THE MORNING BRIDGE

Mrs. J. D. Kerr entertained the morning Bridge Club pleasantly Wednesday morning at her new home on Greenville street. After a season of rest the club has resumed its regular meetings and the games are enjoyed by the members.

MRS. PEBBLES ENTERTAINS

Mrs. W. L. Peebles gave a delightful party Thursday afternoon to twenty of her friends. Cards were the amusement of the afternoon, there being two tables of rook and three at which bridge was played. The ladies had a pleasant time enjoying the games and the plates of asparagus and aspic salad, orange cup, sandwiches and coffee served after the games.

A CHARMING PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hill complimented their visitors Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, of New York, with a delightful card party Thursday night. Invited to meet Mrs. Hill were Miss Mary Lawson Link, Miss Sarah Perrin, Miss Mary Smith, R. E. Cox, Albert Morse and Maxwell Smith. The games were enjoyed until a late hour after which plates of appetizing salads with coffee were served.

A MILLION DOLLAR HOME

Mr. G. T. Barnes has returned to Abbeville after attending the meeting of the Piedmont Chamber of Commerce. This meeting was scheduled for Thursday but the Greenville people of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs were so busy trying to "land" the million dollar home which is to be established in the South by the Moose, that the meeting was postponed. Mr. Barnes spent the day helping the Greenville clubs.

THE BOOK CLUB.

After a Christmas vacation the Book Club resumed its regular meetings Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. C. D. Brown as hostess. Miss Mamie Hill, the President met with the club for the first time in several months, which gave pleasure to the members. The meeting Wednesday was unusually well attended and an interesting meeting was held.

Chicken salad, banana salad, coffee and crackers were served by Misses Louise and Charlotte Brown, the daughters of the household.

Mrs. Ellen Norwood, Miss May Robertson and Mrs. John Harris were the guests of the afternoon.

A GREENWOOD SPEND-THE-DAY

Mrs. W. D. Barksdale and Mrs. C. S. Jones went over to Greenwood Tuesday and were the guests of Mrs. Lalla T. Graydon at a delightful "spend the day party." Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Williams, Mrs. William Black and little daughter, Miss Jennie Sondley, of Atlanta, and Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hemphill. A five course dinner was served and a delightful day was spent. The Abbeville visitors returned on the late train.

SCATTERING SUNSHINE

Col. Bill Wilson has his nerve with him for in spite of the ice, the rain and the hard times he has issued invitations to a set back party for Friday night at which he says only the select are to be invited. Col. Pat Roche says he will never allow Col. Wilson to be President of the College, but this party makes him the official "glad" and "sunshine" man of the faculty.

LITTLE GIRL ILL

Elizabeth, the little five year old daughter of the Rev. B. B. Bailey, is quite sick at the Eureka Hotel. She came to Abbeville last Saturday with Dr. and Mrs. Bailey to be here during her father's meeting in the Baptist church. The little girl took cold and was seriously threatened with pneumonia, but is better now, though still quite sick. Mrs. Bailey expected to play the piano during the meeting, and did play Monday but, has had to remain in her room with her daughter.

Doctor Bailey spoke from the pulpit last night of the beautiful attentions shown by the people of Abbeville in their distress. He said he had never seen such marked kindness. He mentioned particularly the management of the hotel and President Rosenberg of the hospital. The latter, through Miss Reep, had offered to care for the little girl without money and without price," said Dr. Bailey.

Everyone deeply sympathizes with the Baileys, strangers amongst us, and hope their daughter will soon be well again.

A BUSINESS CHANGE

Mr. L. C. Martin has sold his merchandise business on South Main street to Mr. Link Evans who will conduct the store in the future. Mr. Evans is well known by the Abbeville buying public, having been a clerk in Poliakoff's and for Parker and Reese. His friends all wish him well in his new venture. Mr. Martin will remain in Abbeville and will continue to live where he is now.

BAPTIST, WAY YANDER!

The gentlemen who came all the way from Vera Cruz to Hester, S. C., to buy over two thousand dollars worth of good game roosters from Col. Hester were interesting talkers and gave the latest news from the republic which has been in the public eye so long.

They bring the news that Villa has settled down on a government granted estate and is engaged in the pursuits of peace. They tell also that he is a member of the Baptist church along with Lloyd-George, Harding, Coolidge, Uncle Jim and the other big men. All of which brings to mind the old story of Hon. Josh Ashley, told during his first year in the legislature. Mr. Ashley was speaking at length on the good qualities of Anderson county, when some miserable "anti" from Charleston asked, "Mr. Ashley what is the altitude of Anderson?" to which Mr. Ashley replied with a wave of his arms, "Baptist, way yander."

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

Mr. Walter Visanska, of Atlanta and Mr. Ernest Visanska of Charleston are expected in the city this afternoon and they will visit over Sunday here. They come to see the Rosenberg children who are improving steadily and to cheer up Mr. Philip Rosenberg who continues sick and under the care of a nurse.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR MIKE

The Anderson Daily Mail of Wednesday carried the news that Mike Kustas, one time resident of Abbeville and King of the Greek Colony here, had had a narrow escape yesterday when he was riding in a truck whose engine exploded, completely demolishing the car, burning up thirty-two bundles of bananas, and giving Mike the scare of his life. The truck was an Oldsmobile, driven by Pete Karnovas, loaded with bananas and on its way from Anderson to Hartwell, Ga., a defective carburetor and a leaking exhaust pipe caused the explosion. The country side was filled with the smell of burning bananas.

GETTING SETTLED

Rev. H. W. Pratt has been in Abbeville for the past several days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kerr. He is packing and shipping his household belongings. He has an apartment in Columbia and he and Mrs. Pratt are comfortably and pleasantly situated.

SOLE PROPRIETOR.

Mr. W. A. Harris has purchased the business of Harris & Calvert and hereafter will be the sole proprietor and owner of this business. Mr. Calvert giving up his interest in order to give his time and attention to other matters. Mr. Harris will continue to operate the undertaking business. He will also still be engaged in the talking machine business.

Every person in the city will be the better for seeing this picture

Drama! Power! Thrills! You get all of these in "THE FURNACE" a picture that will grip your heart. It is at once cruel and tender, cynical and courageous—just as Life is. There are so many tremendous scenes and powerful situations in this drama of modern marriage that we have only room to mention a few of them. You will not want to miss the sumptuous wedding scene in St. Mary's church, the honeymoon by airplane to Monte Carlo, the garden party broken up by the sudden hurricane, the landslide which came near engulfing the automobile carrying Keene and Folly the night she tried to elope with the count.

Directed by William D. Taylor, and with an all-star cast, and with some of the most elaborate settings, gowns and unusual features.
