It is here and is the law and should be enforced. But I believe that if the amendment had been voted upon according to the individual convictions of members of the senate it would not have gotten twenty votes.

"Now I am not imputing motives to anybody. I have never seen any representatives of the brewers or the anti-saloon league around congress and wouldn't know them if they were there. I believe that the men who voted for prohibition and for woman suffrage, for instance, thought the people—a majority of their constituents—wanted these amendments passed. But that isn't my theory of representative government.

"As I told the lawyers at Richmond, the people of this country didn't intend, in my judgment, that their representatives should be guided by their constituents but that elected representatives should act for them. I don't think when people hire a lawyer that they should ask him to do what they want. Advice should not come from the client to the lawyer but from the lawyer to the client. If the client doesn't like the advice, he can get another lawyer."

"That's the same with representative government. The people in my opinion, should trust their representatives to act for them. If they don't like what their representatives do, they can select others and thus repudiate what has been done."

U. S. TO BE ASKED TO FUND FRANCE

London, May 18.—American bankers will be asked by France to discount France's portion of the German war indemnity.

That is the outstanding result of the Hythe conferences between Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand. The latter's agreement to fix a definite total of the German reparations sum was won only by the British premier's approval of France's claim for prior facilities in arranging the raising of funds with the co-operation of the American money market immediately on Germany's acceptance of the indemnity total. The date for the Spa conference has been postponed to June 21.

The premierial meeting at Hythe was not entirely unruffled by conflicts between the British and French ideas.

Premier Lloyd George, it is understood insists upon fixing the indemnity total at below $20,000,000,000, while Millerand is strenuously battling for something above $25,000,000,000. The British statesman flatly turned down the French proposal to reduce France's debt to Britain by $2,500,000,000, or the same ratio as the German payments to France are cut down.

Mr. Lloyd George, however, did not hesitate to concede France's prior financial needs, especially as regards the reconstruction of the French devastated provinces. In this the British prime minister adopted the view first expounded by Sir Geo. Paish that unless France is able immediately to discount the indemnity victorious France will be stricken with economic disaster even greater than that which has befallen vanquished Germany.

Premier Millerand also pointed to Great Britain's vast territorial gains as an argument in favor of Britain's relinquishment of all monetary indemnity, but for domestic political reasons Premier Lloyd George strongly objected to this, insisting that France herself has gained substantial compensations, notably in Alsace-Lorraine and the Saar Valley.

THORNHILL WAGONS

SOME Thornhill owners constantly comment on the ease with which the wagon can be "backed up." This is due to the full circle iron. The ordinary circle is but a half circle (◡). In making a sharp turn bolsters often run to the end of the track and become "derailed." Thornhills cannot do this because their track is a circle (○).

Others comment on the fact that in spite of tremendous overloads, Thornhill axles never break. The reason for this is plain. They use tough highland hickory—reinforced by a steel truss bar that extends the full length of the axle.

Still others comment that the gears never get out of line. This unusual feature is due to one of their workmen's inventions. He designed a malleable front hound plate—bolted to the gears at eight points. It's literally a jacket of iron that holds gears in line and insures light running for life.

From hilly sections come reports that the old trouble of broken king bolts is unknown among owners of Thornhill wagons. This because of a cup and saucer arrangement on the bolster that relieves the king bolt of strain. To others the amazing feature is the long life of Thornhill beds—due to their location which gives them the pick of the yearly cutting of wood and due, in part, to the fact that they paint with pure lead and linseed oil despite its high cost.

Thousands of owners have found in Thornhills unusual strength where they are accustomed to weakness.

Let us show you this perfected wagon. [604-N]
