

EXAMPLE SHOWN OF POSSIBILITIES

U. S. and Canada on Good Terms— President Calls Attention of Odd Fellows to Friendly Inter course of Two Countries

Washington, April 26.—The example of Canada and the United States dwelling alongside one another without fortification for 100 years was pointed to as one other nations might emulate by President Harding in an address at an Odd Fellow's meeting here tonight in celebration of the 102nd anniversary of the order.

Such concord might be possible among other nations, the president said, if they possessed the same understanding and singleness of purpose "to forward the cause of human kind." The address was delivered after Joseph Oliver of Toronto, Ont., grand sire of the order had expressed the hope that Canada and the United States might for all time continue in the same amicable relations.

The president in expressing the pleasure with which, he said, "an American of the United States" heard such words, "from an American who hails from Canada," declared that "after all it little matters what flag we owe our allegiance to on the North American continent."

"I like above all else," he continued, "the example of Canada and the United States dwelling throughout the past century in peace and under the most amicable relations with a single purpose, to forward the cause of human kind."

The president further declared he desired "Canada always to look to the south, and to fix its gaze on the most representative democracy in the world." "I want Canada to know," he said, "that she can understand us, and I want her to give us her trust, because we are seeking the same fundamental objects in the onward march of human kind."

Asserting that no one could belong to a fraternity unless he was devoted to justice, and truth and fidelity, the president said:

"I wish nations might be committed to the same fraternal relations," adding that "out of fraternity comes understanding, and if nations possessed understanding and sought to deal fraternally with one another they could dwell together as the United States and Canada have for more than a century without fortification along thousands of miles of border."

As a further fraternal hope, the president stated he most earnestly desired that during his term of office he might have the cooperation of all Americans in demonstrating to the world that "we want nothing that is not justly and rightly our own."

BODIES OF HEROES BEING SENT HOME

Paris, April 26.—Twenty thousand bodies of American soldiers who fell in France have either been shipped to the United States or are now in process of being returned for burial in their native country.

With 102 officers of the American army and a personnel of more than 2,000 men working night and day in many sections of France, the Graves Registration Service of the American army has reached a point where it is possible to forward 4,000 bodies a month. The work of sending back the 52,311 bodies designated for interment in America will be completed by the end of next October if present plans are fulfilled.

The bodies of the Americans have been taken from every cemetery in the South of France. The greater part of the effort is now being concentrated in the zone of the armies—the Argonne, etc. Seventy-seven bodies of American soldiers who died in Italy will be removed to the United States next month.

The Graves Registration Service now is working in Berlin on arrangements for shipping the bodies of 30 American soldiers who are buried in various parts of unoccupied Germany. This latter work was rendered difficult because the location of many of the graves was unknown. An expert has been going over the German burial records in Berlin for several weeks and virtually all the graves have been found. The German government has afforded every facility to the Graves Registration Service.

More than 20,000 bodies will be buried in the four permanent cemeteries which the American government will maintain in France.

The Fine Arts Commission of the American War Memorial Council has arrived in Paris for a series of meetings and a tour of inspection of the permanent cemeteries. The Commission has no contemplation plans for the beautification of the cemeteries and will determine the character of headstones to be used and the general decorative scheme to be followed. The Commission will probably consult with leading French landscape artists.

WAR WIDOWS WED

London, April 23.—British war widows are remarrying so rapidly that the chancellor, Austen Chamberlain, expects to be able to reduce pensions appropriations in this year's budget by 10,000,000 pounds sterling. This, however, is only one of the factors contributed to the anticipated reduction but it is stated that thousands of women made widows by the war have become wives again and thus automatically taken their names off the pension list. The pensions granted to widows of soldiers who died in active service are withdrawn when the widows remarry.

VOTE NOT REACHED AS TALK GOES ON

Ballot on Naval Bill Yet to Come— Proposal Pending That No Part Of Appropriation Shall Go For New Ventures

Washington, April 26.—After an all day fight over disarmament, the house was forced to quit work tonight without reaching a vote on the naval appropriation bill because of the demand of members for time in which to air their views.

At the end of the long debate an amendment was pending providing that no part of the appropriation should go into new construction until the president had called an international conference to consider limitation of armament. The amendment, proposed by Representative Connolly, Democrat, Texas, was precisely like one offered when the bill was before the house in the closing days of the last session by Representative Brooks, Republican, Illinois, and rejected by a vote of about five to one. Leaders said it would be thrown out by a similar vote when the bill is taken up again Thursday.

The disarmament discussion broke early in the session after Representative Knight, Republican Ohio had launched an attack against the bill. The Ohio member announced he would vote against the bill because of the contemplated expenditure of $90,000,000 for new battleships, the general need of economy and the alleged questionable advantage of capital fighting ships in modern naval warfare. The speech started a veritable whirlwind of talk.

Seeing where the house was heading, Chairman Kelly of the subcommittee on appropriations, in charge of the measure, tried to stop it, with a plea that the real disarmament debate be held back until the section relating to new construction had been reached. The chairman's plea prevailed after a sharp verbal clash, in which Representative Huddleston, Democrat, Alabama, supported Mr. Knight and declared general opposition to big army, coast defense and navy appropriations.

Two amendments, calculated to bring the amendment question squarely before the house were ruled out on points of order, and then Mr. Connolly again stepped to the front with a revival of the Brooks proposal. It stood up and held its own against a point of order, as happened last season, and Mr. Kelly was pressing for a vote and final passage of the bill when he was persuaded to permit the debate to continue.

EARNED $38,000 IN GOLD WHILE IN PRISON CELL

New York, April 26.—Leopold Berkowitz, who has just been brought back from London to face a charge of larceny of $41,000 from a local foreign exchange bank, brought with him $38,000 in gold which he earned in operations directed from a London prison cell, the police said today. Berkowitz operated in this city in foreign exchanges. He is alleged to have disappeared after cashing a worthless check for $41,000.

Arrested in London, he operated in foodstuffs and foreign exchanges employing his wife to handle funds. Police here said he told them he had earned enough while in prison to cover the alleged bad check and all other indebtedness and was willing to make financial restitution at once.

USE PUREBRED BOARS

Inferior Sires a Great Handicap.

Clemson College, May 2.—With the increased interest in swine in the state, there will be a large demand for breeding animals. On account of this demand, a number of persons will be tempted to use inferior boars and sows. While it cannot be hoped to have all of the sows purebred at this time, yet there is no excuse for the use of grade or scrub boars. There are sufficient purebred boars, if properly distributed and properly managed, to make every market hog in the state at least fifty percent purebred.

Why the Purebred Sire?

There are six good reasons for using a purebred boar.

1. Larger and stronger pigs are produced.
2. The pigs grow faster and make cheaper gains.
3. The pigs reach market weight sooner.
4. The pigs are more uniform.
5. The pigs meet the market demand, thereby bringing a higher price.
6. Pork production is made more profitable.

On account of the increased value of the litters produced, any farmer with eight or ten sows could well afford to keep a purebred boar. At least, several farmers in a neighborhood can cooperate in the purchase and use of a purebred boar. Through judicious management, a purebred boar for every twenty-five or thirty sows is sufficient.

At this time when every advantage must be taken to realize a profit from farming operations, let no one handicap himself by using inferior stock. Let your animals march with the purebreds.

"BETTER SIRE—BETTER STOCK"

Livestock Leaks.

Prepare to Care for Animals and Manure.

Clemson College, May.—Are you ready? It is said that opportunity knocks at the door of every man some time during his life, and the question which you must ask yourself is, "Am I ready?" Are you ready to go into the livestock game? Is your land well fenced? Have you the right sort of pastures? Do you raise your own feed or must you buy it? It pays to grind your ax before you start. If you plan to go into the livestock business be sure you are ready and then go in to stay.

Animals make loads of manure. Are you prepared to save it? The horse will produce 9 tons, the dairy cow 13 tons, the steer 6 tons, the hog 2 tons, and the sheep 2-5 of a ton per year. Will you save this manure?

The best international harvesters in the world for corn and velvet beans are cattle and hogs. The best international manure spreaders are hogs and cattle. The grandest fertilizer in all the world is manure.

On the average a ton of barnyard manure will contain 10 pounds of nitrogen, 5 pounds of acid, and 10 pounds of potash. It also contains a large amount of organic matter which our South Carolina soils need and must have.

Experimental Results With Manure.

Did you ever stop to think that more than half the fertilizing value of manure is in the liquid manure? The Ohio Experiment Station found out that enough manure was lost by seepage in twelve months' time, even where liberal amounts of bedding were used, to pay for concreting the floor.

Ohio and Cornell Stations have proved that manure exposed in the barnyard will lose approximately 50 percent of its value. If it is allowed to heat, the loss runs from 10 to 15 percent greater.

It is a common practice to haul manure to the field and place it in piles. This is not a good plan. It should be immediately spread over the soil, and the thinner it is spread the better. A ton of manure thinly spread will be worth more than one thickly spread. Thirty-five years' work at the Pennsylvania Experiment Station goes to prove that manure put on at the rate of 12 tons per acre returned $3.29 per ton, while manure put on at the rate of 20 tons per acre yielded only $2.29 per ton.

Pastures for Pigs.

Clemson College, May.—We cannot make the hog business go in this state unless we make good use of our graz ing season. A pig in a pen is lazy and expensive, while the pig on pasture is happy, thrifty, and profitable. Every experiment station, every extension department, and every prosperous hog raiser in this country believes in good pastures for hogs.

What can we grow in South Carolina that hogs will pasture? Rape, rye, soybeans, cowpeas, Bermuda, lespedeza, velvet beans and many other pastures do well in this state. Suppose we try some of these pastures and cut our grain ration in two.

Will hogs do well on pasture alone? No, it is best to feed a little grain while the hogs are on the pasture. Two or three ears of corn to each shote per day will work wonders. The pasture will maintain the animal and the grain will make gains in weight.

An acre of good pasture will return from 300 to 600 pounds of pork. Forty dollars per acre is not bad when the pigs do the work.
