Lane, his brother; Mrs. Franklin K. Lane and Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, Jr. Mr. Lane died suddenly after an attack of heart disease.

Funeral services will be held at Chicago, where his body will be cremated after a private funeral, one of Mr. Lane's last requests.

Messages from President Harding Woodrow Wilson, scores of government officials and personal friends were received by Mrs. Lane during the day.

Mr. Lane was operated on here May 6 for gall stones and appendicitis and was said to be recovering when heart disease, from which he had suffered from time to time during the past eight months, developed. Hospital physicians expressed the belief that the operation would remove the heart affection, but an attack early today developed fatally.

Immediately after he had recovered from the influence of the anesthetic Mr. Lane said: "I am surprised to be alive. I hope to be able to live a long life, doing good things for others, without thoughts of money."

Mr. Lane left no estate. Following his resignation from the Wilson cabinet Mr. Lane sought to recover his health and came here in January of this year. He was advised to spend the winter in a warmer climate and visited California, returning early this month. His condition was favorable for an operation and continued improvement was noted until the heart attack was developed this morning.

CHIEF JUSTICE DIES IN HOSPITAL

White Fails to Rally From Operation—Three Score and Ten

Washington, May 19.—Edward Douglass White, chief justice of the United States, died at 2 o'clock this morning at a hospital where he submitted to an operation last Friday. He was 76 years old.

The chief justice had been unconscious since late Tuesday afternoon when acute dialation of the heart occurred. Up to that time the attending physicians had hope for a rapid recovery after an operation for bladder trouble.

After this unexpected relapse the physicians had not expected the chief justice to live through that night. The Rev. Father S. J. Creeden of Georgetown university administered the last sacrament during the early evening and members of the immediate family were summoned to the bedside.

Death was said to be due directly to complications which developed after the operation. Justice McKenna and other of Mr. White's associates in the supreme court called at the hospital when it became known that his condition was serious but did not enter the room as the chief justice was unconscious.
