

ARE YOU MOB-MINDED?

Washington, July 2.—If you would serve your country and civilization in general, don't follow crowds.

This is the advice of psychologists to the modern man in general and the American in particular. They say that America is becoming a mob-minded country and that its progress toward a higher degree of civilization is blocked by this, perhaps more than by any one other thing. The only thing that can save us, according to the scientists, is an increase in the number of individuals who refuse to follow the crowds.

Recent outbreaks of mob violence have attracted widespread attention, and have resulted in much discussion. Bills have been introduced into Congress and into state legislatures to prevent them. And they illustrate the essential peculiarity of the mob-minded—its inferiority. It is well known that in a lynching mob acts of violence and cruelty are committed by individuals who would not even contemplate them alone. The mob brings to the surface the lowest instincts which are shared by all its members. It is a reversion to savagery.

But the mob of physical violence is only the most obvious mob. We are mob-minded as a people the psychologists say, in ways less evident and even more dangerous. We all read the same things, hold the same opinions and wear the same things. Most of us are following crowds even when we are alone. There is no country in which people all act, talk, look and think so much alike. Individuality is rare among us, and we are apt to penalize it. The man who does not follow the crowd is often called queer and is ostracized. In no other country, we are told, is there so little tolerance for the man who is different. And when we ostracize or shun a man who is different, simply because he is different, we are doing in a less obvious way exactly what the mob did which tarred and feathered a reformer because it did not like the way he managed his own affairs.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarettey aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.
