

STATE CAMPAIGN FOR HEALTH BONDS

People of South Carolina To Be Asked to Contribute A Total Of $50,000.00

The South Carolina Tuberculosis Association is going to ask the people of South Carolina to buy $50,000 worth of health bonds and Christmas seals during the month of December in order that the fight on the "great white plague," which is exacting an economic loss in the State each year of $4,500,000 may be prosecuted with the greatest possible vigor next year.

"We know that times are hard and money is scarce," says an announcement by the association, "but even with money as tight as it is we do not believe that the people of the State will be willing for the fight on tuberculosis to be abandoned. It would be a very poor economic policy."

The health bonds which the association will ask the people to buy will be put on sale during November and will remain on sale until Christmas. They may be purchased for $5 up. The Christmas Seal sale will begin immediately after Thanksgiving and will continue until Christmas. The people of the State are thoroughly familiar with these little Red Cross seals which have become just as much a harbinger of the Christmas holidays as have the holly and the mistletoe.

Governor Robert A. Cooper has consented to serve as chairman of the Christmas Seal sale. J. Skottowe Wannamaker of St. Matthews, president of the American Cotton Association, as first vice-chairman and Mrs. Rufus Fant, of Anderson, president of the South Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs, as second vice-chairman. L. L. Hardin, president of the Bank of Columbia, will be treasurer.

The executive committee will be composed of the following South Carolinians in addition to the officers: Arthur L. Gaston, Chester; Dr. H. N. Snyder, Wofford College; A. B. Jordan, president of the South Carolina Press Association; Mrs. James A. Cathcart, Columbia; Henry C. Tillman, Greenwood; Dr. James A. Hayne, State Board of Health, Mrs. F. S. Munsell, Columbia; Dr. C. W. Kellock, Charleston; Josiah Morse, University of South Carolina and Mrs. C. Y. Reamer, Columbia.

Organizations have already been perfected in thirty of the counties for the sale and will be completed in the remaining counties of the State within the next two weeks. It is probable that a conference of the county chairmen will be held at an early date.

Probably the most ambitious feature of the program to be undertaken by the South Carolina Tuberculosis Association next year in the event that the people of the State buy the $50,000 worth of seals and bonds, will be the establishment of a traveling clinic.

The clinic which will travel from county to county over the State in an automobile truck will concentrate its efforts in counties which do not now have a tuberculosis clinic. A specialist in tuberculosis and a nurse will accompany the clinic and it is planned to make a complete survey of the State.

The association plans through the means of this clinic to make a thorough investigation in each county of all tubercular suspects and in this way to get a grasp on the situation which will enable it to fight effectively against a further spread of the dread disease.

Officers of the South Carolina Tuberculosis Association are: J. Nelson Frierson, Columbia, president; Dr. J. A. Hayne, Columbia, and Dr. Robert Wilson, Jr., Charleston, honorary vice presidents; Dr. R. M. Pollitzer, of Charleston and Dr. Ernest Cooper, Columbia, vice-presidents; A. S. Manning, Columbia, treasurer; Reed Smith, Columbia, secretary; Mrs. E. E. Howell, Florence; Dr. C. W. Kellock, Charleston; James McCabe, Greenville; Dr. L. A. Riser, Columbia; John P. Thomas Columbia and Reed Smith, Columbia.

WHITE HOUSE IS OPTIMISTIC OVER ELECTION RESULTS

Washington, Oct. 26.—White House officials were full of optimism today over the outcome of next Tuesday's election. Secretary Tumulty set an example by declaring the election of Governor Cox a certainty and that the Democrats will regain control of the Senate by a safe margin.

Heretofore Secretary Tumulty and others immediately connected with administration have contented themselves with vague statements that the "tide has turned" toward the Democratic nominees. Today, however, their statements took on a more positive character and all were full of confidence.

Pro-League Republicans.

Great expectations are being built by Democratic campaign workers on the statement which the President will make to the delegation of "pro-league" Republicans headed by Hamilton Holt, who will visit the President on Wednesday.

While the plans are entirely in the hands of the President himself, it is learned that his final and most important statement of the campaign issues will be delivered to the visiting delegation. In all probability none but the members of Mr. Holt's delegation will be admitted.

Many Democratic leaders have expressed disappointment over the small part taken by the President in the effort to elect Governor Cox. It is stated, however, on the highest authority that the President has done all that can possibly be expected of one in his extremely serious condition of health. Persons close to the President say regretfully that if the President had been able to do more to advance the Democratic cause in the campaign he would gladly have done so, but that his condition made more active participation prohibitive.

Takes Daily Ride.

The President takes his daily ride from the White House to the suburbs the ride usually lasting a little over an hour. He is always accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, and sometime by other members of the family.

Persons who have seen the President at close hand on these daily drives have noted considerable change in his appearance during the past year. His face is drawn and his hair is almost white.

An invitation has been extended to the President to address a gathering of local Democrats at Masonic Temple tomorrow night.

It is understood that either Secretary Tumulty or some other member of the administration family will appear in his stead.

At the headquarters of the Republican senatorial committee today renewed confidence was expressed that a Republican majority of from eleven to fourteen members will be won in the Senate. Senator Poindexter, chairman, has left for his home in Washington to cast his vote. He will not return until Congress reassembles.

REFINED CHALMOOGA OIL MAY RELIEVE THE WORLD OF TUBERCULOSIS

Washington, Oct. 26.—Refined chaulmooga oil which experts of the government public health service say has arrested the progress of leprosy is soon to be used by them in the fight against tuberculosis. The experiments with tubercular patients will be conducted in Hawaii.

Dr. J. T. McDonald, superintending physician of the leprosy investigation station at Kalihi in Honolulu, with Dr. A. L. Dean, chemist and president of the University of Hawaii, will start the fight against tuberculosis, at the same time continuing their work against leprosy.

No concrete result of the use of the chaulmooga oil in tuberculosis cases has yet been reported to the headquarters of the public health service here, but from their investigation with tubercular bacilli isolated from a patient, Drs. McDonald and Dean have hopes of successful treatment of patients themselves.

The bacilli of leprosy and tuberculosis, according to government scientists, have been found to have similar characteristics and the fatty acids of chaulmooga oil seemingly have proved poisonous to the leprosy bacillus. This is the basis for the scientific hope that these acids likewise will be deadly to the germ of "white plague."

LOWNDESVILLE

The Presbyterian Missionary and Aid societies held their monthly meeting at the Manse on last Friday afternoon. Mrs. J. Allen Smith, Mrs. A. B. Morse, Mrs. Chas. Milford, Mrs. C. H. McMurray and Miss Maggie Brooks of Abbeville met with the members, explained the organization of an auxiliary circle and urged the adoption of that system in the church societies. These charming visitors were thoroughly informed and highly enthusiastic along all channels of church work. Their instructive suggestions were greatly appreciated by the society and a cordial invitation is extended them to repeat the visit at their earliest convenience. At the close of the business session the meeting assumed the nature of a "social" and delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. A. Clotfelter and Mrs. W. T. Cunningham.

Dr. Jas. B. Latimer of the U. S. N. has reached home on an extended furlough. He has been stationed at the naval hospital at Fort Lyon, Colorado, since his return from a six months' cruise along the Pacific coast. It is probable that Dr. Latimer will remain here during the winter, and many persons have expressed the wish that he will assist Dr. Kirkpatrick in his professional work. Dr. Kirkpatrick's work has been extremely heavy and for the past three years he has had very little rest. His practice covers a large scope of country—doubtless, the largest in the county—yet during the winters when influenza and pneumonia raged to such an alarming extent, he handled the situation alone; asked for no help, as was necessary for physicians to do many places.
