ETHEL BARRYMORE GETS SEPARATION

New York, March 8.—Counsel for Ethel Barrymore, famous American actress, today confirmed reports that she had separated from her husband, Russell G. Colt.

In a formal announcement William Nelson Cromwell declared that a separation agreement had been executed by the Colts who now were living apart in accordance with its terms.

Miss Barrymore retains the sole custody of their three children but provision is made for their father visiting them.

In confirming reports of the arrangement, the attorney said such action seemed wise in order to clear the atmosphere of rumors.

Miss Barrymore, the statement continued has virtually recovered from surgical operation upon her fingers and tonsils.

Several weeks ago she abandoned a road tour in "DeLasse" and entered a hospital in Cincinnati. Later she was brought to the city by her uncle, John Drew.

Rumors of domestic trouble then became more frequent. Today Miss Barrymore was removed from her hospital room here to the hotel where Mr. Drew resides.

She immediately will begin her preparation to play opposite her brother, John, in a drama to be produced in New York soon.

LOWNESVILLE

The most enjoyable event of the season was the Tacky Party given by Miss Pauline Ballenger on last Friday evening.

At 8 o'clock the spacious porches and large reception room of the new Parsonage were crowded with a group of merry young people, all attired in costumes of colors, many and varied, and in styles, ludicrous and comical.

The time was spent in interesting games, exciting contests and merry conversation. In the Question Contest Mrs. J. B. Huckabee was awarded a large red onion for giving the greatest number of correct answers.

In the Silhouette contest Miss Hattie Bonds and Mr. Floyd Cooley were the lucky ones. Miss Lizzelle Tucker was voted the tackiest girl present, while Mr. Ray Clinkscales carried home a box of sardines as a solace for being the most "raggetty, raggetty man" of the occasion.

The most laughable event of the entertainment was the Dressing Contest and Suitcase parade which was indeed an amusing burlesque of a man dressing hurriedly in woman's attire.

Ginger snaps and parched peanuts were served. Much of the success of the party was due to the efforts of Miss Louise Bell, who assisted the hostess in entertaining all the young people of the town and surrounding communities.

Mr. J. Gamewell Huckabee continues to improve, but is unable to be on the streets.

Miss Eugenia Robertson, of Abbeville, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Clinkscales.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Nickles and family, of Greenwood, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. McCalla last Sabbath.

Mr. W. T. Cunningham was a business visitor in Abbeville for several days last week.

Messrs. Jas. Hawthorne, Sam Johnson and Irwin Cleckley, of Latimer, were on our streets Saturday.

Revs. H. C. Fennell and J. A. Clotfelter are in Greenville attending the Laymen's Missionary Convention.

Mrs. R. L. Smith has returned from Florida where she spent the past month. Her little granddaughter, Louise Lemmon has also returned from an extended visit to relatives at Elliott.

Mrs. H. C. Fennell and little son, Curtis 3rd., of Abbeville spent last week with relatives.

Mr. H. D. Gray, Sabbath School evangelist, has been in town several days, the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Clotfelter.

Mr. Ernest Allen, of Central, was a business visitor here Monday.

Miss Josephine Clinkscales has gone to Willington to visit relatives.

Dr. Jas Latimer, Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. W. M. Speer were visitors in Andeson this week.

Winter has broken, if all the old signs hold true, the robins have come, Spring flowers are blooming, and Mr. Wes Harper has got out his fish hooks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Carwile, of Abbeville, have been the recent guests of Mrs. Sara Huckabee.

Mr. H. C. Tennant, Sr., will entertain several of his friends next Saturday, March 12th, the date of his 77th birthday.

An elegant turkey dinner, with all its accessories, will be served. Those who will be present on this happy occasion are Rev. J. A. Clotfelter, Dr. J. B. Moseley, Messrs. C. L. Clinkscales and B. B. Allen.

The host and the last three of whom are Civil War veterans and have been friends from their boyhood. Together they passed through the dark days of the 60's and lived during the gloomy Reconstruction times, and now as the shadows lengthen and their sun passes down the western slope of life, amid scenes of peace and quietude, they are permitted to meet in sweet converse and live over again the days of Old Lang Syne.

Mr. Thomas J. Baskin died at his home at Moffettsville, in Anderson County, March 5th, in the 64th year of his age.

For the last year he had been in declining health and for several months had suffered from acute melancholia.

Mr. Baskin was born and reared near Lowndesville and was engaged in farming and mercantile business for many years at this place. In his early manhood he married Miss Emma Bruce, a lovely consecrated woman, who died about 27 years ago. Some years after the death of his wife, he removed to Moffettsville to reside with his sister, the late Mrs. Thomas Sherard and was living at the old homestead with his nephew and niece at the time of his death. In boyhood he united with the Presbyterian church and lived faithful to its tenets, gifted with an unusually fine voice he was a forceful leader in all song service. He was quite and unassuming, gentle and cultured, lovable and cheerful in his life. Generous and self sacrificing, liberal and unselfish, he was a loyal help in sickness, distress and need. The funeral exercises were held in the Presbyterian church at this place, conducted by his pastor, Rev. McRee, of Iva, and the body was laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery in the presence of one of the largest gatherings ever assembled at that place of last farewells.

He is survived by two brothers, Messrs. Jno. Baskin, of Lowndesville and Hart Baskin of Iva, besides many other relatives to mourn his death. Some of those attending the funeral from a distance were: Misses Gibert and Messrs. Evans, of Lebanon, Mrs. Love and Miss Baskin, of Abbeville, Dr. Sherard and W. H. Speer, of Gaffney, Misses Wharton and Messrs. Wharton, of Starr, Dr. and Mrs. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ligon, Mr. and Mrs. Lem. Reid, Dr. and Mrs. Quarles, of Iva, Dr. and Mrs. Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. Watson, Dr. Henry, Dr. Sherard, Mrs. Andrew Baskin, Mr. and Ms. Robt. Moseley, of Anderson.

SEVERAL IMPORTANT BILLS CARRIED TO NEXT YEAR

Columbia, March 8.—The legislature of 1922 will start off with a calendar containing several important bills. The 1921 legislature has continued to next year a number of important bills. Among these are the following:

The bill by Representative Sapp, to establish tuberculosis hospitals throughout the state.

The bill by Representative Dickson and Bradford to reduce the motor vehicle license on motor trucks.

Representative Dickson's bill to prevent the trial of any defendant in his absence.

The bill by Mr. Wade, of the House, to make the chief game warden and the superintendent of the penitentiary selective offices.

The state income tax and gasoline tax bill.

The Simonoff bill, passed by the House, to require every man applying for marriage licenses to present a doctor's certificate showing that he has no venereal disease.

Mr. Sheppard's bill, to reduce the number of petit jurors necessary for a verdict on any case.

Mr. Mabry's bill in the House to regulate the sale of cotton seed meal.

A bill to empower the state board of welfare to dispose of some of the land of the boy's reformatory at Florence. Messrs. Anderson and Hughes were authors of the bill.

The bill to provide pensions for certain negroes who served in the Civil War. This is Senator Alan Johnstone's bill.

The bill by Mr. Camlin, of the House, to require barbers to stand examinations before a state board.

A bill by Messrs. Ford and Bryson, in the House, to allow testimony from former criminals.

Representatives McMillan's alien hunting license bill.

The House agricultural committee bill to provide for issuance of bearer's certificates through the state warehouse commission.

SPARTANBURG GETS CHARLOTTE RATES

Spartanburg, S. C., March 7.—Printed copies of the new freight tariffs from Ohio river crossings to this city and Charlotte, N. C., received here today, show that the same rates on all shipments will hereafter apply to both cities.

The new schedule which is made effective March 1, was ordered some months ago by the Interstate Commerce Commission, as the result of complaint by the Spartanburg Chamber of Commerce that this city was being discriminated against. Local business men predict the new rates will have far reaching effects.

WILL BORROW MONEY

Governor Cooper left yesterday afternoon for New York, where he will investigate the money market with a view to placing a loan of from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 for the state of South Carolina. Every year the state borrows large sums to run the government and pledges the taxes as security for the amounts.

The legislature gives the state borrowing committee power to negotiate loans not to exceed $5,050,000 this year and the governor will look over the field with the idea of taking advantage of the best offers. He will be joined in New York by the other two members of the borrowing committee, Walter E. Duncan and S. T. Carter, probably Wednesday or Thursday.

G. Pope Matthews, president of the Palmetto National bank, also went to the metropolis yesterday and he will likely look into the money market also—The State.

BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF JACK HARDEN

The following tribute to the memory of John M. Harden is taken from The Rome News, Rome, Ga.: To the Rome City Commission:

Your committee, appointed to draft a memorial on the death of Mr. John M. Harden, beg leave to report.

Mr. Harden was not, in any way, now or heretofore, connected with our City government. He was a private citizen. It is, therefore, unusual and perhaps without a precedent, that the official heads of our City should take notice of his death and offer a tribute to his memory. Surely there was something extraordinary in the life of this man that calls for and receives such unusual recognition.

Service was the keynote of the character of Jack Harden. Service to his fellows, to his family, to his church, to his God. Unselfish service, that asked no reward save that of duty well performed. Service that sought no public honors, nor the world's applause. Service rooted in love—the perfect love that casteth out fear. As head master for several years, of Darlington School, he won the respect, the confidence, the affection of his pupils. Later, as a business man, he was regarded as a model of probity and integrity, as one who could be trusted at all times and under all circumstances. His short, but eminently useful life, should serve as an example and an inspiration to the youth of our community. And while we mourn his untimely death, we rejoice in the splendor of his life, and the nobility of his character. His memory will live in many a heart that loved and honored him; and as the years roll on, they will but accentuate his splendid virtues and his manly life.

Resolved, that this memorial be published and a copy sent to the family of the deceased.

Max Meyerhart, L. F. McKoy, Committee.
