WAR SAVINGS STAMPS RECOVERED IN LANE

New York, June 3.—War savings stamps valued at $62,780 found in the possession of Walter Murray, arrested with eight others last night when detectives and postal inspectors raided a Brooklyn house, were identified here today, as a part of the loot of three banks, according to postal authorities.

Murray and his companions were arrested in connection with the robbery of the postoffice of Oxford Furnace, N. C., on April 2. In this burglary $3,000 in cash, Liberty bonds and war saving stamps were stolen but these stamps found on Murray were not of the same serial numbers.

Some of the stamps taken from Murray, according to the postal serial number was a block stolen from the Bank of Mount Pleasant, Tenn., on May 5, and when robbers took $27,000 in cash and securities. Others were identified as having been stolen from the W. A. Higgenbotham bank at Victor, N. Y., two weeks ago, along with $18,000 cash and Liberty bonds and still others bear the same serial numbers as stamps taken three weeks ago from the Trumansburg State Bank of Trumansburg, N. Y.

The arrest was the consummation of a two months chase through sev-

If the CHALMERS Engine Had Windows You Would See These Revolutionary Processes

THE great thing about a motor car, after all, is how it transforms the energy that nature stored away in gasoline into horsepower.

Chalmers today leads in this, and the automobile industry to a large extent has accepted the Chalmers principles by which power is wrung from "gas."

If the Chalmers engine had windows you would witness these two amazing processes.

You would see the Hot Spot heat up and, like a hot stove sending up into steam water dropped on it, transform the raw, inferior "gas" of the day into a "vapor cloud."

You would see the instantaneous change from a "rainy liquid gas" to a so-called "dry gas."

Then you would look through Ram's-horn and note this "vapor cloud" being rushed at a velocity of one hundred miles an hour through easy air bends an equal but short distance to each cylinder.

You would see the explosions in the cylinders, how much of this "cloud" was converted into power, how little was wasted through the exhaust.

You would note, too, how even and smooth these explosions were, and how absent the element of vibration that raises so much havoc in a car.

You would understand clearly how such troubles as frequently fouled spark plugs, burned bearings, and scored cylinders are absent in a Chalmers.

Your conclusion would be identical with so many others: that Chalmers is one of the few great cars of the world.

BAD GRAMMAR FATAL

Washington, June 3.—Because of "bad grammar", President Wilson today vetoed a bill to make the interstate transportation of immoral picture films a felony. The president in his veto message said the transposition of a phrase in the bill made it ambiguous.

The house on receiving the veto message, conducted an investigation and found that an enrolling clerk had transposed the phrase. The bill as "corrected" by the president was repassed by the house.

COCA-COLA SUIT IS DISMISSED

Atlanta, June 1.—Injunction proceedings of the Coca-Cola bottling companies of Atlanta and Chattanooga, so-called "parent" bottlers, against the Coca-Cola Company of Delaware were dismissed today by Judge John T. Pendleton on motion of counsel for the bottlers.

Attorney John Sibley, representing the bottlers, announced that inasmuch as federal questions had been injected into the case, the plaintiffs desired to dismiss the proceedings in the state courts and that litigation along the same lines would be instituted at once in the federal court.

AN OVERWORKED GARMENT

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—that was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestines, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Nature's Remedy, which I truly believe goes further and does more than any laxative on the market today. The thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Nature's Remedy as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Nature's Remedy from the very first.

And now as I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each mail brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Nature's Remedy for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it.

It is a consoling thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that aside from his own success, one has done something for his fellow man. My greatest satisfaction, my greatest happiness today, is the knowledge that tonight more than one million people will take a Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and will be better, healthier, happier people for it. I hope you will be one of them.
